CANCER DETECTION CENTER NOW OPEN AT MINNESOTA 'U'

Purpose Will Be to Detect Disease While Still in Early Stage

Cancer in its early stages, is curable! Cancer, in its early stages, is symptomless!

Therefore, if the ravages of cancer, which kills more than 400 Americans daily, are to be halted, the disease, in its early forms, must be detected by careful and periodic examination of persons who have no symptoms of the disease.

With these facts in mind, University of Minnesota medical scientists are about to begin a new battle in their continuing war against this dreaded killer.

The opening this week of a cancer detection center at University of Minnesota Hospitals on the Minneapolis campus has been announced by Dr. H. S. Diehl, dean of the medical sciences at the University.

Dr. David State, director, today described the new Cancer Detection Center as a place to which symptomless men and women of Minnesota in the age bracket in which cancer most frequently occurs, 45 and over, may go for a thorough physical examination.

Chief purpose of the examination, of course, Dr. State added, will be the detection of early cancer, of forerunners of cancer or of conditions of chronic irritations which might develop into cancer if not treated immediately.

Should examinations reveal any indication of cancer or a precancerous condition, the person examined will be informed at once, and a report will be sent to his personal physician. He will be advised to seek immediate treatment from his physician. Dr. State emphasized that no treatment will be given at the Cancer Detection Center.

The center is located in the temporary, barracks-type building on Church street, just west of University Hospitals and across the street from out-patient entrance.

Any Minnesota resident, 45 or over, who wishes to be examined should call or write the Cancer Detection Center for an appointment. The telephone number at the center is Main 8177, Extension 6612 or 6684. No one will be admitted for examination, Dr. State advised, unless he has made an appointment beforehand.

Payable upon admission to the center, a $3 registration fee will be charged each person. If he is unable to pay, he will be asked to pay as much of the fee as he can, Dr. State said, but no one will be turned away for lack of funds.

The center will be operated for examinations two days each week, Tuesday for women, and Thursday for men. Hours will be from 8 to 5 p.m. If the load becomes too heavy, the number of days of operation may be increased, Dr. State indicated.

TRAFFIC VIOLATOR

OH, THE SHAME OF IT . . . Given a choice by stern-fingered Patrolman Joseph H. Dries (right) as to whether he wanted to serve five days in the cooler or drive for one month with prominent "Traffic Violator" sticker on his windshield, Michael O'Donnell wept quietly into his hankie as he made his decision—and it wasn't the jail sentence. He was one of 90 Los Angeles traffic violators to whom officials posed the same question. All 90 chose the sticker.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By Senator Joseph H. Ball

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in reporting out the bill to authorize the so-called European Recovery Program, has rewritten the measure originally submitted by the State Department in almost every detail. But after two readings of the bill, it is difficult for me to see where any real substantive change of major importance has been made in the program originally proposed by the State Department.

For all practical purposes, the bill is still a blank check to the President and the State Department to spend as many billions as Congress will appropriate to underwrite the trade deficits of the sixteen participating nations in Europe.

True, there are several politely worded hints from Congress in the bill that the administration of this program shoud be more business-like than our previous efforts, that recipient countries should be required to do their share and carry out their part of the aid agreements, and that the Administrator of the program should consider the vital needs of the American economy.

But almost every such mild directive from Congress is preceded by some phrase like "insofar as practicable" or "whenever practicable," which is a loophole so big that it makes the proverbial barn door look like the eye of a needle. In effect, almost complete discretion is vested in the Administration.

For instance, the bill provides for a separate Administrator of the program at $20,000 a year, but then section 5 (b) (2) says: "whenever the Secretary of State believes that any action, proposed action, or failure to act on the part of the Administrator is inconsistent with the foreign-policy objectives of the United States, he shall consult with the Administrator and, if differences of view are not adjusted by consultation, the matter shall be referred to the President for final decision."

Secretary Marshall and President Truman have both insisted repeatedly that the ERP must be approved "as is" or not at all. If the language quoted above is not a wide open invitation to the State Department to run the program exactly as they planned, regardless of any words written into the bill by Congress, then I don't know the meaning of plain English.

Many of the suggestions made by the twenty-odd Republican Senators have been incorporated in the bill in a vague sort of way, but always with that "insofar as practicable" phrase or some similar loophole which makes them meaningless. One of the proposals we made was that, as a condition of our aid, recipient nations be required to adopt a foreign exchange rate "which would reflect with reasonable accuracy the relative purchasing power of the currencies involved." Our proposal was made because the great need of Europe is to build up exports, and the excessive overvaluation of its currencies make that impossible. France and Italy have moved in that direction, but the British pound and other currencies are still much over-valued.

The bill says that recipient countries should agree to adopt "valid" exchange rates. "Valid" in law means "legally sound" or "sufficient and effective in law." The present phoney exchange rates are all "valid" in that sense, and the language means nothing in the bill.

Neither are the contemplated expenditures at all in the bill. Truman proposed 6.8 billions for 15 months. The bill reduces the authorization to twelve months, which is a good idea, and reduces the authorization proportionately to 5.3 billions. The rate of expenditure would still be the same. And there is not the slightest chance of the Congress fulfilling its pledge to reduce expenditures by 2.5 billions without a reduction of a billion or more in foreign aid expenditures.

New Typewriter Alarm

A new "alarm" for typists has been patented by a Detroit man. The device rings a bell before the bottom of the sheet has been reached. The invention makes use of a peripheral groove in the main roller of the typewriter which is normally covered by typing paper. When the trailing edge of the paper has passed that groove the alarm is sounded.

TREES AVAILABLE TO PRIVATE LAND OWNERS AT COST

State Forester Invites Applications for Elm, Maple, Ash, Cottonwood

About 400,000 American elm, soft maple, green ash and cottonwood tree planting stocks are still available to private land owners at cost, Ray Clement, forester for the Minnesota division of forestry, said today.

"Farmers, land owners, sportsmen's groups and other organizations wishing to start a tree planting project are urged to contact the county agriculture agent, forest supervisor or the St. Paul forestry office at once to secure information and an order form," Clement said.

These kinds of trees make valuable windbreaks and woodlots, and are excellent for control of wind and erosion problem areas. If planted this spring they will provide a protection for spruce and pine to be planted in the coming years when such trees will be available. It is probable, Clement said, that elm, ash, maple and cottonwood stocks will be smaller next spring.

The supply of spruce and pine for this year was exhausted by heavy demands, while the requests for elm, ash, maple and cottonwood were not as large as forestry officials had anticipated.

Cool Off the Cows

American railroads have a plan to paint the tops and ends of livestock cars with aluminum paint to lower the temperatures of the interiors 5 to 10 degrees. Cool livestock will lose less weight when en route to market and bring more for the shipper.

Requirements of 1947 State Income Tax Law

By Income Tax Division

1. Capital Gains and Losses:—Individuals.

The 1947 State Income Tax Law provides that capital gains and losses shall be reported on the following basis:

(a) Where the asset has been held for less than six months prior to sale, it shall be reported in the tax return at 100% of the gain or loss.

(b) Where the asset has been held for more than six months prior to its sale, it shall be reported in the tax return at 50% of the gain or loss.

(c) The excess of capital losses over capital gains claimed as a deduction from gross income cannot exceed $2,000 in any taxable year.

2. Real Estate Transfers—Personal Residences:

The sale of a dwelling used by the taxpayer solely as his personal residence is a taxable transaction which must be reported for State income tax purposes. A transaction of this nature is considered a capital gain or loss subject to the provisions set forth above and is reportable even though it resulted in no gain or loss. The fact that the taxpayer purchased another residence after the sale does not affect the taxability of the sale.

3. Income of Minor Children:

The 1947 State Law provides that a parent need not include in his return the income of any minor children. However, the minor must file a return with respect to his own taxable income provided it exceeds the requirements.

Provided the parent furnishes more than 50% of the support of any minor he may claim a credit of $10.00 for each such dependent. If the parent does not furnish more than 50% of the minor's support for the entire year but he does furnish more than 50% for a part of the year, he may claim a portion of the $10.00 credit depending upon the number of months he furnished more than 50% of the minor's support.

4. Federal Income Tax Refunds:

Federal income tax and other refunds must be reported as gross income in the year in which received to the extent that the deduction for Federal income taxes in the prior year resulted in a tax benefit.

5. Exclusions From Gross Income:

The amounts received by way of unemployment compensation are not included in gross income.

Blast Rose Fable

Roses derive no special cheer or encouragement from aspirin or quinine, scientists have found. Neither is there any advantage in plunging roses up to their neck in water, as most of the water is absorbed at the base of the stems, very little going through the leaves.

Visual Danger Signals

The ten danger signals of visual inefficiency in children are: constant rubbing of the eyes, fatigue or listlessness after prolonged reading, marked aversion to light, frowning or scowling, holding reading matter very close to eyes, redness or irritation, squinting, holding head to one side while reading, aversion to games requiring use of eyes, and dislike for reading.

Trucks Spread Out

Automobile trucks move 98 per cent of all farm products from farms. Philadelphia gets 98 per cent of all its live poultry by truck. Forty-nine large cities get all their milk by truck. Chicago gets 57 per cent of its butter by truck. Trucks carry 58 per cent of all the beef in America. There are 5½ million trucks on our highways and the annual gross revenue of the industry is two billion dollars.

Lead Poisoning

Lead poisoning in cattle often is caused by not disposing of old paint buckets and cans, or allowing the cattle to have access to recently painted structures.

Discovery of Nickel

Although used in natural alloys even in ancient times, nickel was unknown as an element until 1751, when its discovery came about in the following way: Miners in Saxony, several years before, had attempted to smelt some newly-discovered ores which had the appearance of copper ore. But the metal they obtained was not copper—it was a white metal so hard and tough it could not be hammered into useful articles, and so was useless to them. Believing Old Nick had cast a spell over their ores, the superstitious miners called the metal, "Kupfer-Nickel," meaning "Old Nick's Copper."

Double-Action Turnip

The turnip is really a double-action vegetable. Its roots make good winter food and the greens are excellent. After winter storage, turnip roots often are replanted in the spring and produce a new crop of greens which are believed to have a beneficial "spring tonic" effect. Unknown to many, raw turnips are excellent in uncooked salads. All turnips are a good source of vitamin B-1, C and G. Yellow turnips are especially rich in vitamin A.

Moon Gets Larger

Various theories have been offered to account for the effect of the moon appearing larger near the horizon when it rises, but the conclusion of psychologists who studied the problem very carefully show that none of the theories is satisfactory. There seems to be some physiological effect by which the effort of raising or lowering the eyes shrinks the size of the moon as we perceive it, but so far there does not seem to be a satisfactory explanation of how such an effect could take place.

Display Company Flags

Company flags carried by ships at sea were first used during the Middle Ages when ships carried the banners of their sponsoring princes.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Adopting a Child?

Adoptive parents have an important decision to make almost immediately upon receiving the custody of their adopted child:

This decision can be expressed very simply. "Shall we tell him or shall we not tell him? Which would be worse, risking a possible resentment toward us now, or taking a chance that he will never find out?"

From past experience, it seems desirable to give a child knowledge about himself quite early. There is no need for this to be a morbid recital, or even a frequent recital, of the child's lack of a "real" father or mother.

Who could take offense when a mother, tucking in a little fellows, says "We chose you from all the other little boys, and love you more because of it."

Usually small children find little of emotional value toward which to react when they are told of their adoption status. Older children may react quite strongly in the same situation.

An older child faces many problems. Should he, not knowing his origin? Should he try to trace possible brothers and sisters? Should he try to repay his foster parents?

The young child does not have experience enough to appreciate that these things might be problems, and by the time he is old enough the strong background of love and security built up for so many years has completely satisfied him and he no longer considers these questions as problems.

Tell your child that he is adopted; tell him when he's young, the younger the better. He will accept it calmly, get used to the idea, have no emotional shock to face, no new adjustment to make, no feeling of insecurity, and will not feel that he has been deceived.

State Tax Chief Warns Smokers on Possession of Untaxed Cigarets

Cigarette smokers were warned to day by G. Howard Spaeth, commissioner of taxation, against the possession of untaxed cigarettes. "The Minnesota Cigarette Tax Law provides that any person possessing more than 200 cigarettes, that is, one carton or ten packages of cigarettes, is guilty of a misdemeanor which is punishable by a fine of $100. plus costs."

Investigation by the cigarette division of the department of taxation has revealed that some persons are receiving untaxed cigarettes through the mails. Advertisements and circulars are being distributed throughout the state offering untaxed cigarettes for sale despite the fact that the possession of more than one carton of these cigarettes is a violation of the Minnesota law.

"Under Interstate commerce regulations, the sale of untaxed cigarettes through the mails is not illegal," Mr. Spaeth said, "but the possession of untaxed in excess of 200 cigarettes by any person in Minnesota is contrary to the law."

Fur Bearing Marshes

Digging ditches in marshes—not for drainage to fit the land for cultivation—may be the most profitable way of developing such wet land, says the U.S.D.A. The level ditches with no outlets made the water deeper in some places and shallower elsewhere. This has proved favorable for muskrats—particularly in cold climates where shallow water freezes solid. The deeper water in the ditches keeps muskrats and other marsh dwellers safe and well fed in cold weather.

Trailers Need Safety Chains to Avert Mishaps

An epidemic of accidents due to trailers becoming detached and striking other vehicles is indicated in reports received by the Minnesota highway department. In one case a detached trailer struck and killed a pedestrain. Numerous other cases have resulted in personal injury or property damage.

The state traffic act requires that in addition to the regulation hitching device, all trailers and semi-trailers, except those equipped with a fifth wheel and king pin assembly, shall be equipped with safety chains. Chains must be carried through a ring in the tow-bar and attached to the towing vehicle, and be of sufficient strength to control the trailer in event of failure of the towing device.

INVADERS UPSET DAILY NEWS ROOM

St. Cloud—Production was at a standstill in the news room of the Daily Times for long minutes one recent day, when uninvited guests seriously upset the equanimity of two feminine reporters. A multi-legged bug of unnamed species, crawled pompously out of a drawer and across the desk where one young lady was diligently authoring, sending her screaming for help. Moments later a sparrow winged in and started a power dive toward another of the staff, who ducked so vigorously as to get a badly bunged forehead, while the bird escaped.

Newcastle Disease

Positive diagnosis of Newcastle disease in poultry still depends on laboratory tests, U. S. bureau of animal industry specialists told members of the American Veterinary Medical association at their convention. Of the serum samples received at the government laboratories from "clinically diagnosed" cases, more than 50 per cent have been confirmed by laboratory methods as being Newcastle disease, these authorities reported.

Cheese and Penicillin

Roquefort cheese is made from sheep's milk; blue Roquefort, the domestic variety, is made from cow's milk; both are processed with mold originally found only in the Roquefort caves in France. The blue mold that gives Roquefort cheese its distinctive flavor and appearance is the fungus penicillium, the same mold from which the wonder drug penicillin is extracted

L.O'L. DIST. 17 HEARS ADDRES BY J. BRANDT

Big Gathering Attends Annual Meeting in City Wednesday Afternoon

Speaking in this city Wednesday afternoon at a well-attended annual meeting of District 17, Land O'Lakes Creameries, John Brandt, president of the huge cooperative group, urged his hearers to make every effort to defeat the bill now before Congress which would repeal the present ten cents a pound federal tax on colored oleomargarine.

Mr. Brandt also warned of the campaign being conducted by the National Tax Equality league to put added taxes on cooperatives into effect.

Another feature of the afternoon program was the award of cash prizes to four winners in the 1947 district efficiency contest, the presentation being made by John Lager, field man. The winners and their scores include Clifford Skime, Wannaska creamery, score 99.58, 1st prize; Martin Ellingson, Grygla creamery, 99.41, second; Raymond Gordon, River Valley creamery, 99.35, third; and Otto Bakken, Oklee creamery, 99.25, fourth.

In his address Mr. Brandt also stated that the present federal budget of more than 40 billion dollars necessitates a continuance of high commodity prices and national income if the government is to be sustained.

He contended that the price of butter, which in 1947 averaged 75 cents a pound on the Chicago market, was not out of line with the income of workers.

Arthur Stenberg of Greenbush, district president, had charge of the program, which opened with the invocation by Rev. Walter M. Pederson, followed by a welcome extended by Jim Roche, secretary of the Civic and Commerce association.

Musical features of the program included songs by the local Legion auxiliary trio accompanied by Mrs. Harold R. Harrison; vocal solos by Dick Biddick and by Tony Helm of Fertile; songs by a Middle River trio; and a humorous reading by Donna Mae Kvien, also of Middle River.

At the morning session reports were submitted by Stuart McLeod, manager of the Thief River Falls Land O'Lakes plant, and John Lager, field man, the latter reporting that member creameries in District 17 shipped out a total of 3,940,246 pounds of butter in 1947.

Lunch was served in the Auditorium during the noon hour to the accompaniment of selections by the Lincoln high school band directed by Orel Vangen.

Col. E. B. Miller Endorses Universal Military Training

The anual Jaycee Bosses Night banquet and program in the Civic and Commerce rooms last Thursday evening was a highly successful affair, attracting a record attendance of 160 young men and their employers.

Highlighting the program were the presentation by Mayor Harry E. Simons of the Jaycee distinguished service award to Glenn Carlson and an address in support of universal military training by Colonel Ernest B. Miller of Brainerd, survivor of the Death March on Bataan and past department commander of the American Legion.

The program, over which Glenn Christie presided, opened with group singing led by Walt Larson and accompanied on the piano by Harold Harrison, followed by selections by Bob Sjulestad, accordion; Harold Carnes, piano; and Arnold Nordahl, bass violin. The Lincoln high school boys octet supplied a group of well received selections.

In behalf of the Junior Chamber, Merle Lindberg extended a welcome to the gathering, with the response given by Stuart McLeod, president of the Civic and Commerce association, who urged continued efforts to make Thief River Falls a hospitable city.

Mayor Simons announced that a committe had selected Glenn Carlson as the young man who had contributed most to this community in 1947, and presented to him the Jaycee distinguished service award. The mayor cited Carlson's enthusiasm for work and his qualities of leadership as embodying the ideals of the Junior Chamber.

Among projects in which Carlson participated during the past year were leadership in the polio fund campaign, as well as with the annual sports carnival, the summer sports program and the teen-age canteen.

Colonel Miller in his address pointed out that the United states, after taking the lead in the establishment of the United Nations organization, had dismantled its army and navy, thus encouraging the dictator nations to be more aggressive.

He supported universal military training as being a defense against aggression, and said the program would benefit the young men of the nation physically and otherwise. He also declared that "push-button" warfare is not likely in the forseeable future, and that the nation's chief reliance in case of attack must be in the citizen soldier.

Colonel Miller stated that if the UMT bill before Congress should be enacted, it would require five years to put its provisions into effect. He said it is proposed to teach basic training for six months, followed by six months of specialized training.

He responded to many requests for additional information following the close of his address.

Water to Fight Fires

Population Grows, Says Census Bureau

Increase of 9,160,000 Shown In Latest Estimates.

WASHINGTON.—On the basis of latest estimates the nation's population has swelled to 141,228,003—a gain of about 9,160,000 since 1940—the census bureau reports.

The figure, which includes American troops overseas, compares with approximately 430,000,000 for China, 414,000,000 for India and 193,000,000 for Russia, according to latest figures announced by the state department.

Census bureau estimates, as of July 1, 1946, noted that a "great westward movement" has increased the civilian population of Pacific coast states by more than one-third since 1940.

The growth of California, Oregon and Washington was estimated at 3,281,000 in the six-year period.

The 9,160,000 figure represents the increase of births over deaths during the six-year period.

The westward trek gave California the greatest numerical gain—2,845,000. Michigan was next with 797,000 and Ohio third with 504,000.

The new estimate places California in third place among the states, with an estimated 9,342,036 population, behind New York's 13,093,244 and Pennsylvania's 10,004,220.

In the 1940 census California was fifth but now has passed Illinois and Ohio, which rank fourth and fifth, respectively. Texas still is sixth.

The bureau's estimates of population, exclusive of armed forces overseas as of July 1, 1946, and changes from census figures of 1940, include: Indiana, 3,676,313, increase 339,517; Illinois, 8,020,453, increase 131,212; Michigan, 6,064,899, increase 808,793; Wisconsin, 3,168,158, increase 30,571, and Iowa, 2,543,302, increase 5,234.

Forests Aid Development

Ohio's four million acres of forest land are part of the great central hardwood forests which for generations have contributed to development of the farm areas of this region by producing continuous crops of trees. Two-thirds of the area of Minnesota is forest land. Today, there are more than a thousand forest products manufacturing plants in that state and scientific investigations into wood and its by-products are continually expanding these industries.

Most Valuable Nut

The pecan is perhaps the most valuable native commercial nut in the United States because of its thin shell and fine-flavored meat. The tree is a member of the hickory family and is found native in the southern and central parts of the United States and in Mexico. The wood of the tree is very hard. Its leaves carry 13 to 15 scythe-shaped leaflets, the nuts are oblong in form similar to that of an olive. The nut grows in a husk as a hickory nut and falls from the opened husk when ripe. There is almost an endless series of varieties of pecan trees and nuts.

Highest Corn Yield

For the United States as a whole, in the past few years, average corn yield was a little over 30 bushels to the acre. Highest officially recognized yield in 1944 was credited to an Illinois farmer with 183 bushels an acre. Scattered around the corn belt were other marks ranging from 142 to 176. In South Carolina in 1889 a yield of 255 bushels an acre was achieved by one farmer. Russia reports that in one district the yield averaged 140 bushels to the acre.

Flying Lifeboat

The U. S. coast guard has developed a flying lifeboat which will be valuable in rescuing shipwrecked seamen or downed aircraft crews, writes Gib Swanson in Capper's Farmer. As a glider, the 30-foot lifeboat is towed by plane to the scene of the disaster—then released for landing. Wings and tail are ejected after landing in the water, and a small gasoline engine powers it to shore. The lifeboat keeps contact with the rescue plane by two-way radio.

Uses of Soybeans

Contrary to general impressions that the bulk of soybean production in this country reaches the consumer in paints and plastics, recent surveys show that actually less than 5 per cent of the annual production of soybean oil is so used. Ninety-five per cent of the oil goes to consumers as food in one form or another. Soybean oil is used in making shortening, salad dressing, margarine and other foods.

CITY ON EDGE OF HEAVY SNOWFALL

Storm Last Friday Ties up Highway Traffic

Thief River Falls late last week was on the edge of a heavy snowfall that, driven by a stiff wind, paralyzed highway traffic in Western Minnesota and North Dakota, and interferred materially with train and bus schedules.

A large number of local citizens who went to Grand Forks last Friday afternoon to attend a hockey game were stranded there when the highways became impassable, and did not reach their homes here until Saturday evening or Sunday.

Thawing temperatures have prevailed the past few afternoons but this morning the mercury dropped below the zero mark.

SHRUNKEN, BUT SAFE

A man walking on the moors was caught in a torrential downpour. He looked around for some sort of cover and spotted a hollow tree lying on its side. To gain protection from the tempest, he crept inside through a narrow opening.

He lay there for two hours before he realized he had become virtually a prisoner in the tree. The rain had caused it to swell, and the opening through which he had entered was now too small for him to squeeze his way out. But even worse was soon to follow: The tree began to press in on him and he knew it would be only a matter of hours before he was crushed to death.

Such was the horror of his predicament that, like a drowning man, his past life flashed before him in a panorama. He saw what a mean, selfish life he had led and he began to feel so small that he realized he could now creep out through the opening. This he did—went home and led an exemplary life ever after!

DIDN'T KNOW TARGET

An expert had condescended to teach the new member to play golf. Pointing to the flag on the green, he explained: "You must drive the ball as near to that flag as you can."

The novice drove and the ball stopped within a foot of the hole. The expert was amazed, but the other merely inquired: "What do I do next?"

"You knock it into the hole," replied the expert.

"Into the hole!" exclaimed the novice. "Why didn't you tell me that in the first place?"

No Wonder

A customer waiting for a small job to be done on his car watched a mechanic change the oil in another car without spilling a drop, check the radiator, clean the windshield, wipe away all the greasy fingermarks, place a clean cloth over the upholstery, wash his hands thoroughly and drive the car slowly out to the street curb.

"Now, there's a real mechanic," the customer observed to the foreman.

"Oh," explained the foreman, "that's his own car."

Yes We Have No Bananas

Most people will be surprised to learn that bananas don't grow on "trees," the plant being a species of the lily family; and that the fruit is classed by botanists as a berry. The banana plant is an annual, that is, it completes its life cycle in a single growing season of from 12 to 18 months. Each plant produces only one stem of bananas during its lifetime.

Editorials.....

We don't have to look into the crystal ball to foretell that during the next few weeks nature will pull one of its neatest disappearing tricks, disposing of the heavy blanket of snow beneath which we are buried and replacing it with a carpet of green grass. After a long winter it definitely is the No. 1 trick of the year. This one has been a long winter. Maybe having gotten off to an early start it will fade out with an agreeably early finish.

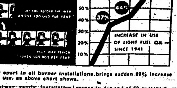
A round of cheers to the brave bachelors of Viking who have boldly proclaimed their village the bachelor capitol of the state and what are you going to do about it. It was a foolhardy gesture perhaps, coming early in the year when they most easily become the prey of their natural enemies, but the type of foolhardy bravado that appeals to all of us. The bold lads do not seem to realize however that they are engaged in a contest in which there is no advantage in numbers, that, by revealing their numbers, they have invited attack. It is with sadness that we bid them farewell. Too late they will learn that they talked too much. Viking will come to be known as the village that was the bachelor capitol of Minnesota.

Record crowds attended two hockey games in one day at the Arena this week, proving twice in one day that the skating rink does not have sufficient spectator capacity. While this condition is still fresh in the memories of the many who were turned away at the gates we should of course get in another plug for the enlargement of the present building and provision for artificial ice. Extending the building another 75 feet to the south would provide ample space for bleachers at both ends, besides a substantial increase in the length of the rink. Spectator capacity could be doubled without too much additional cost.

Merchants experimented last year with a Friday night store opening as a concession to employees who do not like to work Saturday nights. The Friday night idea was slow to take hold but by the end of several months it showed signs of gaining customer acceptance and by the end of the year Friday nights were just as busy as the old Saturday nights used to be. This apparently has been the experience in other towns that have tried it. At any rate stores will remain open on Friday nights in Thief River Falls starting in May, and a termendously important question has been settled once again for another year.

Czechoslovakia has ceased to exist as a free state, being another victim of Russia's program of "peaceful" conquest. Finland seems to be next in line, having been informed that a mutual defense past must be agreed to. In which direction Stalin will then move is anybody's guess. It may be the Scandinavian penninsula. But that he intends to move and to keep on moving can no longer be in doubt. Under the circumstances there is no alternative for us but to prepare for war and form whatever alliances we can for the defense of nations that desire to remain free. Under the circumstances, the extent to which we should deny the privileges of free speech and free action to communists within our own country is gradually becoming a less difficult question to answer. Once it is established that communistic activity in this country is directed from Moscow for the purpose of undermining our institutions, then certainly we are justified in dealing with communists as enemies, and if citizens of our country, as traitors.

Soaring Installations Seen Factor In Heating Problem Here This Winter



Postwar spurt in oil burner installations brings sudden 69% increase in fuel oil use, as above chart shows.

THE postwar yearly installation rate of oil burners has more than trebled that in any decade before the war, the Oil Industry Information Committee said today. It made the statement in commenting on the factors that have created an all-time high demand for petroleum and a critical fuel situation in this area as abnormally cold weather has swept the nation.

The committee warned local residents that even with an early break in the winter, it will still be important for consumers to continue to save oil in view of the record demand, and the depletion of stocks in storage caused by the weather already experienced. In the Midwest the first half of the winter ranged from 7 percent to 22 percent colder than last year, while in the East, it was from 13 percent to 29 percent colder.

There have been, the committee said, increases as high as 511 percent since 1941, the last prewar year, in the number of oil consuming units of different types, upping the demand for all petroleum products. The 511 percent increase, it explained, was in Diesel installations.

In the oil burner field, installations for the postwar period have exceeded a half million a year as compared with less than 150,000 in the period 1931-1940, which showed the highest previous installation rate. The result has been an increase in demand of 69 percent for the type of oil used for home heating.

Other factors cited as increasing demand for all major types of petroleum include an increase of over two million motor vehicles in 1947 compared with 1941; a 51 percent increase in the number of tractors on farms and a jump of 174 percent in the number of liquified petroleum gas users.

Since last May the industry through its information services has sought to keep the public aware of the situation that was developing and companies in the industry have informed home owners that they should install oil burning equipment only when an assured oil supply was available.

Some of the methods undertaken by members of the industry to meet critical conditions this winter include adoption of a seven-day week loading and unloading of tank cars; increasing the amount of fuel oil produced per barrel as compared with other products; and sustained operation of processing plants by shortening scheduled shutdowns for repairs and cleaning.

Despite postwar shortages of steel and other materials, the committee said, the industry is striving to complete a four billion dollar expansion program by the end of 1948. In the meantime, it has embarked on a program of promoting efficient use of petroleum products.

Topics of the Times

By M. A. H.

As a Canadian colleague suggests, a high standard of living is not to be confused with a high standard of eating.

A Minnesota paper reports that an accident happened Monday evening at "about 7:41". We're curious to know the exact time.

Hearing a doctor say there is no such thing as brain food, Billy Noonan asks, "How about noodle soup?"

It must have irked the genial secretary of our Civic and Commerce association to have the editor of a neighboring paper spell his name Roach.

The new long skirts, they tell us, are a good deal like prohibition. The joints are still there, but they are harder to find.

It's high time for the ladies to start promoting that new Easter outfit.

Random thought—We occasionally hear of a person coming out of an accident unscathed, but we never heard of anybody being scothed.

A headache is coming up for truckers in the form of spring load restrictions.

Simile—As dumb as the wolf that committed suicide to collect his own bounty.

It's not the number of persons per square mile that counts, says our Luverne commentator— it's the number of square persons per mile.

Mayor Hubert Humphrey of Minneapolis announced recently that he is dedicating all of his time to preventing Senator Ball's reelection. It would appear that conditions in his home town also call for a little attention.

Those who believe in appeasing Russia might well consider the case of Czechoslovakia.

The fund drive currently under way reminds us that the Red Cross is a mighty useful organization in time of trouble.

Anyway this has been a good winter for freezing ice on the hockey rinks.

Looking Backward

1928—Twenty Years Ago

Stuart McLeod was reelected president of District 17 Land O' Lakes Creameries at the annual meeting in this city.—Paul A. Lundgren was named president of the Sons and Daughters of Sweden at the organization meeting here.—Theodore Qualo was renamed president of the Commercial club and George M. Wilson was elected secretary.—Wangensten and son, jewelers, are moving into new quarters in the Caldis building.—The F. H. Herrick family left to establish thier home in Grand Forks.

1938—Ten Years Ago

Carl Beiswenger and Christ Nelson were elected to the board of the local creamery at its annual meeting.— Lincoln Arnold, local attorney associated with Paul Lundgren for past four years, established his own law office here.—A. M. Magnuson was reelected Ninth district director of the Minnesota Retail Grocers association.—Miss Winfred Wengeler returned from a four-months trip to the West Coast.

Reflections

Unfair Distribution

Seth and Hannah were Quakers. They had been "keeping company" for several months, and Seth was getting impatient to know whether Hannah loved him or not, so one day he said to Hannah:

"Hannah, dost thou love me?"

And Hannah replied: "Why, Seth, you know we are commanded to love one another."

"Yes, Hannah, I know, but dost thou feel what the world calls love?"

And Hannah's answer was: "I hardly know what to tell thee, Seth. I have tried to bestow my love upon all, but I have sometimes thought that perhaps thou wast getting more than thy share."

EASY TO SPOT

A flustered woman, her arms full of packages, approached the department store floorwalker.

"Oh, dear," she said in an anguished tone, "I'm looking for my husband. I was to have met him here two hours ago. I wonder if you have seen him?"

"Possibly I have, madam," he replied. "Is there any distinguishing characteristic about him by which I could identify him?"

A frightened expression came over the woman's face.

"He's," she replied hesitantly, "I imagine he's purple by now."

Florida and California

Florida and California may become rivals in production of guava, a fruit which grows wild from Mexico to Peru. The fruit is rounded to pearlike in shape and two to three inches in diameter. The skin is thin and light yellow in color. Powder made from the guava was used by the British troops in World War II as a source of vitamin C. Four ounces of powder protected a soldier against scurvy for nearly three months.

No Newcastle Cure

Irradiation of pens by ultra-violet lamps is not an effective way to protect poultry from Newcastle's disease or infectious bronchitis, it was found at Cornell university. The conclusions drawn from the experiments are that ultra-violet light is ineffective in prevention or transmission of the disease except where every bit of air can be exposed to it under controlled conditions. In addition, there must be no contact with caretakers, vermin, equipment or droppings. Such conditions are impossible to achieve on a practical basis.

Japanese Quakes

Japan still averages four earthquakes every 24 hours.

Equal Rights

Wyoming had equal rights for women in its territorial days and continued them when it was admitted to the union as a state.

Artificial Insemination

Artificial breeding associations now have an enrollment of over 140,000 herds and over a million cows—more than double the number enrolled a year ago.

Eat Cherimoya Daily

An exotic new fruit combines the flavors of strawberries and pineapple. It is called cherimoya.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear husband and father,
Roman Hans Paulson, who passed away two years ago, March 5, 1946.

Deep in our hearts you are today remembered.
Sweet, happy memories cling round your name;
True hearts that loved you with deepest affection
Always will love you in death just the same.
We often sit and think of you, when we are alone,
For memory is the only friend, that grief can call its own.

Prowlers Victors in 1st Round; Play Crookston Friday

The Crookston Pirates, the defending district champions, and the Prowlers advanced to the semi-finals of the 31st district basketball tournament by defeating Warren and Plummer, respectively. On Friday night at 8:00 P. M. the Pirates and the Prowlers will meet in a semi-finals game, the winner moving into the championship game to be played on Saturday night.

Except for the opening minutes of play when Warren played the Pirates on even terms, the Crookston team, with lanky Don Drake scoring on set-up shots near the basket, had a comparatively easy time in subduing the Ponies and win a 43 to 23 verdict. Drake tallied seven field goals and two free throws to pace the Pirate scorers, with left-handed Jim Anderson and Erven Pilger, with nine and eight points each, adding to the Crookston total.

In addition to scoring set-up shots, Drake was instrumental in covering the defensive backboard, preventing the smaller Warren players from recovering rebounds.

For the losers, Denny Ranstrom, playing on a bruised leg, scored four field goals to lead the Pony scorers.

The Prowlers, in the second game of the evening, trounced a luckless Plummer team, 58 to 17. Al Williamson, Marlo Davidson, Harley Wagner, Palmer Ronholm, and Don Stadum scored Prowler field goals in the first period, and with Davidson's free throw, gave the locals their 11 to 3 lead. Laniel's field goal and free throw were the only points garnered by Plummer in the period.

In the second quarter, Williamson drove in for three field goals, and Hurst, Jorde, and Skaar added two-pointers, giving the Prowlers a 25 to 5 margin at the intermission. Floyd Fredrickson's two free throws were the lone points tallied by Plummer. Plummer, though, was having hard luck with their shooting in the opening half, with Bob Swanson and Fredrickson taking numerous shots at the basket, but the ball would ring the hoop and roll out.

The Prowlers continued to knife in for shots in the third period, and with the score 35 to 7 in favor of the locals, coach Bob Nick sent the reserves into the game. And the Prowler reserves, with Erven Skaar getting nine points, and Keith Jorde hitting for a pair of field goals and two gift shots, marked up a 23-point period, boosting the Prowler point total to 58. Plummer did their best scoring of the game against the reserves, notching ten points on two field goals, by Laniel and Beaudry, and six free throws.

EAST GRAND FORKS, CLIMAX WIN FIRST TILTS IN TOURNEY

East Siders Register One-sided 49-12 Win over Alvarado Quint

East Grand Forks, with the "regulars" playing only in the first half, defeated the Alvarado five, 49 to 12, to open the 31st district basketball tournament here yesterday afternoon. In the second game of the afternoon, the Vikings of Climax, after being held to a 16 to 13 score at the half, pulled away from Red Lake Falls to defeat the Eagles 37 to 19. One semi-finals game will be played tomorrow night, and in that contest East Grand Forks will play Climax. The opening tip-off is slated for 8:00 p. m.

In the Alvarado game, East Grand Forks controlled the play throughout, and with Jerry Keller, Stan Johnston, Earl Gangeness, and Roger Wilcox doing the scoring, the Green Wave drove to a 13 to 2 lead at the end of the first period, and, holding Alvarado scoreless in the second period, gained a 29 to 2 advantage at the intermission. East Grand Forks possessed too much ball-handling ability for the Alvarado team, and even with the Green Wave reserves in the game, the score continued to mount. Young Jack Wavra, a freshman, led the East Siders second-half scoring with eight points.

In the second game of the afternoon, the Red Lake Falls Eagles proved stubborn opponents to the Climax Vikings. Dick Baril's field goal gave Red Lake Falls the lead in the opening minutes of play, and the Eagles played the Vikings on near-even terms during the period, trailing by a point, 7 to 6, at the end of the quarter.

After being held to a 16 to 13 score at the intermission, the Climax team, with rangy forward Jerome Jevning leading the scoring, moved into a 25 to 15 lead in the third period and they continued to pile up points in the fourth period. Jevning, after a "slow" first half in which he was held to 7 points, connected for 12 points in the second half to gain the game's high-point honors with 19. Dick Baril and George Wagner, with 7 points each, were the high scorers for coach Harold Kraft's squad.

Grand Forks Wrests States-Dominion Title from Thieves

In an epic championship finals series, the Grand Forks Amerks, ably led and coached by Cliff Purpur, won the States-Dominion hockey league title by defeating the Thieves, 5 to 4, Sunday night in the odd game of the best-of-three series. The Grand Forks sextet had won the opening game of the series, 6 to 3, at Grand Forks on Friday afternoon; with the Thieves winning Sunday afternoon's game here, 2 to 1 to force a third game.

Tom Devine and Milton "Prince" Johnson, forwards, personally escorted the Amerks to their 6 to 3 win on Friday afternoon, with each player garnering three goals. In addition to his three goals, Prince Johnson was credited with three assists, giving him a hand in all of the Grand Forks goal.

Devine scored the game's first goal at the 18:49 mark when, from a scramble, he punched the disc into the west goal. The Thieves, early in the second period, made it 1 to 1 when Bill Zippel, following a face-off, slapped a shot past goalie Dick Justice. With Grand Forks shorthanded, Prince Johnson and Devine combined for a goal at the 12:29 mark, with Devine handing Johnson a pass near the Thief River defense, with Johnson coming in from the right to get an open shot. Johnson's second goal of the period gave the Amerks a 3 to 1 lead; but Babe Paulsen's tally, taking a pass from Zippel in front of the net and lifting the puck over goalie Justice and into the cage.

Leading by a 3 to 2 score as the final period opened, Tom Devine slapped home a rebound at 6:36 to boost the Amerks lead. And goals by Johnson and Devine gave the Grand Forks six a 6 to 2 advantage. Bob Bell, with twenty seconds to play, drove an angled shot past Scotty Lawrence, who had gone into the Grand Forks goal following the injury to Dick Justice midway in the period. During a scramble in front of the Grand Forks net, Ray Dorsher, in attempting to clear the puck, inflicted a severe gash over Justice's left eye when he hooked his goalie with a high stick.

Playing the second game of the series here Sunday afternoon, and which, incidentally, was witnessed by the largest crowd to ever see a game here, the Thieves, on Babe Paulsen's goal at 18:35 of the third period, evened the series at one game each. Tom Devine racked up the first goal when he tallied at 18:24 of the first period, slamming in a rebound shot from a scramble in front of the south net. Prince Johnson was given the assist on the play.

Both goalies, Greek Swanson for the Thieves and Leo Fettig for the Amerks, were spectacular in their play, making saves on plays that appeared to be labeled for goals.

On a double-pass play midway in the second period, Babe Paulsen, on a shot that found a corner of the net and which was fired from a position to the right of the cage, tied the score at 1-all. Bob Bell and Bill Zipple set up the play with a pair of short passes.

The game-winning goal was recorded when Bill Zippel rushing up the ice with the puck veered to the right as he reached the north blue-line, pulling Purpur and Dorsher with him, and then feeding a backhand pass to Paulsen who outmaneuvered Scotty Lawrence to come in for a close-in shot.

The Thieves tallied first in Sunday night's "saw" game, with Bill Zippel, taking a pass from Pug Lund in center ice, raced through the Grand Forks defense and then feinted goalie Fettig out of the net to push a backhand shot into the north goal at 4:05. But goals by Dorsher and Prince Johnson gave the Amerks a 2 to 1 first period lead, and when Devine pounded a rebound shot into the net at 9:10 of the second period, Grand Forks held a 3 to 1 lead.

Opening the third period, Mouse Efteland, on a pass from Lloyd Johnson, scored a Thieves goal at 1:55; and when Tony Dorn scored on a rebound nine seconds later the score was knotted at 3-all.

Prince Johnson brought the Amerks again into the lead with a shot from the west sideboards at 4:45; and Cliff Purpur, taking advantage of some loose defensive play, scored on a hook shot around the Thieves net at 5:25.

Mouse Efteland hit with the final tally when, on a double assist from Lloyd Johnson and Les Vigness, he beat goalie Fettig with a lift from in front of the nets. The locals attempted to tie the score in the final minutes of play, but their scoring plays failed to click, or when they had goalie Fettig out of position their shots were off the goal.

Purpur Made the Difference

The difference between the Grand Forks team winning the States-Dominion hockey league title and the runner-up Thieves was the presence of Cliff "Fido" Purpur in the Amerks lineup. With practically the same personnel last year, except Purpur, the Grand Forks club did not advance past second round in the championship playdowns, and this year went through the first second, and championship rounds with the loss of only one game.

Purpur, only a year out of the St. Paul lineup of the U. S. hockey league, and a couple of years from the Chicago Black Hawks, took over the coaching reins and it wasn't long before the Amerks were revealing title-contending possibilities. Fido soon had the Grand Forks wings skating "both ways" and he had the defense sharpen their blue-line play. And with Russ and Prince Johnson on the wings, Fido played center ice to form one of the finest forward lines in the league. Last year the two Johnsons were noted for their breakaway speed, but they weren't very organized in their play and their speed was wasted many times. This year they had Purpur to lead the rushes and set up the plays. The result of all this is that Grand Forks won the States-Dominion hockey title.

And whether you consider Fido Purpur a hero or a villain, it must be agreed that he has been an influence to create hockey interest. This is especially true in Grand Forks where Purpur has stirred hockey interest to its highest peak. Some of this interest, though, has been aroused at the expense of the local Thieves and the Hallock Legionnaires, the two teams that Grand Forks fans consider public enemies 1 and 2.

East Grand Against the Field

Jerry Keller, Earl Gangeness, Dale Wavra, Roger Wilcox, and Stan Johnston, the starting lineup for coach Harold "Snooks" Sullivan's East Grand Forks basketball team has been installed as the favorite to cop the 31st district tourney which got under way here yesterday afternoon. And the Green Wave is rightly entitled to its favorite's rating, for the team has won the North Valley conference championship, and to win that title the East Side had to wade through competition that is more rugged than they will meet in the district tournament.

In conference play, East Grand Forks scored a pair of wins over the Crookston Pirates, and divided in their two-game series with the Prowlers. The Prowlers, incidentally, were the only conference and district team to beat the Green Wave, and they performed that feat on the East Side court, winning by a 29 to 27 score. A week later, on the local floor, East Grand Forks edged out the Prowlers, 39 to 37. If the Green Wave is to be upset it will have to be done by the locals, and if the Prowlers can get into the championship finals on Saturday night the fans will be treated to a bang-up game. Marlow Davidson, Al Williams, Harley Wagner, Palmer Ronholm, and Wally Grovum are a physical match for East Grand, and the boys have the speed to cause coach Sullivan's five plenty of trouble.

Next week the eighth regional tournament will be played here, and just as a guess we'll pick Baudette, Bagley, Bemidji, and East Grand Forks or Thief River Falls as the teams that will be entered.

Viggy Trying out with Millers

Bob Bell has been in correspondence with Lyle Wright of the Minneapolis Millers hockey club, with Les Vigness as the topic of discussion, and the result is that the former Prowler hockey captain and member of the senior hockey Thieves has been offered a tryout with the Millers. Les left Tuesday night for Minneapolis and he will spend a week with the Millers.

Viggy has all the physical requirements of a top-flight hockey player. He has fine skating ability and possesses one of the hardest right-hand shots in the league, and he is rugged enough to take the body-checks that a front line player must accept. Fact is, Les can make himself the hockey player he wishes to be, and it depends for the most part on Les' mental attitudes.

Medical Freshmen

Seventy per cent of the 6,252 students who were selected as freshmen to enter medical schools and schools of basic science in the United States in 1947 were war veterans, according to the American Medical association. The cost of operating the medical schools of this country, exclusive of their teaching hospitals, is somewhat more than 43 million dollars for the academic year.

POLITICAL ROUNDUP

By Arthur Naftalin

Minnesota politicians are bracing themselves for an eight-month siege of campaigning, the like of which is rare in the state's history. The challenge of Henry Wallace's supporters that they will capture the Democratic-Farmer-Labor Party is bringing confusion and consternation to that party. Harold Stassen's bid for the Presidency is arousing a frenzy of activity among his Republican followers in the state. A sharp fight over Senator Joseph H. Ball's reelection is already shaping. And, on a local level, a number of important issues are commanding wide attention.

However one appraises the merit of Henry Wallace's position on foreign and national affairs, it is clear that his third party move has sufficient strength behind it to constitute a factor of major importance in the 1948 election. Opponents of the third party are discovering that it is impossible to meet the Wallace threat with rational argument, that the movement has the quality of a religious revival in which the Wallace faithful appear to be realizing an emotional satisfaction by the mere acceptance of Wallace's catchwords of "peace, plenty, and prosperity."

President Truman's current difficulties with the southern wing of the Democratic Party and with the pressing Palestine and European aid problems, combined with the Wallace threat to divert a significant portion of the normal Democratic vote, have darkened the prospects for his reelection. But DFL leaders in Minnesota are still confident that, in a three-way fight in which the Republican candidate is a conservative like Senator Taft, President Truman will carry the state.

The big battle that dominates the activity within the DFL is the struggle over control of the party machinery. The night of April 30, when the party holds its precinct caucuses, will determine whether the DFL will be the property of the Wallace forces or whether it will remain attached with the national Democratic party. Both sides can be expected to give no quarter in their efforts to control the official organization. The big windup will be the state convention, which is scheduled for June 12 and 13.

Republican caucuses came off without hitch. As predicted, where sentiment was expressed, the caucuses declared for Stassen for President. This Friday the GOP will hold its county conventions, and party leaders are confident that the same harmony will prevail. What discordant notes there are center about the competition for delegates' seats to the national convention. Each congressional district has two delegates and there are seven at large, making a total of 25. Many times that number would like to go to Philadelphia so the aspiring delegates will be running election contests of their own.

Next Tuesday will be a big day for the Stassen campaign. It will be Stassen's first test in a Presidential primary, with New Hampshire the scene of the contest. Then come the primaries in Wisconsin on April 6, Nebraska on April 13, Ohio on May 4, and Oregon on May 21. While these contests are not conclusive, if one candidate consistently displays popular strength, he will enter the national convention with that much added prestige. There is currently much talk that the convention may deadlock between Governor Dewey and Senator Taft, and that the two most likely possibilities for breaking the deadlock are Senator Arthur Vandenberg and Stassen.

Observers have been anticipating an interesting clash between Senator Ball and Mayor Hubert H. Humphrey of Minneapolis in the Senatorial contest. Humphrey has pledged himself to an all-out effort to defeat Ball, but has refrained from committing himself as a candidate. His final decision as to whether he will be a candidate hinges, in part at least, upon the outcome of the struggle for control of the DFL. Meanwhile, however, labor and other progressive groups are proceeding with their campaign against the incumbent Senator.

MUST HAVE BEEN TWO OTHER PEOPLE

Chaska.—Five ladies and gentlemen from this vicinity went to Hopkins to attend a wedding. They entered a brightly lighted church with lots of folks around, assured the inquiring usher they were relatives of the principals, were escorted to a front seat, and eagerly awaited the wedding march. It came. The pastor came. The bride and groom came. And the visitors recognized none of them. They quietly left, walked one block, entered another church, and were just in time for the wedding of their relatives.

FORTUNE MAY LURK IN FAST-GROWING PLANT

Red Wing.—Local scientist envision fabulous fortunes if successful crosses can be consummated. The local postmaster has on display a Chinese plant of the lily family, popularly called "devils tongue." One can practically see and hear it grow, at the average rate of six inches a day. From a dry blub it attained a height of 7 feet in two weeks. And what that would do to corn or soybeans or pumpkin vines, if a cross could be accomplished, is something to dream about.

How to Put Up with Women's Styles

When Will Dudley's missus finally gave in to the new-style longer skirts, Will was mighty critical at first. Allowed as how women were a slave to fashion ... ought to dress to please their husbands and not style designers.

Sue finally reminded Will of his habit of sitting by the radio Saturday afternoons in shirt sleeves and old slippers, listening to the sportcasts with a mellow glass of beer. Suggested that maybe Will was a slave to comfort.

And Will admitted she was right.

Perhaps the way somebody dresses isn't always to our taste—just as Will's glass of beer may be another person's cider.

But from where I sit, those little differences aren't important—unless we go out of our way to make them so by being hypercritical. As Will says now: "Well, anyway, those long skirts hide a multitude of shins" ... and lets it go at that!

Other speakers at the meeting were John Lager, Land O'Lakes fieldman, and Mr. Dysart of Minneapolis, Land O'Lakes public relations man, who also showed two films, "Quality of Milk" and "No Hand Stripping."

Pounds of butter made were 330,921, with an overrun of 23.91%. Each six weeks efficiency tests are given to check the progress of the students in our little gym. Many who could not make the A mark last period were able to do so this time. A scale was brought and weight and height checked. It is interesting to know that all over Minnesota the same excercises and tests are being held.

Carver Stamps

A new library book, "George Washington Carver," explains why the United States Government saw fit to publish a Carver stamp. It is the second stamp with a colored person's picture. This stamp honors a man who gave up a good paying position in Iowa University to go to Tuskegee and help his colored people.

In the South he found poor colored farmers raising tobacco and cotton. These crops wore out the soil. Peanuts would build up the soil, but the price was low. George Washington Carver set out to find different ways to use peanuts. He found so many uses that peanuts paid better than cotton.

The Woodman Trophies for the Feedom Oratorical contest have arrived and are now on display in the Upper grade room.

This contest is hard because it is not a declamation contest, but is the original work of each student. In History class outlines of "What Freedom Means to Me" were made for each upper grade student who wishes to enter. The student writes the oration in his own words, learns it, and practices to give it in his best style.

LIVESTOCK SALES AT WINTER SHOWS BRING IN $26,941

Pennington Farmers Buy Choice Animals at Crookston Sales

The two sales of purebred livestock at the Red River Valley Winter Shows at Crookston on February 26 and 27 had a gross total of $26,941.50. A. J. Dexter of St. Paul, manager of the Winter Shows sales stated, "The two sales were a decided success in spite of the bad weather for the Friday sale. Due to the unsettled conditions of the livestock markets for the few weeks prior to the sale, the sale average was lower than one year ago; however, livestock breeders received a fair price and the new breeders made some good buys of livestock."

The 57 head of beef cattle, bulls and cows in the 1948 sale sold for a general average of $306.50 per head as compared to an average of $335.00 in 1947. The total gross sale value of beef cattle sold on February 27 amounted to $17,475.00.

Bulls and cows sold in the sale, listed by breeds with total breed sales, name of breeder and purchaser of the top animal for each breed, are as follows: 16 Hereford cows, total $5210; top sale price of $535 paid by Otto Schroeder of East Grand Forks to Eddie Gronseth of Rothsay, Minnesota, with an average for Hereford cows of $325.63.

Fifteen Hereford bulls sold for an average of $337.00 with the top price of $610 paid by Selmar Halbakken of Rothsay, a herd sire from the Gronseth herd.

Gerald Boelke of Tyler, North Dakota, paid $285.00 for a Polled Hereford cow owned by the Carl Hord farm of Hallock. Joe Skale of Red Lake Falls paid $360.00 top price for a Polled Hereford bull from the Hord herd.

Three beef Shorthorn bulls sold for an average of $190, with the top price of $220 paid by Odin Hanson and Son of Thief River Falls to Kvare Bros. of Waubun. Four Shorthorn cows averaged $233.75 with a top of $275 paid by Truman Hemmestvedt of Goodridge to Kvare Bros.

SALES OF SAVINGS BONDS HERE RISE

Bonds Sold in County in 1947 Exceed Redemptions

Per capita purchases of Series E savings bonds in Pennington county amounted to $41.35 in 1947 compared to $40.60 for Minnesota and $31.14 for the nation, it was reported by Von E. Luscher, state chairman for the savings bonds division of the U. S. Treasury department.

Last year county sales of all series, E, F and G issues, came to $485,989 compared to $420,144 a year ago. Maturities and redemptions were $371,163 in 1947 and $490,146 in 1946.

Mr. Luscher stated that total Minnesota sales were $166 million last year or 103.8 per cent of the $160 goal for the period. E bond sales were $102.5 million and F and G sales $63.5 million.

Aggregate sales were a half million dollars greater in 1947 than in 1946, although there was a carryover of $7 million from the Victory Loan during the opening days of 1946.

Thirty-six Minnesota counties produced sales in excess of $1,000,000 during 1947 as compared to 23 counties in 1946.

BLUE CROSS PLAN ELECTS OFFICERS

Hospital Group Reports Increase in Activities

Annual meeting of the board of trustees of the Minnesota Blue Cross Plan was held in St. Paul this week, and officers were elected and the annual report on Blue Cross Plan achievements for the past year was presented.

Samuel W. Pinkerton, St. Paul, was re-elected president of the board, as were David E. Bronson, Minneapolis, as vice-president; Dr. Peter D. Ward, St. Paul, secretary; Clyde M. Jorgensen, Minneapolis, treasurer; and Harry E. Kern, St. Paul, assistant-treasurer.

Annual report of the Minnesota Blue Cross Plan was presented by Arthur M. Calvin, executive director, who reported that the amount of hospital care benefits received by Blue Cross subscribers increased more than $1,900,000 in 1947.

"Blue Cross subscribers received $5,426,875.56 in hospitalization benefits for 1947," stated Mr. Calvin, "and this is an increase of $1,925,060.66 over the amount of $3,501,814.90 provided in 1946."

During the past year there were 110,603 Blue Cross subscribers hospitalized for a total of 673,937 days of care. Average length of stay in the hospital for a Blue Cross patient is six days.

"Since 1933 when Blue Cross was founded in Minnesota," declared Mr. Calvin, "subscribers have spent 4,266,915 days in hospitals and have received benefits amounting to $22,820,431."

The report also disclosed that a substantial gain of 98,703 new subscribers was recorded in 1947. Today there are 853,192 persons in Minnesota enrolled in Blue Cross—one out of every three persons in the state.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By Senator Joseph H. Ball

Costs of services and functions performed by the federal government have been increased enormously by two things: the five-day, 40-hour week which now applies to nearly all federal employees, and the very liberal sick and annual or vacation leave allowed such employees.

The Senate Appropriations committee got interested in the leave subject because we found when it came to liquidate war agencies like OPA and WPB, that accrued annual leave was the biggest cost item we encountered, running as high as ten or twelve million dollars. As a result, the committee staff made a survey of the total liability of the government as to sick and annual leave.

The information was difficult to obtain and we finally had to permit the agencies to merely check a 20 per cent sample of field employees, because the total annual leave accumulated by 1,703,540 employees was 44,561,076 days, representing a total salary cost of 520 million dollars. Total sick leave accumulated on the same date was 54, 542,330 days or a total liability of 630 million dollars.

The bulk of civil service employees receive annual or vacation leave at the rate of one day for each two weeks worked from the beginning of their employment, and are entitled to fifteen days sick leave with pay annually. The system was begun when employees worked a six-day week, and even then it amounted to an annual vacation of slightly more than four weeks. With the five day week, the 26 days of annual leave amounts to five weeks and one day of vacation each year.

Sick leave can be accumulated up to a total of 90 days and annual leave up to a total of 60 days, and the average federal employee now has accurred to his credit 26 days of annual leave and 32 days of sick leave.

While the sick leave is not exceptional, as compared to private employment, the annual leave is. The great bulk of private employment provides for only two weeks vacation annually with employees entitled to three or four weeks only after five or ten years continuous service.

In its survey, the committee found that many employees, instead of taking their leave annually, deliberately accumulate 40 to 60 days as a sort of unemployment insurance, or severance pay to tide them over to another job if and when they leave the government.

Under the five-day week, if federal employees take the maximum and take 10 days sick leave annually, which is about average, plus six paid holidays, they work only 218 days out of the 365 in the year.

Where a federal service must be operated 24 hours a day, as is the case with federal airways, the weather service and various institutions, it takes five employees to man a single job. That is one important cause of mounting costs of federal government services.

LAND O'LAKES SETS ANNUAL MEETING

Will Be Conducted in Minneapolis Mar. 11-12

Several thousand dairy and poultry farmers and their families from Upper Midwest will gather in Minneapolis next week for the 27th annual meeting of the Land O'Lakes creameries, Inc. for reports on operations for 1947 and plans for 1948.

The membership meeting will be held Thursday and Friday, March 11 and 12, at the main plant of Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc. The creamery operators' and cheesemakers' special session will be held Wednesday, March 10.

Attendance is expected to be the largest in the history of the organization, according to John Brandt, president.

He said that the many new problems confronting farmers and cooperative organizations gives the year's meeting unusual importance.

The March 11 session will include a report by F. D. Stone, director of sales on the marketing of Land O'Lakes products, and addresses by L. L. Getten, production manager, Land O'Lakes, and Milo K. Swanson, executive secretary, Wisconsin Council of Agriculture. W. E. Rumble, legal counsel for Land O'Lakes, will discuss the tax status of cooperatives, and Mr. Brandt will present his annual address.

At the evening session the principal speaker will be Dr. J. O. Christianson, superintendent of the School of Agriculture, University of Minnesota.

The meeting Friday will feature the financial report by Emil G. Johnson, treasurer of Land O'Lakes, and a business session where directors will be elected and presented.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare,
University of Minnesota

Contradiction

At the present time the hue and cry about the supposed evils of the movies, the radio serials, and the comic books has subsided. It is a good time to point out a factor which parents often do not consider.

Do you think that your children attend too many movies? How about the radio—too much blood and thunder? Comic books unsuitable? Before you answer see what your part is in this battle.

How many times have you packed your children off to the movies to get "a little peace and quiet?"

Do you stop quarrels at home with the bright remark "Couldn't you turn on the radio and listen to something?"

Or have you ever remarked don't worry about Johnny misbehaving. Just give him a comic book and he'll be quiet for hours!"

Too often parents take refuge in the very things which they condemn. If you consider some movies to be undesirable; radio shows too stimulating; and comic books crude and unrealistic; you certainly should not encourage their use at one time and discourage it at another.

Such inconsistency weakens your position in the eyes of your child. It is best to excercise intelligent supervision of your child's movie attendance, radio listening, and reading. However, it is better to be consistently forbidding, denying movies, etc. to your child than to be inconsistent.

You should take very active steps to develop activities for your child which will be acceptable to you and which will replace activities which you consider undesirable for him. Develop the habit of participation. Play with your child. Discover his interests. Such a program will minimize the necessity for outside forms of entertainment.

Playing Cards Introduced

While there is evidence as far back as 800 A. D. that cards were popular in Hindustan there is evidence that they were in use in Egypt in the time of Joseph and appeared among the Jews after their return from the Babylonian exile. The Chinese believe they were invented for the amusement of Seun-ho's concubines in the year 1120 A. D. Playing cards were not commonly used in Europe until the first part of the 15th century. Some authorities state that playing cards were introduced into Europe by the invading Saracens, who crossed the Mediterranean in 711.

Double-Barreled Beets

Beets are a double-barreled vegetable. When young and tender, the tops are rich sources of iron and vitamins while the roots contain minerals and vitamins B-1 and G. They are also a relish. As pickles, they add zest to any meal. Many good cooks pickle hard-boiled eggs with their beets.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

The Girl Scouts are celebrating their 36th birthday anniversary on March 12.

The radio program on March 8th is being presented by one of the Hallock troops.

Clothing drive given by the Scouts during March and April—Clothes for Friendship—A million garments for children in Europe and Asia—layettes, summer and winter wardrobes, clothes for boys and girls up to fourteen years old. Here is a project that offers every leader a chance to give the words "international friendship" a thoroughly practical meaning.

The slogan of the project is "Make Warm Friends". All garments must be useful and attractive—clothes to warm the hearts as well as the bodies of children who now go ragged and cold. What better way could your Girl Scouts learn about young people in other countries than by helping with the job of sending them the clothes they desperately need? Please be sure to encourage your troop to make at least one clothing kit for the Clothes for Friendship Project.

The Junior Shop will give birthday souvenirs to every registered Scout and Brownie during Scout Week, March 7th thru 13. Call for them.

E. J. Bahe, Hancock Record, one of a family of eight, is now head of a family of eight, and will be 78 years old on the 8th day of May 1948. While at Northfield, Herman Roe of the News has nine letters in his name, was born June 9, graduated from college June 9, married a lady whose birthday was May 9, has a son whose birthday is April 9 and a daughter May 9, and drives a car with Minnesota license number 99-999. He is silent on the question of nine lives.

OPOSSUMS FOR PLAYMATES . . . It isn't every boy who has eight opossum (or 'possum) pups for pets, possibly because it isn't every boy who would want that many. But Jimmy Harris, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harris of near Genesee, Ill., thinks it's great fun. Some of the eight are shown here as they cling to his clothing and perch on his head. They were captured, with their mother.

School Notes

Invitations to bid on the menu for the junior banquet will be extended to all five of the churches in Grygla and the four in Goodridge. Bids must be in by April 1. On the committe are Ardith Norby and Adeline Kulseth.

Lloyd Wiseth stellar guard of coach Nonte Jarvi's court quintet this winter and a four year letterman in the sport, topped the scorers with 87 points. Harold Becker, elongated center, who should be a big cog next year totaled 67 points. Diminutive Lloyd Tanen was close behind with 62 counters. Ronald [illegible], active in numerous school activities was 4th with 41 points. The remaining regular, Tommy Thompson, ace student and all around athlete amassed 11 field goals and a gift toss.

Three substitutes, Raymond Byklum, Wallace Payne and Ervin Dahle used quite frequently, scored 6, 5 and a point respectively.

Best typing scores in five minute tests in Miss Hodous class are: Goldie Sjulson 49, Darlene Stromland 45, Jeanette Hanson 44, Geraldine Tweit 41, Donna Bush 38, Carolyn Mutnansky 33, Mary Janhanson and Lois Selle 30.

Phenomenal shooting by Eileen Kulseth, who racked up 18 points, made it an easy matter for the sophomores to defeat the seniors, 31 to 2 in an interclass basketball game to avoid a complete "wash-out" Alvina Askeland made a basket for the seniors during the last quarter. Lloyd Wiseth was the official.

The Intramural Basketball League, supervised by Nonte Jarvi, along with any other basketball activities came to a close this week.

Up to the final week the Panthers and Greyhounds were tied for the lead with 3 wins and 1 defeat. Next were the Grizzlies with 3 wins and 2 losses. The Badgers in 4th place had 1 win and 3 losses. The Wildcats had no wins in 3 games.

In the league all the boys from the 7th grade on had a choice to play basketball with the students also handling the scoring and officiating duties.

Through student council impetus, a bus loaded with players, cheer leaders and fans, was sent to the East Grand Forks sub district basketball tourney, instead of just two carloads of players as had previously been planned. Coach Nont Jarvi's team lost by a decisive margin, but they did hold Alvarado to a 14 to 12 half time score and all the students were happy for the trip.

Lower grade pupils made two menu covers, two tray covers, two favors, two nut cups and two decorated napkins apiece which have been sent to veterans' hospitals. "Service for Others" was the theme. The 7th and 8th grades made original, hand painted designs on birthday gifts.

"Do as You Please" is the new name of the Science club, the club deciding by vote. "Bumps of Knowledge" and "We Dood It" were other names voted on, selected by a committee of Marilyn Berg, Phyllis Selle, Roger Easthouse and Lloyd Tanen.

Supt. Netteland reports that there is a good chance that this community will have an "On the Farm" training program by April 1. He interviewed several applicants at Minneapolis. The farm program went out here Dec. 1 when Edmund Gahr resigned to enter business in Foley.

Paper-Mill Waste

Farmers in northern Wisconsin have found that a paper-mill waste—the greenish, ill-smelling sludge dumped by the mills after pulp is processed for paper—is rich in lime and just the thing for acid soils. The mills are gladly cooperating with the farmers in making the sludge available to them, because getting rid of the waste has always been a serious problem. County agricultural agents, too, are cooperating by making available testing facilities to determine whether soils need lime.

Engineering Feats

The Mayan Indians had no knowledge of the wheel, the true arch, or iron, bronze, or copper tools but they managed stupendous engineering feats.

"AND ALL I ASK IS A TALL SHIP" . . . Swift and graceful as it cuts the waters off Miami Beach, the "Cyclone," Cuba's entry in this year's Lipton cup race, inevitably calls to mind the memory of Sir Thomas Lipton. Except for his tea, the amateur yachtsman asked for little but "a tall ship and a star to steer her by." Sometimes called the world's greatest sportsman, Lipton spent millions over a period of many years in an attempt to bring the yachting title to England.

A picture of Olaf Rodegard, professional skier, forms the cover of the Feb. 23 issue of Life magazine. There are also other pictures of Mr. Rodegard in an article on Timberline Lodge, where Mr. Rodegard was an instructor. Mr. Rodegard used to make his home in Newfolden, spending one winter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Saugen and two winters at the Clarence Larson farm. During his winters here he entertained many of his friends with his stunts on skis.

"I, SAID THE BIG WHITE HEN"

Mrs. Harry Klampe, Waseca, thought one egg 7½ inches around, would be enough for a cake she was baking. Instead of two yolks, as she expected when she broke the big shell, Mrs. Klampe found another normal egg, shell and all, within the big one. So she had two eggs in her cake. Probably bowled over by all the big eggs and production records publicized the past year, a Sleepy Eyed hen produced an egg shaped exactly like a bowling pin.

National Forests Safe

The national forests include 73 million acres capable of growing commercial timber crops, says a report of the U. S. forest service. They include one-third of the national saw-timber stand. They are being managed for continuous timber production. In recent years the national forests have supplied about 10 per cent of the nation's yearly lumber cut. Eventually, their total sustained-yield output of timber can be more than doubled.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor Times:—

In reading the Times I see that the Cancer Detection Center is now opening in Minneapolis and I also understand they will open other places in the state.

Don't you think it would be possible to get a center in Thief River Falls. It's a very long way for the people to go to Minneapolis.

Will you please take this matter up with the City Council in your city. It sure would be a blessing for all the people in the Thief River Falls trading area.

Yours Truly,
Osmund Olson,
Grygla, Minn.

New reduced air parcels post rates to numerous countries in Europe and Africa will become effective March 15, Postmaster Andrew Anderson announced today. State Cancer Society Sponsors Annual Essay and Poster Contest

With more than 12,000 children in 60 counties of the state participating, judges in the Minnesota cancer poster and essay contest, which closes March 15, were named this week by Dr. Arthur I. Wells, president of the Minnesota Cancer Society.

Dr. Carl B. Drake of St. Paul will head the essay judges committee, with Mrs. Netta Wilson, Minneapolis, editor of the Minnesota Health and Mrs. Harold F. Wahlquist, Minneapolis, incoming president of the Minnesota Medical association auxiliary, as members.

For the poster judging committee, P. J. Hoffstrom, St. Paul Pioneer Press and Dispatch cartoonist, was appointed chairman. Oz Black, Minneapolis Tribune and Star Journal cartoonist, and Charles Ernst, director of the art department at Brown and Bigelow, St. Paul, are the committee members.

Chinese Lacquer Work

In olden times the Chinese applied as many as 300 or more separate and distinct coats of lacquer on surfaces to be carved, and a lesser number on plain surfaces. They now never use less than 3 coats and not more than 18. Great workshops for the production of lacquer were established in Hangchow during the period 1130 to 1200 A.D. Wall painting found in Korea from the sixth century consisted chiefly of lacquer work, or lacquer work over painted surfaces. Between the Han and the T'ang periods the palaces and temples of the Chinese were painted both inside and out.

Gold Into Mercury

Ancient alchemists dreamed and worked for means of turning quicksilver into gold. Now in atomic ovens, gold is being turned into mercury, a reversal of those ancient dreams. As the gold is not scarce, but a special isotope of mercury is needed, this process becomes of real value. This special mercury 198 emits a wave length of radiation which is an exact spectral line that can be used as a standard measurement. Mercury 198 does not occur in nature. This standard is worth more than gold, says David E. Lilienthal, chairman of the atomic energy commission.

Venom of Bees and Wasps

It is not generally known that the "venom" of bees and wasps is not the same. The effect of a bee sting upon humans is definitely toxic, acting upon the heart and circulation, and although believed to be a cure for rheumatic disorders may cause the death of the person stung. A wasp sting, on the other hand, has no ill effect other than to cause local swelling and pain about the place of puncture. Wasp "venom" is formic acid, but what definitely constitutes the venom of the bee has yet to be discovered.

German Pain Killer

Amidone, a new drug, is from two to four times as potent a painkiller as morphine. It was first made during World War II by the Germans. In 1945 an investigating army medical corps team brought some back to the United States. Chemists, pharmacologists and scientists started marking and studying it. Amidone, like demerol, is not derived from opium, but is habit-forming just the same.

Chinese Took Fingerprints

Fingerprints found in China were made in 200 B. C. The oldest recorded fingerprints in America were carved on the face of a cliff in Nova Scotia.

Concrete Seagoing Ship

First concrete seagoing ship was built during World War I at Redwood City, Calif. She was launched six weeks after construction began.

GOP DELEGATES ARE SELECTED AT CONVENTION

John Anderson Named Pennington Chairman at Meeting on Friday

Pennington county Republicans at their convention Friday evening in the Civic and Commerce rooms elected officers of the county organization, named delegates to the Ninth district convention in Moorhead Saturday, March 13, and to the state convention set for the following week, and adopted a series of resolutions. Lester A. Ihle, retiring county vice chairman, presided.

John Anderson, local jeweler, was elected Pennington county chairman for the ensuing term, succeeding J. Robert Petersen, who has left this community. Other officers named include Mrs. Bertha Karwand, chairwoman; Alvin Christofferson, vice chairman; Mrs. N. A. Nelson, vice chairwoman; Morris Howick, secretary; and Stanton R. Dahlen, treasurer.

Elected delegates to the district convention were John Anderson, Mrs. Karwand, Mrs. Nelson, A. F. Berge, Dr. Theodor Bratrud, Theodore Quale and Mrs. Abbie Wassgren. Alternates include Lewis A. Nelson, Mrs. Gaston Ward, W. E. Dahlquist, Mrs. Florence Anderson, Ben I. Fruland and Mrs. Quale.

Among delegates elected to the state convention were Mr. Anderson, Mrs. Karwand, Mrs. J. M. Bishop, Dr. Theodor Bratrud and Mr. Berge. Selection of two other delegates and seven alternates was left in the hands of the executive committee.

Resolutions were adopted endorsing Dr. Edward Bratrud for election as Ninth district delegate to the Republican national convention in Philadelphia in June, and expressing appreciation of the work done by Senators Joseph H. Ball and Edward J. Thye, Representative Harold C. Hagen and Governor L. W. Youngdahl to secure appropriation of funds to start the Red Lake-Clearwater river flood control project.

Other resolutions endorsed the candidacy of Harold E. Stassen for the Republican nomination for president; Roy Dunn of Pelican Rapids for reelection as Republican national committeeman from Minnesota and Mrs. Chris Carlson of Blue Earth for national committeewoman. Also endorsed was the work of the Minnesota Republican delegation in Congress, and the administration of Governor Youngdahl.

At the close of the meeting lunch was served by a group of women under the direction of Mrs. N. A. Nelson.

Ekstrand, Dahlquist and LaFave Report Thursday

At a meeting of the Civic and Commerce association last Thursday noon, Bill Ekstrand, chairman of the merchants committee, told of action taken by his group the previous evening relative to the schedule of store hours and holidays to be observed. Details of the report were published in The Times last week.

"Giving" Party Will Feature 36th Year of U. S. Girl Scouting

The 36th anniversary of girl scouting in the United States will be celebrated on March 12th, at a nation-wide "giving" party, featuring the girl scout "Clothes for Friendship" project.

Described as one of the most popular projects ever undertaken by the nation's million girl scouts, "Clothes for Friendship" is also the most ambitious.

The girl scouts aim to make, mend, remake or rehabilitate a total of 100,000 complete wardrobes of ten garments each for children between the ages of one year to fourteen. The wardrobes are to be attractive as well as utilitarian so that children who might otherwise wear rags will have clothes they'll be proud of. The American Friends Service committee is handling distribution of the garments overseas.

PROWLER QUINT WHIPS CROOKSTON IN SEMI-FINALS

Wins Tilt by 46-35 Score; East Grand Forks Wins in Other Semi-final Game

In the 31st district's semi-final games, the East Grand Forks team, playing the Climax Vikings on Thursday night, scored a decisive 54 to 36 triumph; and the local Prowlers, with Harley Wagner playing a fine defensive game in holding Crookston's lanky Don Drake in check, eliminated the Pirates, last year's district champions, by scoring a 46 to 35 win on Friday night.

The Climax Vikings, largely through the scoring efforts of forward Jerome Jevning, who, incidentally, was the tournament's high scorer with 52 points, kept abreast of the Green Wave in the first period of Thursday night's game, trailing by only a point, 9 to 8, at the end of the quarter. Baskets by Jerry Keller, Roger Wilcox, and Earl Gangeness moved coach Sullivan's team into a 24 to 15 lead at the intermission, and the smooth-passing East Grand Forks five, after being held on near-even terms in the third period, pulled away to a comfortable win in the fourth period.

High scoring honors for the game were divided by Jerry Keller of the Green Wave and Jerome Jevning of Climax, with each player marking up 19 points, Keller, East Grand Forks' co-captain, scored nine field goals and a free throw; while Jevning hit the basket with eight field goals and three free throws.

With Marlow Davidson playing a spectacular all-around game, and scoring 18 points, and with center Wagner being agile in his defensive covering of rangy Don Drake, the North Valley conference scoring leader, the Prowlers defeated champion Crookston Pirates in the district semi-finals game played Friday night.

The Pirates gained a 3 to 0 lead in the first minutes of play and they increased their lead to 9 to 3 when four minutes of opening period had elapsed. Al Williamson's field goal and free throw, a pair of field goals by Davidson, and Wagner's jump shot, gave the Prowlers nine quick points and a 12 to 9 lead as the period ended.

In the second period, a field goal by Drake, and Jim Anderson's left-handed toss, plus a free throw point by Drake, moved the Pirates ahead by a 14 to 12 score. But not for long, for a free throw by Davidson, Wagner's jump shot from the lane, a free throw and field goal by Davidson, and Wagner's rebound field goal lifted the Prowlers' total to 20 points, and a 20 to 14 lead at the half.

Crookston pared a couple of points off the Prowler lead in the third period when Don Steenerson and Jim Anderson scored field goals and Duane Peltier and Anderson notched free throws, while the locals were limited to field goals by Wally Grovum's two goals.

And in the fourth period, it was accurate free-throw shooting that kept the Prowlers in control of the game. Don Drake and Erv Pilger connected for Pirate field goals in the final period, while Davidson's field goal was the sole Prowler score from the floor. The locals added six points to their score via the free-throw route, with Davidson and Wagner getting a pair, and Ronholm and Williamson a point each.

The above photograph was taken at the local airport on his first trip. Pictured, from left to right are Norman Jacobson, pilot and nephew of Mr. Schjelderup; Roy Shetler, hatchery owner; and Gil Petersen, hatchery foreman.

COMPARE HEALTH NOW AND IN 1648

Percentage of Accidents Rises in Past 300 Years

If you were a city dweller of three hundred years ago—say, of A. D. 1648 in London — you would be only half as likely to be killed in an accident as you are today, but you would be several times as likely to die from tuberculosis or other diseases with such fearful names as spotted fever, purples, rising of the lights, plague in the guts, tissick, imposthume, etc., says a study of early and present-day mortality by Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

The king's horsemen were the fastest traffic to contend with in 1648; that greatest of all accidental killers, the automobile, was two and a half centuries in the future. Accidental deaths were only about 36 per year 100,000 of population in 1648, compared to 71 per 100,000 today; accidents then accounted for only a little over one per cent of total mortality, against nearly seven percent today.

Total annual death rate, however, in 17th century England was 35 to 40 per 1,000 of population, against only 10 per thousand of poulation in present-day United States. Infant mortality from disease was terrific, though it was on the way down from the dark medieval years when 50 per cent of the children in many European countries died before reaching their tenth birthday, as compared with only six per cent mortality by age 10 in the present-day United States.

"U" Specialist Offers Advice on Vegetables and Fruits for Freezing

Varieties of garden vegetables and fruits superior for canning are not always of high quality for freezing, says County Agent Frank A. Hobbs.

Since the first step toward getting a good quality frozen product is to select varieties that freeze well, Pennington county families with home freezers or locker space are urged to plant some varieties of fruits and vegetables adapted to freezing.

Among vegetable varieties recommended for freezing by J. D. Winter, in charge of the frozen food laboratory at University Farm, are Washington asparagus, Snowball cauliflower, Italian green sprouting broccoli, and three varieties of lima beans: Fordhook Bush (large), Henderson Bush (small) and Burpee's Improved Bush.

Varieties of peas recommended are Thomas Saxton, Little Marvel, Teton and Glacier; spinach, Long-standing Bloomsdale and King of Denmark; sweet corn, Golden Bantam types and Golden Midget (hybrid types of corn are best because of their uniform maturity).

Recommended fruits include cantaloupe, such as Bender's Surprise or Sugar Rock; rhubarb, McDonald Red, although most varieties are satisfactory; red raspberries, Latham, Chief and Madawaska; and strawberries, Dunlap, Burgundy, Wayzata, Arrowhead and Gem.

A TAX THAT IS NOT PAID

Dairy interests are staging a back-to-the-wall fight in their efforts to retain the special taxes imposed on oleomargarine. Formal hearings are now being held in the house agricultural committee in Washington. There are now 18 bills before Congress calling for the repeal of these taxes. With the administration and organized labor, along with those agricultural groups that are interested in vegetable oils, supporting the oleo manufacturers the prospect is not too bright for the dairy industry.

There has been much misrepresentation of the facts in this argument about the taxes on oleo. The actual tax on this product is only one-fourth of a cent a pound; certainly not enough to add materially to the poor man's cost of living. The tax that the oleo manufacturers are interested in having repealed is the 10% they must pay if they sell colored oleo. This is not a tax on the poor man's food, as they represent it to be. It is a tax that must be paid for the privilege of giving the appearance of butter to a product that looks like lard.

There is no need to argue the relative merits of oleo and butter as a food or as a spread. That they are competitive must be admitted. Butter however is a natural product and has a distinctive color that is recognized thruout the world. Even if oleo could be compounded into a better food than butter from a nutritional standpoint, the manufacturers should not be permitted to use artificial coloring to imitate the natural color of butter. The dairy industry has a right to this protection, and it is to secure this protection that the 10c tax is imposed. It is a tax that is not paid because the product is marketed without being colored, a color capsule being wrapped into the package for the use of the consumer if coloring is preferred. It is a tax that should not be repealed; a tax that will not reduce the price of the product one cent if it is repealed.

An especially active season of fall and winter sports is drawing to a close and promoters of recreation are now laying plans for the summer season that is ahead of us. We have lots of promoters of sports and recreation in the community, including several organizations and many individuals who make commendable contributions in various fields. Fortunately there is no serious lack of willing workers and an ample supply of money seems to be somehow available whenever a need arises. Our greatest need probably is better coordination of activities. In the duplication and overlapping of the services of sponsoring organizations there is a lack of thoroughness and we actually are not accomplishing as much as we should considering the effort and energy that are expended. Maybe we are now ready for a united community sports and recreation program.

Regardless of what the thermometer says, we definitely are nearing the end of the winter by the calendar. In less than two weeks spring will officially be here. It doesn't seem possible that within one month the snow will have disappeared and the ice will be out in the river but that's the due schedule—for what encouragement you can get out of it.

THIEVES BOW TO GRAND FORKS IN AHA PLAYOFFS

Amerks Then Defeat Eveleth in 1st Round of State Tournament

The Grand Forks Amerks, States-Dominion hockey league champions, won the sectional A. H. A. hockey playoffs by defeating the Thieves, 6 to 3, here Thursday night before a capacity crowd in the Arena. The Amerks had beaten the Crookston Pirates, 10 to 4, in a semi-final game at Grand Forks on Wednesday night.

By their win the Grand Forks sextet earned the right to represent this region in the state A. H. A. tournament that was concluded in St. Paul yesterday. In their opening game in the state tourney, the Amerks trounced the Eveleth Rangers, 7 to 2.

Thursday night's game between the Amerks and Thieves followed the pattern of the previous engagements between the two clubs, with the result that the crowd was treated to first-rate brand of hockey. Cliff Purpur tallied the first goal at the 9:58 mark of the opening period when he took a double assist from Russ and Milt Johnson and slapped a shot into the south goal. And with some of the finest team play that has been exhibited on the local ice, Russ Johnson scored the Amerks second goal at the 10:22 mark of the period.

A series of short, crisp passes, with Scotty Lawrence passing to Milt Johnson, Johnson to Purpur and Purpur flipping the puck to Russ Johnson, who scored from close in. Babe Paulsen pared the Amerks lead by getting a goal, on assists by Bell and Zippel, seconds before the period ended, giving Grand Forks a 2 to 1 lead.

Tom Devine, in the early minutes of the second period, scored on a close in shot, with Milt Johnson getting the assist on the play. On a breakaway play, Paulsen and Bob Bell came in on goalie Leo Fettig, and with the Grand Forks goalie on the ice, Bell, from near the goal crease, lifted the puck over the net.

At 16:34 Tony Dorn, after a rush down the center of the ice, smashed a shot at the Grand Forks goal, and Fettig failed to get his pads on the shot, giving the locals their second tally. With Grand Forks short-handed, Cliff Purpur eluded the Thieves' defense and then gave Milt Johnson a pass in front of the locals goal, and the "Prince" scored the Amerks fourth goal.

Wendy Feist's backhand shot at 8:06 of the third period moved the score to 5 to 2 for Grand Forks. A Thieves' goal by Babe Paulsen and a Grand Forks tally by Devine ended the game's scoring.

GREEN WAVE FROM E. G. FORKS WINS DISTRICT 31 TITLE

Whips Prowler Quint 46-33 Here Saturday in Championship Tilt

The East Grand Forks Green Wave, exhibiting fine tournament poise and revealing expert ballhandling ability, won the 31st district high school basketball championship by defeating the local Prowlers, 46 to 33, in the tourney's final game here Saturday night.

East Grand Forks will represent the 31st district in the eighth regional tournament that opens here on Friday night, and as their first round opponent the Green Wave will meet coach Dick Seebach's Fosston Greyhounds, the 30th district's winners. In a district consolation game played on Saturday afternoon, the Crookston Pirates trounced the Climax Vikings, 53 to 20.

In Saturday night's championship, East Grand Forks, shooting at the west basket, gained a 6 to 0 lead in the opening three minutes of play when Dale Wavra, Stan Johnston, and Jerry Keller popped in field goals. Marlow Davidson's left-handed shot put the Prowlers in the scoring column at the four minute mark. Keller added a Green Wave free throw, and Davidson converted a Prowler point on Earl Gangeness' foul. Rog Wilcox, who was high scorer for the Green Wave, notched his first field goal on a one-handed loft. Davidson drove in for a field goal. Wavra's second field goal of the period gave East Grand Forks a 11 to 5 lead as the quarter ended.

Five Prowler points, scored on free throws by Marlo Davidson, Wally Grovum, and Palmer Ronholm, carried the locals to within a point of the Green Wave in the opening minutes of the second period. Wilcox hit with a one-handed toss from the left for East Grand; but Harley Wagner, on a try from the lane, scored a Prowler field goal. Keller's one-handed loft from the corner was good. Ronholm scored a Prowler field goal to again pare the Green Wave lead to a point. After a bit of neat team-play, Wilcox scored on a set-up shot. Johnston added an East Grand Forks point, and when Wilcox lifted a field goal into the basket from close in, coach Sullivan's team held a 20 to 44 lead.

An unfortunate incident occurred midway in the second period when, after a foul had been called on an East Grand Forks player and as the players were walking towards the east end of the court, a disgruntled fan tossed a soft drink bottle on the floor. The bottle, thrown from a considerable distance, narrowly missed hitting the referee, and as it ricocheted off the floor it landed among the high high school students seated on the south side of court, hitting a young girl on the side of the face. The authorities hustled the offender out of the gymnasium.

The Green Wave, continuing to employ their "weaving" offense, and taking advantage of the tenseness of the Prowler players, pulled away to a 32 to 22 lead in the third period. Harley Wagner, who was spectacular on his jump shots, kept the Prowlers in the game by scoring three field goals in the period.

The final period found the play of both teams a bit erratic. The locals lost Al Williamson and Palmer Ronholm on personal fouls, while the Green Wave lost Dale Wavra via the personal foul route. Jerry Keller, who was a spearhead of the Green Wave attack during the entire tournament, scored three field goals and a free throw to lead the East Grand Forks scorers in the final quarter. Scoring for the Prowlers in the final period were Davidson, with a pair of field goals, Wagner and Williamson with field goals, and a field goal and free throw by Len Hurst.

Four Teams Picked for Region 8 Meet to Open Here Friday

The local high school gymnasium will be the focal point for northwestern Minnesota's high school basketball fans on Friday and Saturday when the 23rd annual eighth regional basketball tournament will be in progress. On Friday night, at 7:30 P.M. Coach Mike Lagather's Bemidji Lumberjacks, the 29th district champions and the region's defending titleholders, will meet Ron Darling's Baudette team, the 32nd district winners.

At 8:45 p. m. the Fosston Greyhounds, the 30th district champions and coached by Dick Seebach, will meet Harold Sullivan's East Grand Forks Green Wave, the 31st district champions. On Saturday night at 7:30 p. m. the consolation game will be played between the losers of the first round games, and at 8:45 p. m. the regional championship game will be played.

Bemidji, East Grand Forks, and Fosston have participated in previous regional tourneys, but Baudette will be making its first bow on Friday night. Baudette defeated Roseau last Friday to win the 32nd district title.

Clarence Omacht of Dilworth and Earl Hoffman of Grand Forks have been engaged as the referees for the tournament. Tournament manager W. G. Claffy announced that ticket sales will be on a "first come, first served" basis, with two ticket sales booths in operation.

HALLOCK DEFEATS THIEVES 8 TO 6 IN EXHIBITION GAME

Local Sextet Holds 3 to 2 Advantage at End of First Period

In an exhibition hockey game here Sunday afternoon, the Hallock Legionnaires, with Louis LaRocque and Al Ayotte scoring a pair of goals apiece, defeated the Thieves, 8 to 6. Bob Baker made his first appearance in the Thieves' lineup since his return from the Olympic hockey games, and Bob, playing wing with Lloyd Johnson and "Mouse" Efteland, scored an unassisted goal when he punched a loose puck into the north goal at the 6:07 mark of the third period.

The Thieves appeared to be on the way to a win over the Legionnaires for the locals, on goals by Bud Brossoit, Bill Zippel, and Jim Doyle, held a 3 to 2 first period advantage. But in the second period Al Ayotte and Earl Glidden connected for Hallock scores, and the Legionnaires took the lead, and they held that margin throughout the final twenty minutes of hockey.

In the high-scoring third period, Ayotte, Leo Schulte, Leo Schulte and Hal Younggren scored Hallock goals, while Baker and Paulsen accounted for the Thieves scoring, with Paulsen getting a pair of goals.

Keeping Score

... With BUCK OLSON

All-District Team

Opinion is quite unanimous that East Grand Forks' Jerry Keller, the Prowlers Marlow Davidson, and the Climax Vikings' Jerry Jevning, were the ablest players in the district basketball tournament concluded here Saturday night. Jevning, a rangy forward, led the tournament scorers with 52 points, and while he was a bit erratic with his overhead hook shots, he was deadly with his one-handed push shot from around the free-throw circle. Davidson and Keller, captains of their respective teams, were the spearheads of the offensive play of the Prowlers and the Green Wave, and in addition to directing the play they were potent point-getters, with Davidson scoring 33 points and Keller marking up 44 points.

In naming the two other players to join Jevning, Davidson, and Keller on the mythical all-district team, considerable argument and discussion will be generated. And among the players to be considered are Don Drake and Jim Anderson of Crookston, Harley Wagner of the Prowlers, Dale Wavra, Earl Gangness, and Roger Wilcox of East Grand Forks, and Dennis Ranstrom of Warren. Everyone of these players has ardent supporters, but on their play in the tourney, center Harley Wagner and forward Roger Wilcox performed in such a manner that they provided the strongest claims to all-district honors.

Wilcox became a sharper scorer as the tourney progressed, for in the first-round game against Alvarado he scored but three field goals, and he boosted his scoring against Climax in the semi-finals by scoring five field goals, and in the finals against the Prowlers he came in with seven field goals and a pair of free throws. He earned an all-district spot.

Harley Wagner earned the center position by outplaying Crookston's Don Drake and East Grand Forks' Earl Gangeness in actual competition. Crookston's Drake was the tourney's second high scorer, but against the Prowlers, and largely by the alert defensive work of Wagner, the lanky Pirate could score but three field goals. And in the finals, Wagner held the Green Wave center, Earl Gangeness, to a lone free throw.

So the all-district team would lineup as follows: forwards, Jerry Jevning of Climax and Roger Wilcox of East Grand Forks; center, Harley Wagner of Thief River Falls; and guard, Jerry Keller of East Grand Forks and Marlow Davidson of the Prowlers.

Big Bemidji

On Friday night at 7:30 p. m. the Bemidji Lumberjacks will open the defense of their eighth regional basketball title by meeting Baudette in the opening game of the regional tourney, which is being held on the local high school court. In forwards Chuck Grover and Dick Knutson, center Wes Sabourin, and guards Chuck Aakhus and Dick Calhoun, the Jacks have a powerful and high-scoring lineup, and on its record coach Mike Lagather's team is rated as a top-heavy favorite to win the regional again. Bemidji, to date, has scored twenty-three wins against three losses, and included in that list of victories is a 43 to 39 triumph over Crosby-Ironton, the Central Eight winner, last week, and a 68 to 43 win over Park Rapids in the district 29 finals.

In meeting Baudette in a first round game, Bemidji will be up against a "dark house" entry, for coach Ron Darling's northerners have a twenty-three game winning streak and they are reputed to have the all-round game that will provide the Lumberjacks with plenty of competition. Except for Malt Gunderson, who is six feet, two inches in height, the Baudette team does not possess any players over six feet in height, and that lack will perhaps be a factor in deciding the outcome of the game. Bemidji, with Chuck Grover and Wes Sabourin, both of whom are six feet, two inches tall, will have the advantage under the offensive basket.

And Fosston and East Grand Forks, the other teams in the tourney, aren't ready to award the regional title to Bemidji without a contest, so if the Jacks get by Baudette in the opening round game they'll find the Greyhounds or the Green Wave primed for the finals game on Saturday night. Coach Dick Seebach will bring his Fosston team here this afternoon for a workout on the high school floor.

Good News for North Dakota

According to their present plans, Bob Baker and Bud Brossoit, local hockey players, will enroll at North Dakota University next fall. That should be good news to Sioux hockey coach Don Norman, for Baker, just recently returned from participation in the winter Olympic games, and Brossoit, will make fine additions to the North Dakota hockey squad.

It's too bad, though, that Minnesota and Coach Doc Romnes doesn't get more of these northwestern Minnesota hockey players. If Minnesota had Baker, Brossoit, Paul and Dan McKinnon, Jimmy Medved, Johnny Noah, Gordy Christian, Max Oshie, Swede Lund, and a few others, the Gophers would win the Big Nine championship.

Jerome Jevning, Climax Cager, Leads Scoring in District Tournament

The Climax Vikings' junior forward, Jerome Jevning, was the 31st district's high scorer during the tournament that was concluded here Saturday night. Jevning scored 19 points in the Vikings first-round contest of Red Lake Falls, added 19 points in the semi-final game against East Grand Forks, and totaled 14 points in the consolation game against Crookston on Saturday afternoon.

Crookston's towering center, Don Drake, made good use of his foot, five inch height to score 47 points. Drake hit for seven field goals against Warren, and eight field goals and six free throws against Climax in the consolation game, but was held to but three field goals and three free throws in the Thief River Falls game. East Grand Forks' co-captain, Jerry Keller, played consistent basketball throughout the tourney, and came up with 44 points in the Green Wave's three games.

The tournament's ten leading scorers:

POLITICAL ROUNDUP

By Arthur Naftalin

The 1948 Minnesota Senatorial race may be a three-cornered contest. Word is circulating that, if Mayor Hubert H. Humphrey of Minneapolis is the Democratic-Farmer-Labor opponent to Republican incumbent Joseph H. Ball, the anti-Humphrey "left wing" faction will file an independent candidate. Such a move would mean, of course, a lineup similar to the three-way Presidential contest with the third candidate doing on a state level what Henry Wallace does nationally.

At this point, the Senatorial picture is beset with all manner of uncertainties. Harold Stassen continues to withhold his blessing from Ball, and State Auditor Stafford King has indicated he may oppose Ball in the Republican primary. Humphrey has not declared his candidacy, and has even indicated he may abandon the race entirely, but he is still regarded as a likely candidate. There is even a possibility that the DFL primary will present an out-and-out "left v. 'right" wing fight in the form of two slates of candidates.

There is continued speculation that Stassen himself may seek the Senatorial seat should he fail to get either the Republican Presidential or Vice Presidential nominations. The time schedule in this regard is favorable to such strategy. Filings in the state open June 16, and one week later comes the national GOP convention. Stassen would have until August 16 to file against Ball. In the case of independent candidates, they will have until October 2 to file by petition.

Both Ball and Humphrey are having their difficulties within their respective political families. Ball's views on curtailing the Marshall Plan drew a surprising editorial rebuke from The Minneapolis Tribune which likened him to Adullam who, in Biblical days, gathered about him the discontents. Senator Arthur Vandenberg also assailed Ball's views with respect to setting up a new international agency. Humphrey, meanwhile, is drawing fire from some elements in organized labor because of his support for the new charter for Minneapolis and also because of his refusal to appoint a labor-endorsed candidate to a vacancy on the Hennepin County Board of Commissioners.

Should the DFL state convention be controlled by the anti-Humphrey "left wing," the Minneapolis Mayor may select the independent route to get his candidacy before the people. Control of the DFL by the "left wing" would virtually necessitate the creation of a third party in order to have a group of electors for the Democratic Presidential condidate. Thus, events of the next few months could conceivably precipitate the revival of a three-party situation in the state.

In the talk about a "left wing" opponent to Humphrey, discussion centers about either Theodore Jorgenson of Northfield, who was the DFL candidate in 1946 against Thye, or former Governor Elmer A. Benson. Jorgenson has not been particularly active in recent weeks, but Benson has a lively dislike for Humphrey and is figured as the strongest condidate the "left wing" could enter against him.

Henry Wallace's visit to Minnesota stimulated much enthusiasm among his followers, and they are now talking confidently about winning control of the DFL party, despite the overwhelming manner in which they were repudiated by the Party's state central committee. Although the Wallace forces can expect to command something less than 10 per cent of the vote at the polls, compared with 40 per cent for the Truman forces, the Wallace leadership in the state is much better organized and financed and reports great gains in their organizational activities.

SMILEY

It is really a matter of weeks, folks—not months, not even years that we will be on the "look-out" for those first harbingers of spring—crows and robins. That wonderful springtime! At the same time it will be quite a shame to have all the lovely fresh white snow disappear too soon. It is like a comfortable old shoe—we've had it so long.

Parties

The Andrew Kisch's and the Archie Andersons had a dandy whist party at the Kisch home Sunday afternoon. There were six tables at play. High prizes were won by Emil Larson and Mrs. Bill Grundhaus. The "lows" were gratefully received by Bill Startron and Mrs. John Burtness. A social time was also enjoyed before a very sumptuous feast was served by Mrs. Kisch and Mrs. Anderson. The "young-fry" enjoyed themselves tobogganing on the river banks. Everyone had a swell time. The guests were the John Burtness', Emil Larson's Gust Hallberg's, Mark Olson's, Bill Grundhaus', Jim McCrum's, Art Hedlund's, Thomas Fixter's, Ted Boese's, Lyzum Cota's, Clara Olson, Sam Hetland's and Bill Startron.

The high winners were Art Hedlund and Lyzum Cota for the men, Mrs. John Burtness and Mrs. Kenneth Keuhn for the women. The low scorers were Archie Anderson and John Burtness for the men, Mrs. Lyzum Cota and Mrs. Archie Anderson for the women. A lovely lunch was served by Mrs. Hallberg and Mrs. Hedlund to the following guests: John Burtness', Andrew Kisch's, Archie Anderson's, Lyzum Cota's, Kenneth Keuhn's, Thomas Fixter, the Hallberg's and Art Hedlund's.

Meisterette Garden Club

Every member was present at a wonderful meeting Wednesday afternoon at the Archie Anderson home. It was such fun. Roll call was answered by brief summaries of flowers that began with each members' first name initials. A contest, provided by the hostess, Lillian Anderson, was a quick tabulation of short words in the name of St. Patrick. This was won by Evelyn Cota and the booby prize was given to Olga Ranum. The county agent, Frank Hobbs, was there with a still movie of flowers and shrub arrangement around the homes. Mighty interesting. Both Leah Burtness, president and Mr. Hobbs discussed with the members the forthcoming Home Demonstration projects. The leaders from this group will be Christine Hallberg and Hannah Kisch. At the conclusion of the meeting, a wonderful gesture by these grand women was a presentation of beautiful handkerchiefs, cards and two boxes of candy to Mrs. O. N. Olson a charter member of the club to commemorate her birthday anniversary. Mrs. Olson was not able to be there that afternoon so the presentation was made to her daughter, Vivian McCrum, who thanked them all for her mother in absentee. Such a feast there was served by Lillian Anderson. She topped the business of eating by having a lovely birthday cake for Mrs. Olson and homemade ice cream. Nice that! The next meeting will be at the home of Marceline Grundhaus, March 31st. The main feature will be "slip" exchange of favorite flowers. By the way, the swell quilt the women completed was presented to the Louis Lokken family last week. Mr. Lokken gratefully acknowledged that nice warm gift.

Mr. and Mrs. George Erickson of Thief River Falls were Wednesday evening callers at the home of her sister, the Norman Johnson's.

They will also visit at the homes of the Norman Johnson's and George Erickson's.

Mrs. Lyzum Cota spent the day Tuesday with her friend, Mrs. Lester Rock in Thief River Falls.

The Adam Lendobeja's spent Sunday in Steiner at the Steve Jeanette home. The occasion was a family gathering to celebrate Mr. Jeanette's and the Johnson twins, Larry's and Lee's birthdays. 4-H Quips

Despite the weather, the sleigh ride Saturday night of the Smiley 4-H gang turned out pretty good. The kids had a good time and everyone there ended up at the Adam Lendobeja home for a good hot lunch. Games and a social time were enjoyed.

The program committee consists of Phyllis Belswenger, Betty Matzke, and Bruce McCrum. Recreation committee is Lola and Lila Hanson and Jerald Nelson. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Carl Belswenger and Mrs. Norton Nelson.

TAKING THINGS AS THEY'RE FOUND

Last July a bee stung P. A. Friesen on the forehead while he was raking hay on his Amiret farm. Mr. Friesen slapped at the insect and knocked off his glasses. Seven months later young son Bob found the glasses in the straw in a horse stall. Unharmed. Peter Ganiswyk bought a tractor from WAA to use on his farm near Welcome. After putting $1,750 on the barrelhead he learned that the machine is in Hawaii. He's patiently awaiting delivery.

Ben's Bride Gets Chickenhearted

Ben Ryder was mighty proud of his young bride when she offered to care for his new flock of baby chicks. "Just like a mother with her brood," he boasts.

Then came market time for fryers—and the crisis! Sue simply wouldn't let Ben near her chickens with an axe. She'd raised them as babes . . . she'd named them . . . they were her very own!

Ben poured himself a glass of beer, to think things over sensibly. He hated to lose the price on fryers . . . but he figured Sue had put up with his peculiarities, he guessed he could put up with her fondness for the chickens.

So now Ben has the nicest brood of laying hens in town, and from where I sit, one of the most successful marriages, too. All because he "lived-and-let-live"—literally. And whenever he wants fried chicken, he takes his bride over to Andy's Garden Tavern for a crisp wing and a glass of beer.

Cadillac PRESENTS THE New STANDARD OF THE WORLD!

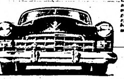
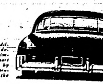
White Sidewall Tires available at additional cost.

Today, the world has a new standard by which to measure motor cars. For Cadillac has taken a great stride forward—one of the greatest, perhaps, in its entire history of automotive pioneering. As is always the case when a new Cadillac is introduced, the advancement embraces every phase of automotive goodness. The exterior appearance is wholly new, and represents the soundest principles developed in years of research. Interior design and finish are a complete departure, and add immeasurably to comfort, beauty and convenience. Performance is finer in every way, for the great Cadillac chassis and engine have been thoroughly refined. And vital improvements in factory equipment have raised even Cadillac's high standards of manufacturing. In fact, all the attributes which have contributed to Cadillac's reputation as the world's premier motor car have been made more pronounced. Regardless of the price class from which you expect to select your next car, you are cordially invited to view the new Cadillac—now on display in our showrooms. When the standard of the automotive world has been so decidedly raised, it should be of interest to everyone.



Cadillac's basic characteristics of design are fully apparent in the front view of the 1948 model. Bumper and grille are even more massive. The symbolic V ornament and crest have been pleasingly refined to harmonize with new, low hood lines.



Viewed from the rear, the 1948 Cadillac shows a complete departure in design. The full-width rear window improves appearance and safety. Smart "rudder-type" fenders, protected by sturdy bumper uprights, give an appropriate touch of fleetness. Note the wide, low rear deck.

In the story Jerry Andrews, played by Goldie Hebedank, spends her time helping her father, professor Andrews, Ray Byklum, an astronomer. When she hears that Dick Mallon, Ronald Bucholz, big league ball player is in town, she realizes her mistake in putting her career ahead of marriage with Dick. "Kid" sister Donna, Alvina Askeland, sets out to right the wrong. A little note starts everything. Nothing, not even the arrival of Dick's fiancee, Joan Mayberry, Eileen Sund, Hollywood star, stops Donna, who with the help of her friend Beth Robinson, Joyce Kulseth, and the reluctant help of her brother Bill, Lloyd Wiseth, manages to get everyone involved.

Bill gets into seemingly hopeless situations, while Andrew is typically absent-minded. Grumbling and indifferent is the maid Isabella, Lorna Salveson. Joe Allcot is played by Wallace Payne.

Mrs. Nonte Jarvi, English instructor is the director.

Wiseth's field goal in the last few seconds of play enabled the seniors to sink next year's prospects 21 to 20 in the second game of a benefit sports program at the high school.

"Slugger" Iverson and "Battling" Stromlund staged a three round boxing bout officiated by Nonte Jarvi. Referee of the boys game was Lynn Josephson, while Wiseth and Thompson officiated for the weaker sex.

A total of $22.50 was raised.

FOUR RECEPTION CENTERS OPENED UNDER YOUTH ACT

Offenders Under 21 Will Be Studied to Aid in Rehabilitation

After months of careful preparation, Minnesota's new Youth Conservation Commission completed plans this week for the opening of four reception centers for the study of youthful offenders and announced the centers are ready to receive the first boys and girls to be handled through a new Youth Conservation program authorized by the last legislature, placing chief emphasis on rehabilitation.

Boys and girls under 21 who have been found guilty of crime or adjudged delinquent will be committed to the Youth Conservation Commission by district, probate and juvenile court judges under the new program and the commission, after careful, scientific study of each child, will determine the course of treatment best suited to restore the child to normal attitudes. The program, strongly urged by Governor Luther W. Youngdahl, is expected to improve materially the opportunities for rehabilitation open to boys and girls who get into difficulties.

A. Whittier Day, chairman of the Youth Conservation Commission, filed a certificate with Mike Holm, secretary of state, this week, indicating that the Commission now is ready to perform the duties imposed on it by the Minnesota Legislature in treatment of youthful offenders and letters were to be sent to all district, probate and juvenile court judges informing them the Commission is ready to receive person they commit.

Reception centers for handling cases under the new program are being opened at Red Wing, Sauk Centre, St. Cloud and Shakopee in connection with the state correctional institutions in those cities in order to avoid the expense that would be incurred by establishing new facilities. Arrangements have been made, however, that the youth committed to the Commission under the new program shall be housed in separate quarters during the period in the reception centers and have no contact with persons in these institutions.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By Senator Joseph H. Ball

The one big issue raised in the first week of Senate debate on the European Recovery Program, surprising to its sponsors, was not the amount of aid or conditions on the grants, but rather the much more fundamental one of whether any economic recovery and stability is possible in Western Europe until some form of collective security against Russian communist aggression is developed.

The grim parallel between what has happened in Europe in the past two years and what happened in 1937-38 and 1939 is too close to be longer ignored. In the 1930's it was Austria, Hungary and finally Czecho-Slovakia that were gobbled up and their fredom obliterated by the ruthless march of Nazi aggression based on force. In the 1940's it was Poland, the Balkan states an Czecho-Slovakia that were dragged successively behind the Iron Curtain and their freedoms blotted out by the ruthless march of Russian communist aggression based again on naked force.

ERP is presented as a recovery program, as opposed to the dole which our twelve billion of grants and loans to the sixteen European countries have been for the past two years. But how can there be any hope of recovery with no solution in sight or even proposed for the relentless tide of Russian communist aggression. Our State Department already has given up Finland. Austria may be next, or Norway and Sweden, which will be within reach of the Russian Bear once Finland is taken over, may find the pressure on them.

Real recovery requires that people have some confidence in the future. Otherwise why invest their savings and their labor in projects which cannot produce for one, two or three years. But how can they have such confidence in the face of the events of the past year. It is a little like asking a man to build a new factory on the side of a volcano that is erupting smoke and ashes, with the lava flow moving relentlessly down the slopes toward his factory site.

The nations of Europe are being swallowed up one at a time. And that is a real and urgent menace to all free peoples in the world, including ourselves. That is the only justification of ERP. But how can ERP hope to succeed until this problem of security against aggression has been faced and some solution at least proposed? That is the issue brought out in the first week of ERP debate.

We had hoped the United Nations would provide the collective security needed so badly, but Russia's use of the veto in the Security Council has stymied any action, even the writing of an agreement for making military forces available to the council. It has been clear for more than a year that some other means of collective security must be found. Yet the United States has exercised no leadership on the problem. We are drifting from one crisis to another, with no policy that we know about, and with the rocks nearer each time.

To meet that issue and at least offer some hope to Western Europe, I and some of my colleagues have proposed an amendment to ERP to direct the President to seek immediately to negotiate with whatever UN members will join, an agreement for a veto-less Supreme Council, which would have authority to meet these threats to the freedom and independence of signatories of the agreement by calling for collective action to stop the aggression, by the use of force if necessary.

Contrary to the impression in news reports, Senator Vandenberg did not disagree with the premise of the amendment. He did object to injecting such a specific proposal into the ERP consideration, and himself suggested several alternative approaches. The argument against too specific a proposal undoubtedly has merit. But to pass ERP without making some kind of beginning toward solving this security problem is to dodge what is clearly the paramount issue, namely, that Russian communist aggression is succeeding, not because of economic distress in countries taken over because that was minor, but through its ruthless use of power.

"BAA BAA— FOUR BLACK SHEEP"

Northfield.—Black sheep are not exactly a novelty on the Clyde Drentlaw farm, four sooty lambs having put in their appearance among the Drentlaw flocks in the last two years. But it did create a stir when the last two recently arrived as twins.

An egg produced by an Austra White hen on the M. F. Weaver farm is on display in Park Rapids, measuring 6¾ by 8¾ inches and weighing four and one-sixth ounces. At Grand Rapids, Nick Erkeneff, already noted for consistently large mangels (species of coarse beet used for feed), has a three-year old lemon tree which did itself proud with a pound and a half fruit at the first bearing.

Local Army Recruiter Offers Four-way Choice of Services with Army

The U. S. Army today offers four special enlistment opportunities to veterans of any of the armed services, according to M/Sgt. F. R. Skinner, local recruiting Sgt.

1. Former servicemen with overseas experience can enlist directly in one of eight army units now stationed in the United States, and be guaranteed three years of service with that unit. Veterans who join these units, Sgt. Skinner said, will help build up the defensive strength of the army, and will help train new recruits.

2. Veterans without overseas service can enlist directly for service in the European theatre, or can choose any one of five famed divisions now stationed in Japan or Korea.

3. Because this army is an army of technicians, men with technical experience can enlist in a non-commissioned grade based upon their former specialty, length of service and the grade acquired. More than 200 different skills are employed by the army.

4. Veterans who are high school graduates or who can pass an equivalent examination, may choose their own type of training and work in the army. Prior to enlisting, they can select any one of the 60 or more schools teaching courses and then be guaranteed assignment to one of the schools teaching these courses. For further information contact Sgt. Skinner at the Auditorium in Thief River Falls.

Department store sales in the Upper Midwest during 1947 were 284% of the average from 1935 to 1939.

PLAN CENTENNIAL PAGEANT IN STATE PARKS NEXT YEAR

Statewide Committee Plans for Presentation in Middle River Park

Pageantry will be a major vehicle in observing Minnesota's 100th birthday in 1949, officials planning the Territorial Centennial said this week.

Plans are being made to stage from five to ten pageants in some of the state parks. Those being considered are Middle River, Itasca, Jay Cooke, Father Hennepin, Sibley, Camden, Fort Ridgely, and Whitewater.

Directing Centennial pageantry will be Harold Searls of St. Paul, former head of the Keep Minnesota Green Committee.

"Pageantry is the best medium through which important state historical events can be impressed on the minds of Minnesotans," the Centennial committee stated. "Actual re-enactment of events, using authentic costumes and stage properties, music of the time, and an understandable human story, will have a lasting effect on persons, young and old who participate in staging the productions or numbered among the spectators."

Committee members said the pageantry division also will aid community and school groups in production of local pageants by helping with the preparation of scenarios, by giving suggestions on how to produce a pageant, including organization, committees, and direction; and by holding short courses for local pageant directors in several sections of the state.

Communities wishing to take advantage of pageant aids offered by the Centennial committee should send requests to the Centennial office, State Historical Building, St. Paul 1, Minn.

STATE CITIZENS GET 23 MILLION DEATH BENEFITS

Life Insurance Group Reports on Payments Made in State in 1947

Minnesota families received $23,603,000 in life insurance death benefit payments during 1947, compared with $22,414,000 in the previous year and $22,192,000 in 1945, the Institute of Life Insurance reported today.

"The death benefit payments in this state last year were made under 13,627 policies, compared with 13,277 policies in the previous year and 14,575 policies in 1945," the Institute reported. "Of the aggregate 1947 payments in the state, $18,311,000 was under 6,718 ordinary policies; $4,007,000 was under 2,132 group life insurance policies; and $1,285,00 was under 4,777 industrial insurance policies. These payments helped keep families together, provide educational funds, pay off mortgages, provide retirement income or stabilize business organizations in all parts of the state."

The national total of death benefits paid last year was $1,339,300,000 which compares with $1,280,262,000 in 1946 and $1,279,667,000 in 1945.

"The death benefits nationally were the greatest on record," the Institute continued. "This was in spite of the lowest death-rate among policyholders ever experienced. The greatly increased volume of life insurance owned accounted for the greater benefit payments. Death benefits last year were 33% greater than in pre-war 1941, and the total amount of life insurance in force was 53% greater."

Treating Seed Flax Adds Materially to Yields, Iowa Tests Indicate

Seed treatment, costing five to seven cents per acre, may increase flax yields as much as ten bushels per acre. This was demonstrated last summer by Dr. Charles S. Reddy of Iowa State College in tests of six flax varieties grown in three district areas in Iowa.

Minerva, a new yellow seeded variety developed in Minnesota, benefited most from treatment. Average increase for the six varieties in all locations was more than six bushels per acre.

Even though flaxseed may appear perfect to the naked eye, examination under a microscope will often reveal many tiny cracks through which various molds and disease organisms may enter. If properly treated, these injured seeds are able to germinate and produce strong, healthy seedlings. If not, many will rot in the ground.

Either New Improved Ceresan or Ceresan M, at the rate of 1½ oz. per bushel of seed, is the recommended treatment for a flax. In order to be fully effective, it should be applied fully two days before sowing. Many farmers will find it convenient to treat their seed during the winter months and store it until planting time. No benefit will result if treating is done just before putting it in the drill box.

Home Builders Show in Minneapolis Mar. 13-21

More than 100,000 persons, an all-time record, are expected to attend the 14th Annual Builders, Home Beautiful and Garden Show which opens Saturday, March 13, and continues until March 21 at the Minneapolis Auditorium, Harry H. Cory, show manager, has announced.

The two floors of the spacious auditorium will be crammed with the newest gadgets for better living, Cory said. More than 100 nationally advertised products in 55 different lines will be on display.

A model prefabricated cottage has been erected on the lower level in the center of a setting of spring garden flowers. There will be model kitchens, home furnishings, building supplies, electrical appliances and radios including television and FM sets. Architects and banks will give advice and discuss planning with prospective home owners.

Sh…ld Coordinate Re…eation in City, Discussion Reveals

Thief River Falls is liberally supplied with recreational facilities of various kinds, but activities are not properly coordinated to make the best possible use of them, is the conclusion to be drawn from a round-table discussion on recreation at a meeting of the Lincoln high school Parent-Teacher association Monday evening.

Robert J. Lund served as moderator, other participants being Bill LaFave, Norman Peterson, Harold Paulsen, W. E. Dahlquist, Roy J. Oen and Harold Stanbridge.

Local facilities reviewed in the discussion included the city parks, swimming pool, golf course, the arena and outdoor skating rinks, Lincoln high school gymnasium and the fair grounds.

Among proposals made for improving present facilities were the acquisition of Squaw Point as a site for large picnics, more playgrounds on the outskirts of the growing east side, an indoor swimming pool, more attention to the outdoor skating rinks and provision for warming houses, and development of the fair grounds to provide facilities for baseball, diamondball and football.

Admitting that the problem of developing the program is largely a financial one, the discussion brought out the advisability of appointing a full-time director to work under the supervision of the city recreation board.

Miss Ruth Beddie, area Girl Scout director, also spoke briefly, telling of ways in which adults can assist in the work. She stated that there now are 1,250 Girl Scouts in the nine counties included in this area.

Mrs. N. A. Nelson, president of the PTA unit, had charge of the program, which also included two selections by the high school boys octet. Lunch was served at the close of the evening.

COUNCIL GIVES CITY EMPLOYES PAY INCREASE

Also Takes Action Last Night on Several Other Important Projects

The city council at a busy adjourned session Wednesday night took action on several important matters.

Following a recent conference on cost-of-living salary adjustments for city employes, the council voted a straight $15 per month increase for virtually all persons on the city payroll, retroactive to January 1. The schedule was put into effect on a temporary basis, with the understanding that city employe classifications would be revised by June 1.

After considering two bids on the work of installing the feeder water main system on East Third st. in connection with the projected state paving project, the council awarded the contract to the Nodland-Eby company of Starbuck on its low bid of $34,853.50. The other bid was in the amount of $39,594.40.

A resolution was adopted calling for bids on $250,000 serial bonds to finance the purchase of the 2,800-horsepower Diesel unit to be delivered in June. The bonds, which were authorized at a special city election in 1947, will mature at the rate of $25,000 a year after the third year.

Action also was taken to call for bids on installation of a storm sewer, water mains and service connections relating to the paving project to get under way this summer. Bids will be opened April 5, and the official notice appears elsewhere in this issue of The Times.

With the trunk highways passing thru the city to be surfaced this summer, the council discussed the advisability of resurfacing 13 blocks of paving off the trunk routes at the same time. City Engineer Douglas Stewart was instructed to prepare plans and specifications preliminary to calling for bids.

Attention Leaders!! Will you please have your news items in at the Junior shop on Tuesday or call Mrs. Russell Olsen.

All the troops are busy assembling and preparing clothing kits for the needy children in Europe. Each kit shall contain a complete outfit for one child. It may be a layette for a baby, an outfit for a child of 1 to 3 years or for any child up to 14 years.

Each kit should contain at least one coat or jacket or snowsuit, one sweater, two sets of underwear, three pair of stockings, two dresses or shirts and pants, two sets of pajamas, pair of mittens and a warm cap.

The Girl Scouts will be happy to receive any gift of worn or outgrown clothing. They are especially in need of underwear and pajamas. Please call Mrs. V. D. Borry at 640 or Mrs. F. C. Meyer at 634 for contrbutions and they will have same picked up.

Karen King of troop 16 had her birthday at the troop meeting last week. A clothing kit was packed during the party.

On March 3, girl-scouts of troop 13 with Mrs. F. C. Priewert, leader and Mrs. Orlando Bishop, co-leader, enjoyed a very interesting talk on "Pet Dogs" given by Mrs. Harry Bragg, accompanied by her pet Boston Bull, Patrick Henry. Prior to Mrs. Bragg's retirement and establishing her home in this city, she taught 27 years in Washington, D. C. schools. The girls working on their "Cat and Dog" proficiency badge were especially benefited.

The treats for the day were furnished by girl scouts, Marlys Elofson and Nancy Millar. Entertainment was furnished by Shirley St. Martin and Barbara Bishop. The troop and their leaders wish to thank Mrs. Bragg for this talk.

The latter part of December, 1947, troop 13 and its leaders, discussed how to become better acquainted with people in our community during 1948. One of our suggested opinions was to extend an invitation to all the pastors of the girls in our troop to visit and meet the leaders and girls of our troop, as the troop is made up of various denominations.

On January 28, Father Leonard Weber of St. Bernard's church visited our troop and gave a very inspiring talk on "Good Fellowship" and "The High School Girl."

Rev. D. T. Beadle of the Community Methodist church visited our troop and gave an interesting discussion on "Where do you Live"?

Garden and flower lovers, would you like to help the Girl Scout garden and flower club with your unwanted cuttings, slips of plants, etc. This club will be a year old on May 17th. During our existance we have tried to send small bouquets of flowers to children in our local hospitals.

During the summer months we gathered our first spring flowers and flowering shrubs, but during the winter it has been very difficult due to our limited reserve force. We thought perhaps you flower lovers would help us build a good potted plant supply by giving us your cuttings and after due rooting period we can pot them and build a substantial reserve for our many service purposes. Call 1198. We will call for them. Attach name, culture and name of plant. Your name will be placed in our "Club Memory Book."

Girl Scout troop 22 led by Mrs. Fran Jung and Mrs. C. L. Williams will leave for Winnipeg next Tuesday.

As a final money-making project this troop will hold a rummage sale at Trinity church Saturday at one o'clock. Lunch and homemade candy will also be sold. 17r

NEW DRAFT ACT REQUESTED BY PRES. TRUMAN

President Accuses Russia of Trying to Sabotage World Peace

President Truman proclaimed this country "the principal protector of the free world" Wednesday and called for full military strength, backed by a new draft law, to give force to his declaration

Mr. Truman said "the very existence of democracy" is threatened by communist expansion. The time has come, he said, to "join our strength with the strength of other free men the world over" to stop it.

The president accused "one nation"—Russia—of trying to sabotage the peace and of seeking to spread totalitarian rule over the still-free democracies of western Europe.

These countries, the president said, we must support with our full strength—"military, economic and moral."

He said the situation in Europe is "critical" and he warned that the U. S., in the coming year, may have to take risks "greater than any this country has been called on to assume."

But he declared:

"We must be prepared to pay the price of peace or assuredly we shall pay the price of war."

The president's grim, far-reaching extension of his "Truman doctrine" came in two installments. He addressed a joint session of congress and then flew to New York to speak at a St. Patrick's day dinner.

He recommended to congress three "most urgent steps toward securing the peace and preventing war."

1. Quick adoption of the $5,300,000,000 European recovery program. Congress stepped up action on that right away.

The house foreign affairs committee accepted the $5,300,000,000 figure already approved by the senate. The program, commonly known as the Marshall plan, may become law by Easter.

2. Universal military training for all young men. Congress was divided on that, although there was some strong support for it, in the senate especially.

3. Selective service — to give the armed forces the men they need, presumably non-veterans up to the age of 26 or so, until UMT gets rolling. Many members of congress had their doubts. They asked for further proof that it is necessary.

THIEVES CAPTURE EXHIBITION TILT AT HALLOCK 7-6

Locals Win in Spite of Absence of Several Regulars from Lineup

The senior hockey Thieves, playing without several of their "regulars" in the lineup, surprised the Hallock Legionnaires in the exhibition game played on the Hallock rink on Thursday night, by defeating the Hallock sextet, 7 to 6.

With veteran Bob Bell handling the coaching reins in the absence of Connie Stanbridge, and with such stalwarts as Babe Paulsen, Bill Zippel, Tony Dorn, and Greek Swanson out of the lineup, the Thieves, with the Bob Baker-Mouse Efteland-Lloyd Johnson line and the second line of Bob Bell-Bud Brossoit-Swede Lund doing some effective backchecking, upset the Legionnaires.

The Legionnaires, in addition to the Letellier, Manitoba, players that played Hallock throughout the season, were bolstered by the presence of Cal Engelstad, the former University of Minnesota player and who had just returned to Hallock following service with the navy.

Bud Brossoit, with a pair of goals and an assist, and Swede Lund, with a goal and a pair of assists, led the Thieves' point-getters.

Bemidji's W. Sabourin Piles up 32 Points to Lead Region 8 Tourney

Bemidji's top-flight center, Wes Sabourin, scoring twenty points against Baudette in the Lumberjacks opening game, and counting twelve points against East Grand Forks in the finals, was the eighth regional tournament's high point man. Sabourin, a former Grafton, No. Dak. player and who transferred to Bemidji last fall, has been one of the Lumberjacks' high scorers all year. Second place in the individual scoring total for the regional tourney was Fosston's blond Dick Wynne. Wynne gathered but seven points in the Greyhounds first round game against East Grand Forks; but in the consolation game against Baudette, the Fosston captain was uncanny in his accuracy from the floor, getting nine field goals. In third place was East Grand Forks' all-round star, Jerry Keller. Keller, the spark plug of the Green Wave attack, and one of the finest players to perform in the tourney, tallied 25 points.

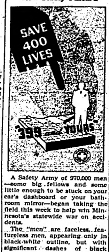
New Safety Placard



A Safety Army of 970,000 men—some big fellows and some little enough to be stuck on your car's dashboard or your bathroom mirror—began taking the field this week to help win Minnesota's statewide war on accidents.

The "men" are faceless, featureless men, appearing only in black-white outline, but with significant dashes of black where the necktie and pocket 'kerchief would be. They're an army of mounted men, mounted not on fiery steeds, but on 10,000 large posters and 960,000 stickers where they will serve as Sentries of Safety to focus year-around attention upon the concerted Minnesota drive to "Save 400 Lives in 1948—399 and YOURS!"

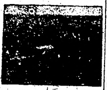
Feeding Molasses to Salt Grass for Cows



Good stuff, the salt grass, Herefords say after they've sampled it. Photo—Food Mach. Corp.

Salt grass which cattle ordinarily will not eat may be covered with a solution of one-third water and two-thirds molasses. Power spray may be used economically with a 20-foot width.

Cattle fatten on the molasses and water combined with the grass, produce bigger and tastier steaks. Other similar uses may be devised for use of power sprays to meet individual requirements.

GOODRIDGE SCHOOL TO PLAY BASEBALL

One Game Each Week Is Being Planned for May

Nonte Jarvi, Goodridge high school athletic coach, announces that in line with his "sports in season" policy, the Gold Sox will field a baseball team this spring. It marks the first time in more than ten years that the Goodridge high school will be represented on the baseball diamond, and while Coach Jarvi admits that the weather may be a hazard he hopes that the month of May will provide a schedule of a game each week.

Plummer and Oklee schools have signified their intention of organizing baseball teams, and there is a possibility that a three-town—Plummer, Goodridge, and Oklee—league will be formed, with games being arranged on a home-and-home basis.

Athletic coach Gust Rubash of Oklee is considering the introduction of softball competition for the junior high school grades. And the softball teams of the various schools would travel in conjunction with the senior high school baseball teams and participate in the "double-headers."

N. W. BELL CO. HAS BUSY YEAR IN 1947

Annual Report Tells of Construction Program

"New construction in 1947 was the greatest in the Northwestern Bell Telephone company's history" Russell J. Hopley, president, said today in commenting on the company's annual report just released. "The construction program for 1948 will be even greater," he added.

The company, which employs over 20,000 people and operates in Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota added over 100,000 telephone during the year, bringing the total to over 1,330,000. The investment in telephone plant passed the quarter billion mark in November and at the end of the year totaled $258,779,000, an increase of $32,410,000 or 14.3 per cent over the end of 1946.

Operating revenues were 10.6 per cent higher, but operating expenses increased 13.5 per cent and net income was down 12.9 per cent from that in 1946. As a result, the ratio of net operating income to average telephone was only 2.92 per cent, the lowest in the company's history.

This unfavorable earning ratio resulted even though some price adjustments had been obtained in keeping with the growing costs of furnishing service.

BETTER WE GET READY.

President Truman's address to Congress and to the world yesterday may prove to be a declaration of war. Historians may look upon it as the ultimatum that ended all hopes of settling world problems by peaceful means and precipitated the third and last great conflict. Such could be the results.

But it is also possible that this address may be the beginning of what finally proves to be a successful peace effort. It could be the start of a more frank, a more realistic and a more honest approach to the problems of peace, and a resulting understanding among nations that differences must be settled by peaceful means.

In this address President Truman spoke not as a politician but as a statesman. He spoke not as the leader of a political party but as the leader of a nation. In calling upon Congress to speed action on European relief, provide for universal military training and reenact selective service laws he recommended a three-point program that could not be popular and that would be adopted only as the necessity of a grave emergency.

The President's address gains strength by the fact that the program has general support among the leaders of both political parties of our country in a year when a national election tends to divide us into partisan groups. His address serves notice on Russia and on the world that our country has a foreign policy, that we recognize our responsibility for leadership and that we intend to oppose aggression with force.

And by serving notice on Russia and the rest of the world that as a nation we are united behind such a program we may be able to maintain peace without bloodshed. We know the consequences of appeasement. We know that we cannot find security in isolation. We know that until a responsible world organization is able to maintain peace we will have security only as we ourselves are strong. These things we have learned by sad experience.

That a state of emergency exists is generally admitted. War is a possibility and we must be prepared for that possibility. That means we will have to do some things again that we do not like to do. The probability is that the better we do the job of getting ready for war the less likely it is that we will have to fight. We will string along with the brothers who say we should be ready—and hope that those who say preparedness is a waste of time and money prove to be right.

Russia's announcement that Russia is disarming is a little too obvious as a piece of propaganda to be taken seriously. On the contrary it might with greater justification be accepted as a statement of the opposite of what the Russians actually are doing. Following their victories in Czechoslovakia and Finland it is natural that the boys in the Kremlin would like to give other neighbors assurance that they have nothing to fear, lest they band together in self defense. And that is exactly what the nations of Europe are doing, in spite of Stalin's assurances of his love for them. A hundred million Europeans, united in opposition to Russia and supported by all free nations throut the world, might convince Joe and his comrades that they have expanded far enough.

Oil industry production reports are becoming increasingly encouraging and stocks of gasoline in storage are now reported to be up to record levels. Another factor that is said to have helped materially in improving the prospect for ample gasoline supplies is the abundance of bad driving weather throut the country this winter. Being snow-bound isn't all too the bad.

By Sunday the sun will have crossed the equator again, or so it will appear, and Spring will be here officially. Presumably Old Sol has the same strength now that he had last September, but he has a lot of snow and ice to thaw in a hurry if he is going to complete his job on schedule and get the river open by the 10th of April.

A relative had come visiting, and during family conversation asked Henry, the eldest boy, his age.

"Thirteen," replied Henry, boastingly.

"No," interrupted the father, "you're only 12."

"So was I," replied Henry, smiling.

Doing His Bit

A certain conservation speaker, waxing wroth at the wasteful squandering of the nation's natural resources, belligerently challenged his listeners with: "I'll venture to say that not a man here ever lifted his finger to conserve timber."

"I have," piped up a little fellow in the front row.

"What have you done, my friend?" rejoined the slightly mollified speaker.

"Well," explained the little man, "I have used the same toothpick twice."

Money Solves Everything

"Yes," said Henderson, "for a while after our marriage we were nearly eaten out of house and home by visiting relatives and friends."

"How did you stop it?" asked a friend.

"It was quite simple," laughed Henderson. "I loaned money to the poor visitors and borrowed from the rich, and I haven't been troubled with a visit from either since."

BAUDETTE FIVE ELIMINATED BY BEMIDJI 58-27

East Grand Forks Wins Other First Round Tilt from Fosston 31 to 28

In the regional basketball tournament semi-finals games played Friday night, the defending champion Bemidji Lumberjacks trounced the Baudette Bears, 58 to 27, in the first game of the evening; and in the second game, the East Grand Forks Green Wave edged out the Fosston Greyhounds, 31 to 28.

The Bemidji Lumberjacks possessed too much tournament experience and all-round ability for the Baudette Bears in the first game. Wes Sabourin scored four field goals and a free throw for the Jacks in the first period, to spark coach Milt Lagather's team to a 16 to 7 lead. The Baudette Bears were very tense and taut in their play, being erratic in their passing and shooting.

Sabourin continued his scoring pace in the second period, eluding the Baudette defense to push three field goals into the net and adding a pair of points on free throws.

Bemidji held a 31 to 11 advantage at the intermission, and the Jacks boosted their margin to 49 to 17 at the end of the third period when coach Lagather sent his reserves into the game. Baudette, with Ralph Johnson, Ron Olson, and Emil Blasl scoring field goals, outpointed the Jacks 10 to 9, in the fourth quarter.

The second game of the evening found the East Grand Forks five turning in a three and a half minutes of "stalling" to protect a 29 to 28 lead, and then getting a field goal with less than ten seconds to play to gain a 31 to 28 win.

The Greyhounds, with their height advantage, held an early lead, but the Green Wave, with Jerry Keller popping in a pair of field goals and two free throws, gained a 9 to 9 tie at the end of the period.

Fosston, with lanky Al Hagen scoring on tip-ins and guard Dick Wynne hitting from the circle, moved ahead to hold a 17 to 14 lead at the intermission, and coach Dick Seebach's team seemed to be the winners.

Earl Gangeness, with a pair of field goals, and Dale Wavra's two-pointer, aided the Green Wave in overtaking the Greyhounds in the third period, with East Grand moving into a 23 to 21 lead as the two teams entered the final quarter.

In the fourth period, the lead alternated several times, with Keller and Gangeness doing the scoring for the Green Wave and Mittun and Glenn Whaley leading the Fosston scorers. With three minutes of play remaining, East Grand Forks began their "stalling" tactics, and the Green Wave controled the ball until the game-ending buzzer sounded ending the contest.

Bemidji Quint Wins Region Title from E. G. Forks 36 to 23

The powerful Bemidji Lumberjacks won the eighth regional high school basketball championship on Saturday night by defeating a gritty East Grand Forks team, 36 to 23, in the finals of the tournament played here on Friday and Saturday. The victory marked the second successive regional title fort he Jacks, for last year they defeated the Crookston Pirates in the finals.

This evening the Bemidji team will make their bow in the state high school tournament being played at the University of Minnesota field house, with the Lumberjacks meeting a favored Hutchinson team. In the regional consolation game played preceding the championship game Saturday night, the Fosston Greyhounds, on a field goal in the final seconds of play, defeated the Baudette Bears, 46 to 45.

In Saturday night's championship encounter, Bemidji, on three quick field goals, pulled away to a 6 to 0 lead and appeared on the road to a decisive win; but the East Grand Forks team, playing their usual ball-controlling game, utilizing a "figure eight" formation, scored a pair of field goals, by Keller and Gangeness, to trail by a 7 to 4 score at the end of the first quarter.

Coach Sullivan's East Grand Forks team played their best basketball in the second period, holding the Lumberjacks on even terms in the scoring column, and having possession of the ball the greater part of the period. The Lumberjacks, at one time during the period, appeared nettled by the East Grand Forks' play, for the Green Wave continued to "weave" in front of the Bemidji defense and there were occasions when, for minutes, that the Jacks were kept away from the ball.

In the second half, Bemidji's Chuck Grover and Wes Sabourin, who played starring roles for the winners, drove in for lay-up shots to push the Lumberjacks into the lead, but not until East Grand Forks, on a field goal by Keller and a pair of free throws, had tied the score at 14-all. Dick Knutson popped in a field goal, and Grover tallied with a one-handed shot from out on the court, and the Bemidji lead was 25 to 17 at the end of the third period.

Play in the final period became erratic when the Lumberjacks, with a "safe" lead, began a semi-stall and the East Grand Forks team, in attempting to recover the ball, committed numerous fouls. In the final minutes of play, Bemidji excerised the option of taking the ball out-of-bounds instead of shooting for a free point seven times. Earl Gangeness and Stan Johnston left the Green Wave lineup on personal fouls in the period.

For the regional champions, center Wes Sabourin, forward Chuck Grover, and guard Chuck Aakhus, were outstanding, with Sabourin, the former Grafton player, having twelve points for high scoring honors. For the losers, Jerry Keller played his usually fine game, directing the floor play for the Green Wave and scoring four field goals and a pair of free throws. Stan Johnston also played a strong game for the losers, being very effective in covering the rebounds.

Keeping Score

All-Regional Squad.

On the "unofficial" All-Regional basketball squad, which was selected following the Bemidji vs. East Grand Forks eighth regional finals game Saturday night, the following players were named: forwards, Chuck Grover of Bemidji, Malt Gunderson of Baudette, and Earl Gangeness of East Grand Forks; at center, Wes Sabourin of Bemidji; and at the guards, Jerry Keller of East Grand Forks, Dick Wynne of Fosston, and Chuck Aakhus of Bemidji.

Referee Earl Hoffman agreed that Grover, Sabourin, and Keller were the three standout players in the tourney, being consistent in their top-flight play. And Aakhus, too, was efficient in his play, and his steadiness and poise had considerable to do with Bemidji's success.

Baudette's Malt Gunderson earned an all-regional position even though he was held scoreless in the Bears first-round game against Bemidji. Gunderson, like the rest of the Baudette players, suffered from "tournament jitters" in that opening game and didn't do himself justice. But he revealed that he possessed plenty of shiftiness around the basket, and that he was adept at faking his defensive man out of position. Gunderson was able to feint Sabourin out of position a number of times, but the Baudette back court men weren't able to get the ball in to him, or when they did Gunderson would "tighten" his shot and miss the basket. In the consolation game against Fosston, and his all-round play early Gunderson scored fourteen points and his all-round play nearly brought the Bears a victory.

The sharpest basket shooting of the tournament was done by Fosston's blond Dick Wynne. The stocky guard was deadly from out on the court, particularly when he was given a few seconds to set up his shot. His nine filed goals, most of which were long, looping shots from out on the floor, was the factor that brought coach Dick Seebach's Greyhounds a 46 to 45 consolation win over Baudette. And if Fosston could have had Chuck Aakhus, the student that transferred to Bemidji, in their lineup, there's no telling how far the Greyhounds would have gone. By the way, Fosston will have Jim Mittun, Al Hagen, and Chuck Larson, all of whom are six feet, three inches tall, back next year.

And it doesn't come as good news to the rest of the teams in district 29 and the eighth region to know that Bemidji's Chuck Grover and Chuck Aakhus, both all-regional choices, will be back for another season of play with the Lumberjacks.

Midget Hockey Champions.

The Bjorkman's Toggery midget hockey team has a valid claim to the northwest's midget hockey championship, and they have earned that claim by beating the best midget hockey teams in this vicinity. In an elimination tournament played here on Saturday, the Bjorkman's defeated Bernie Brodericks' midgets from Warroad, 5 to 0, and then they trounced the local Sportsman's Store midgets, 7 to 0, after the Sportsman's sextet had taken the Williams team out of the tournament by a 4 to 1 score.

So it's a round of cheers to captain Wayne Kotaska, Jack LaSalle, Darrold Lund, Lyle Guttu, Jackie Quesnell, Darryl Vad, Peter Froehle, Paul Perrault, Rodger Elofson, Marvin Jorde, and Munroe, Joey, and Jack Poole and to their coach, Lloyd Johnson, and manager, Elmer Poole. And to Cliff Bjorkman who sponsored the team and provided playing sweaters for the boys.

That 40 & 8 midget hockey program is a fine thing and it won't be long before the high school and the senior hockey teams will be receiving the dividends of this program.

Miscellany.

Lyle Wright and the Minneapolis Millers are "keeping a string" on Les Vigness, and they have invited the former Prowler athlete to return to Minneapolis next fall for the early season hockey workouts. Les, who was down for a short tryout a week or so ago, apparently impressed the Miller coaches. — Howie Stralton and Roland Ring, coach and assistant of the Hutchinson high school basketball team, were in attendance at the regional finals here Saturday night. They were scouting the Bemidji Lumberjacks, the team that Hutchinson plays in a first-round state tournament game this evening at 9:00 P. M. The Hutchinson coaches didn't learn very much by watching the Bemidji vs. East Grand Forks game, for the Green Wave's style of play, controlling the ball as they did, kept Bemidji pretty well "bottled up."

Sophs Win Interclass Title

The Sophomore basketball team, coached by Wally Gravum and Don Stadum, won the interclass championship Wednesday afternoon by scoring a 37 to 25 win over the Seniors. Leading the Sophs to their win was Jerry Furuseth, who scored eleven points, and Don Green and Keith Rosengren, who were active in covering the rebounds.

In their first-round games on Tuesday afternoon, the Seniors, in overtime, defeated the Juniors, 24 to 22; and the Sophs piled up a 38 to 15 win over the Freshman.

1,947 LOSE LIVES IN MISHAPS IN '47

Accidents Take Heavy Toll in Minnesota

1,947 fatal accidents occured in Minnesota in 1947. Figures compiled recently by the division of vital statistics, state department of health, revealed this numerical coincidence. Of the total, four occured in Pennington county.

"Last year accidents in the state took almost as many lives as all the communicable disease combined," Dr. R. N. Barr, chief of the section of departmental administration said. "Communicable disease caused 2328 deaths compared to the accidental death total of 1947."

Almost half of the accidental fatilities were caused by farm and home mishaps which accounted for 873 deaths. Motor vehilce deaths totaled 570, while other public accidents were responsible for 391 deaths. Occupational accidents other than those occuring on farms took 10 lives.

While 137 accidental deaths occured in farm homes, an additional 64 fatal accidents took place on farms in the form of occupational deaths. The number of fatal accidents occuring in homes other than farm homes was 672.

As basketball centers Bob Johnson went out on fouls in the fourth quarter at Pine River and his team lost; Jim Harker went out on fouls in the fourth quarter of the return game at Walker, and his team lost. Their college rivalry should be interesting!

POLITICAL ROUNDUP

By Arthur Naftalin

Harold Stassen's showing in last week's New Hampshire Presidential primary is not being dismissed lightly by national observers. Governor Dewey won six of the eight delegates, with Stassen getting the other two, but The New York Times report indicates that, considering the circumstances of the campaign, Stassen's showing was unusual. The Dewey forces, according to the Times, continued to campaign "up to the moment the polls closed", while Stassen's organization slackened after Stassen completed his circuit on the Thursday preceding the election.

Thus, the New Hampshire primary revealed some rather unusual polling strength on Stassen's part. His big test, of course, will be the Wisconsin primary on April 6, but should he do as well in the Badger state, Stassen should enter the national Republican convention with some real chance of getting the nomination as a "dark-horse." The seasoned observers still write Stassen's chances off as hopeless, but there is a real prospect of a Taft-Dewey deadlock that could bring either Senator Vandenberg or Stassen to the forefront, particularly if Stassen can demonstrate unusual vote-getting power in the various primaries.

Next Wednesday Minneapolis voters will decide whether they want a new city charter. Feeling on both sides has reached a high pitch, and supporters of the charter feel it has a good chance of obtaining the required 57.14 per cent of the vote cast. If it is adopted, the new charter will replace a document which dates back to 1872, when it was originally granted by the state legislature. In the years that followed, the original structure was changed in a great variety of ways by special acts of the legislature. Finally, in 1921, the original charter plus all other legislative acts were gathered together and adopted as the city's home rule charter.

The new charter will drastically reform the present licensing system which has been the source of much criticism. The city's aldermen now have a life and death control over all business in their wards; under the new charter, licensing will become an administrative matter under the chief executive, with the aldermen responsible for writing the ordinances but not administering the licensing procedure. The new charter will also permit the taxing of objects other than real and personal property, thus opening the way to a solution of the city's difficult financial plight.

The struggle between the regular Democratic-Farmer-Laborites and the "left wing" third party group continues to grow in intensity. In Hennepin county, which is the pivotal spot so far as control of the state convention is concerned, various labor and liberal groups are joining in the formation of a Hennepin county DFL Volunteer Committee which will seek to resist the efforts of the third party group to take over the DFL. A similar committee is already functioning in Ramsey, and plans are to duplicate the organization over the entire state.

Congressman John Blatnik recently addressed a group of supporters in Duluth, during which he left the impression that he was opposed to the third party and that he would support President Truman for re-election. Blatnik writes this column to say, "I did not commit myself for any Presidential candidate... I did say that I was staying in the State DFL Party and nationally in the Democratic Party." There seems to be a genuine difference as to the meaning of Blatnik's remarks, because those who attended the luncheon insist that he indicated he would support Truman. In any case, Blatnik is seeking to avoid entanglements in the heated left-right controversy, and asks that that be made clear.

WHY IS THIS BANK SO INTERESTED IN FARMING?
"A great part of your advertising," said a customer recently, "is addressed to the farmers. Why is this bank so interested in farming?" Actually, we are interested in anything or anybody contributing to the progress and development of this territory—farmers, business men, professional men, teachers, housewives, students. In the final analysis, however, the progress of business in Thief River Falls, the welfare of our civic enterprises, and the progress of individuals is dependent to a great degree on agriculture. By being actually interested in farming, by helping farmers improve their farms and increase production, the Union State Bank serves the best interests of everyone in this trade territory. That's why we're so interested in farming!
FOR FARMERS... we offer a full range of banking services and facilities to meet usual and unusual needs. We are making farm loans for repairs and improvement of farm equipment and buildings, purchase of new equipment, and the development of modern agricultural methods.

Mother of Local Lady Dies

Mrs. Ida Lindquist, passed quietly away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Axel Anderson of this place, early Monday morning, March 15. She was at the time of her death 87 years old. Mrs. Lindquist was a pioneer of the Viking community, coming there in 1901 and residing there until about two years ago when she went to live with a daughter in St. Paul. She had always enjoyed very good health until about a year ago when old age caused her health to fail. Last September she came to Newfolden to live with the Andersons. In December she became bedridden and since that time she had grown steadily weaker. She is survived by 9 children, 10 grandchildren and 8 great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held from the Mission Covenant church in Viking on Saturday, March 20 at 2:00 p.m.

Working on Road Improvement

Supt. G. E. Leland, accompanied by Hjalmer Stokke and C. H. Cook motored to Bemidji last Wednesday to talk to A. L. Graves, state highway engineer for this district, concerning repairs and construction of the state highway through Newfolden.

State highway 59 running thru here is in terrible shape, and is steadily growing worse. During the winter it is blocked with snow after every storm and during wet weather is impassible on account of mud. Farmers are forced to drive many miles out of their way much of the time to market their products and do their trading, and in many cases, are going to other towns where roads are better. Our school is finding it more difficult every year to operate buses. They are compelled to detour around 59 much of the time, increasing the mileage of the routes. When conditions permit and 59 can be used it is so rough that it shakes the buses to pieces, bringing on costly repair bills.

We have been told that the state will not build the new highway along the Soo Line for many years. Our citizens are getting desperate and have passed resolutions and signed petitions asking that the State rebuild the present road. Like resolutions have been passed by our county board and our school board. We feel that the state must either build the new road along the Soo Line and give the present road back to the county, who will fix it up, or else rebuild it themselves and make it their road.

The time has come when the road running east and west through Newfolden must be fixed if our town, our school and our community is to continue to grow and prosper.

Miss Ione Sabo and friends of Thief River Falls were Sunday visitors at the Nels Sabos, the latter making acquaintance of her new niece, Marilyn Sabo.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sabo are the parents of a son, born to them March 9th.

SMILEY

It is time to think of baby chicks and cabbages and things, the million other odd time jobs that Spring time always brings! Have you ordered your garden seeds? The garden seed catalogues offer such a tempting array of seeds that one feels quite inclined to order more than one deems necessary. It really is worth while to try a new seed. There is so much satisfaction in watching something new grow. This year we are going to try the broccoli, which is probably as old as the hills to most of you. The catalogue says it is wonderful for freezing.

Rev. Walter Pedersen of Thief River Falls was a Friday caller at the Andrew Kisch and Archie Anderson homes.

Visitors at the Otis Millers home Friday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bruggeman of Thief River Falls.

Sunday guests at the S. B. Nelson home were Mr. and Mrs. Dave Christensen and Phyllis, Mr. and Mrs. Jim McCrum, Bruce, Marilyn, and Bobby.

Round Up

It is with a feeling of intense pride to tell about those good folks Mr. and Mrs. Carl Beiswenger, Sr. They are the kind of people that make the pillars of a community. Nice people, they! It was in 1910 that they homesteaded on the farm they now live and have lived ever since then. They come from Fisher, Minn. There was a struggle, of course, to get ahead in those days, but what the Beiswengers did testifies to the fact that they raised a family of six children including Bruno, the eldest, who married Mary Sanders and they have three daughters, Dolores, Shirley and Phyllis. Ted is the next who now resides at home, then there is Augusta who married Ernest Rispen and with her family which includes a daughter, Violet and son Ernest Jr. live in Detroit, Mich. Carl Beiswenger Jr. married Virginia Luke and they have five children, Zora, Beulah, Ruth and the twin sons, Ronald and Russell.

Then Selma, who married Joe Knutson. They live in Silverton. Herman is the youngest. He resides at home. So much for the family, except for the fact that the Beiswenger boys all have their own farms very near their father's farm. So he has his sons near him. The Beiswenger's Sr. helped to organize and build the Bethany church in Smiley. They were charter members. Several years ago they transferred their membership to the St. John's Lutheran church in Thief River Falls. In this church they were both very prominent and active. He was a deacon for many years. Mr. Beiswenger is a great believer in Co-operative movements. What would the Co-op Creamery have done without his keen judgments and his great help as a board member? A smart man, he! He had served faithfully on the Smiley town board for a long time as well as on the school board of School District 31. As neighbors, they are rather hard to beat! Their farmstead is beautiful, well-kept and modern to a T. It was only a few years ago that Mr. and Mrs. Beiswenger Sr. were honored at the Crookston Winter Shows as the master farmers of Pennington county. Is Smiley proud? Yes, indeed! Incidentally, the Beiswengers are celebrating their 50 years of perfect harmonious and prosperous wedded bliss. Congratulations and best wishes from the good folks of Smiley.

Dinner guests at the Arthur Knutson home a week ago Sunday were her sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Peter Becken of Erskine, Mr. and Mrs. Art Bartelson, sons Daryl and Arnold.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Roese motored to the cities Thursday. While there Mrs. Roese will seek medical aid for a throat ailment.

The Carl Newton's of Trail spent Sunday with their daughter and her family, the Edwin Helgelands.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Johnson, daughter Joan and Gloria attended the Silver Wedding anniversary of Mrs. Johnson's sister and her husband, the Martin Stenbergs in Thief River Falls Sunday.

It is with a sad feeling that Mrs. Ted Bjorge has to be separated from her family for so long. She is staying at the home of her mother, Mrs. Longren near Thief River Falls. Mrs. Bjorge is suffering from asthma and needs medical attention quite frequently. We sincerely hope she will be entirely well soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Mynier of Thief River Falls visited at the Mark Olson home Sunday.

4-H Quips

Such a turn out there was of the Smiley 4-H club at their regular meeting for March which was successfully held at the Norton Nelson home. So many kids. There was an excellent program. The 4-H new song started the affair off followed by a recitation "Making Tracks" by Darlene Matzke; "Easter Is Here" was read by Joyce Helgeland; Phyllis Beiswenger conducted a question bee between the boys and the girls. It was a tie. A demonstration, "Scientific Plant Watering" was put on by Dianne Landobels. County Agent Frank Hobbs gave a brief talk and presented a beautiful silver medal to Jeanette Bolstad. Miss Bolstad received this medal from the Crookston Elks club because of her outstanding work as Junior Leader in 4-H club work in Pennington County as well as Smiley of which she is a member. The medal was to have been presented to her at the Winter Shows but she could not be there at the time. Kermit Finstad of Rocksbury was also awarded a medal for the boys Junior Leadership work. Their names are handsomely inscribed on the back of each medal. Congratulations are extended to these two young people. The next number on the program was a reading "Living the 4-H Club Pledge" by Dolores Beiswenger; "A Garden" was recited by Bernice Knutson; Shirley Matzke read a paper on "Some Ways to Make a Room Comfortable". Donald Knutson and Dolores Beiswenger tried to out talk each other in a one minute conversation. Donald gave up, eventually. County Agent Hobbs showed two films in the movies. They were "The New Frontier" and "The Story of Human Energy."

Contests and games were played boisterously until the delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Carl Beiswenger, Jr. and Mrs. Norton Nelson.

Gordavon Kisch was an overnight guest of her pal, Marilyn McCrum Tuesday. Bruce McCrum stayed at the Kisch home Sunday and Monday with Culver Kisch.

Dean Miller who makes her home with her brother and his wife the Otis Miller's received word last week that she has a new baby brother that arrived to her parents, the Roy Miller's in Mayfield, Kentucky. Congratulations, Dean.

In spite of the miserably cold day Wednesday, the stork shower for Mrs. Pete Hanson was surprisingly well attended at the Arthur Knutson home.

Mrs. Norman Johnson returned Thursday with her sisters, Mrs. L. Erickson and Mrs. Martin Stenberg from Minneapolis. They attended the funeral for their brother, Delbert Erickson whose body was brought back from the Gilbert Islands. He was killed in an airplane crash five years ago during the war. Burial rites were held at the Fort Snelling National cemetery. Sympathy for such a loss is extended to the parents, the Henry Ericksons, to the Norman Johnsons and to the Stenbergs and Ericksons.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

How to Keep 'Em Down On the Farm

The other day Pete Swanson's nephew, Bud, allowed as how he was fed up with farm and country life...and was going to the city where there was a lot more opportunity and excitement.

Some folks might have tried to stop him. But not Pete. He even advanced Bud carfare for the trip ...figured that when he'd had a good look around, he'd come back where he belonged.

And what happened? After seven days of big-town bustle and excitement, Bud was back behind the wheel of a tractor, with color in his cheeks again. And he'd traded the night life of the city for a quiet glass of beer with Dad.

From where I sit, that's how it goes. Try to prevent someone from getting what he thinks he wants—and he'll go on wanting it. But give him his head, and he'll settle for the sensible thing—whether it's country life, or a temperate glass of beer!

Make Marketing Pay The Land O'Lakes Way

WORKING TOGETHER—that's the key to progress of Midwest farmers in marketing their products through Land O'Lakes for 27 years.

WORKING TOGETHER through Land O'Lakes, the farmers themselves control the processing, distribution and sale of their milk, cream, poultry and eggs.

WORKING TOGETHER, they've developed new products and widened their markets as none could have done alone.

Doing the job together has been the aim and the achievement of Land O'Lakes and its owner-patrons. It's an achievement which, over the years, has poured many extra dollars into pockets of Midwest farmers.

Grygla School News

This week the eighth grade English class members are the reporters.

Woodmen Oratorical Contest

The oratorical contest for which the Modern Woodmen of America have furnished such splendid trophies to the school and individual winners, will be held as part of the P.T.A. program of Grygla school, Friday night, March 19. Three impartial judges will score the speakers. Each speaker will speak upon some phase of "What Freedom Means to Me".

Mrs. Clarence Peterson, leader of Junior Woodmen activities will present the trophy to the school, which for five years will continue the contest adding the winners name each year. The individual trophy will go to the speaker with the highest score.

Nyda Du Champ, 8

Marshall Spelling Bee

Nyda Du Champ, with a half day warning pinch-hitted for Luther Halmrast, the winner of the local contest who was scheduled to represent Grygla District 115. Of the twenty-six contestants, Nyda ranked eleventh, doing very creditably in lieu of the fact she was the alternate with little previous practice.

At ten o'clock in the morning a written hundred word test sent by the newspaper was given. The fifteen highest then held a spell-down. Rotus Bjertness drove to Warren to take the contestant and Patty Peterson. Patty Peterson, 8

Proctor Election Held

The proctor of last week, Audrey Austed was tardy, so Mable Leigh, one of her cabinet, presided at the election of the proctor for this week. Robert Johnson was elected proctor for this week and chose as his cabinet, LeRoy Austed, Nyda DuChamp, and Helen Hanson. The condition of the library at the end of the day showed that the last member, librarian, was well named. Colin Leverson, 8

Spring Training Plans

The dry sidewalks in front of the school brought out the new jumping ropes. The little gym lost many girls at noon.

The boys are waiting for the snow to go so that basketball and soccer ball courts can be made. New turning bars are to be installed and a better filler saw dust pit for jumping. The boys prefer football, but until they get in high school where protective clothing is furnished, they must play soccer which does not permit body tackling. LeRoy Austed

Book Prizes

New prizes have been offered for making book reports upon books of the approved books for the grade. Mrs. Jensen was presented with more than a hundred adventure books by a friend. These books are like new. Each time a student reads four books and completes his reports he can choose a book to take home and keep. The race is on for several mystery and sport books. Kenneth Gibson—Sheldon Nomeland, 8

Policemen

Each week the lower grade room has two policemen. Jerome Leverson and Angeline Austad are policemen this week. Gay Shoberg and Dalton Anderson were last week.

Over three hundred patrons and stockholders attended the eighth annual meeting of the Farmers Union Oil Company. Martin Sandsmark acted as chairman.

The auditor's report of the year's operation was read and explained by the secretary. It revealed another record year for the company. Total sales were $19,315.78, with a net saving to the patrons of about $11,000.00.

It was also brought out that the company is in a very strong position, having more than seven times as much current assets as it has current liabilities. Total assets at the end of the year were $51,132.70.

The matter of the extension of credit was discussed at some length. The board and the manager expressed the opinion that a drastic curtailment of credit be put into effect at once, especially, in view of the uncertain economic situation. It was pointed out that drop in prices, together with a large amount of receivables could force the cooperative into a very dangerous position. Mr. Steiken, assistant credit manager of the Central Exchange of St. Paul, gave a fine analysis of the business of the company and explained the results of too liberal extension of credit. He strongly urged the stockholders to support a cash policy. Erwin Nelson, the manager, explained his contract with the company as it affects credit, and stated that all sales in the future must be considered as cash sales. It was expressed that it would be more proper to have each individual arrange his own business, instead of expecting the manager to do the financing.

Melvin Rude, Adolph Erickson and Even Smeby were re-elected as directors.

STATE EDUCATION CRISIS THEME OF ST. PAUL MEETING

Gov. Youngdahl Confers with 200 Educators and Officials March 10th

Minnesota's crisis in elementary education is the responsibility of every member of the community, it was agreed at a conference with Gov. Luther Youngdahl last Wednesday.

Finding a solution to the critical shortage of teachers for the lower grades thus must be the concern of each citizen, according to those attending.

Some 200 educators, legislators and representatives of numerous civic, fraternal and farm organizations came to those conclusions Wednesday in an all-day emergency conference called by the governor. Reports from state education authorities and other leaders confirmed these facts:

'The rising birth rate will deliver a peak population to Minnesota public schools in 1953.'

While the number of pupils increases, the supply of teachers continues to dwindle. (In the last five years 13,000 teachers have left the profession in Minnesota; of these, three out of every five were from rural schools.)

'UP TO MARGARET' . . . Frank G. Handy, son of G. C. Handy, publisher of the Ypsilanti, Mich., Press, was reported to be object of the affections of Margaret Truman, daughter of the President. Said Handy: "If there is any announcement it will have to come from Margaret."

The available supply of trained replacements also is dwindling. (Today only one-fourth as many are being trained as are needed to replace teachers who are leaving service.)

During the war years, qualifications for teachers were permitted to decline in order to keep many rural schools open. Now the standards must be raised again and improved further.

Appointment of a permanent committee by the governor to work on the crisis was recommended. The committee would be instructed to follow this five point program:

Launch an intensive research program to determine needs county by county, grade by grade.

Develop an over-all public relations program to report these findings to the entire state.

Open a new teacher recruitment campaign with the aid of University of Minnesota and state teachers colleges. In this phase, the committee would study the question of state scholarships as a possible inducement to prospects.

Expand in-service training activities, to enable teachers to improve their own qualifications while on the job.

Leave the question of salaries to be determined by local school boards and teachers, with schedules to be on a comparable level with professions and industries in the local area.

These recommendations were submitted by a summation committee headed by Max Karl, program director of WCTN.

Other members of the committee were Gideon Seymour, executive editor, The Minneapolis Star and Tribune; Dr. Lowry Nelson, University of Minnesota; Dr. A. E. Jacobson, Thief River Falls, president, Minnesota School Board association; Samuel Gale, Minneapolis Milling executive, and Warren Stewart, St. Cloud, president of state teachers college board.

"Tailoring" the small school units to meet today's needs—reorganization of uneconomic school districts as provided by an act of the last legislature—was termed by several speakers as a major step for "rejuvenation" of the schools.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By Senator Joseph H. Ball

After seven years of supporting every major foreign policy proposal in the United States Senate, I find myself compelled by my convictions to oppose the European Recovery Program as it comes to a final vote in the upper chamber.

It has been a difficult decision. In making it, I find myself once again in a minority of my Republican party, as I was in 1941 when I supported Lend-Lease. Probably the people of Minnesota are as divided as they were at that time. I therefore feel obligated to set forth briefly the reasons for my position.

First, mail and conversations show that many of its supporters are for ERP in the belief that it offers either our best hope of preventing another war, or that it is an effective plan to stop Russian communist aggression and subversion in Europe.

ERP will do neither of these things, as the Senate debate has demonstrated clearly. If in five or six years the nations of Western Europe had developed some military power, and if their people were still free and had the will as well as the means of resisting communist aggression, their power might lessen chances of another war. But the decision on war and peace does not rest with the democratic nations. If it did, there would be no chance of war. The Russian dictators will make that decision for the world, and there is no evidence that ERP will influence them one way or another, unless it is to speed up their timetable of conquest.

The subversion of freedom in Hungary, Poland and Czechoslovakia all prove that economic distress was a very minor factor, if it played any role at all in their conquest. The deciding factor was ruthless power. Furthermore, of all the countries to receive aid under ERP, only Greece, Italy and France are threatened internally by communism, and they have been drifting that way for fifty years, and would receive less than one-third of ERP aid.

These facts about ERP are against it.

First, the bill is a blank check. There are some mild directives from Congress aimed at more businesslike management, but every one is hedged with a phrase like "Insofar as practicable" which actually leaves complete discretion in the hands of the Administration. We were unable to tighten it up on the floor. In view of the sad results of twelve billions of aid extended to date, I cannot support another blank check.

Second, no accompanying policy to meet the political and power problems of Russian communist aggression is offered. Without such a policy, to restore some confidence in their future to Europeans, chances of any real recovery are almost nil.

Third, ERP is part of what seems to be an American policy of containment of Russian communist aggression by means of economic assistance. In Greece we have spent 300 million dollars and have merely "held the line" against a few thousand communist guerillas which probably have not cost the Russians more than 300 thousand. Spending $1,000 American dollars in aid to counteract a Russian expenditure of only $1 can have only one end result—bankruptcy for the United States.

It seems to me we face two possible alternatives in the face of Russian communist aggression. One is to take the initiative in uniting the free peoples of the world in some way to provide real collective security, with economic aid a minor part of the overall program. The other is to draw in our forces, build our own strength, be prepared to resist aggression if necessary, but hope that Russia will spread out too thin and break.

Personally, as an internationalist and believer in collective security, I would prefer the former alternative. But I can no longer support an Administration which has no coherent and logical foreign policy headed in either direction, and whose solution to recurrent crises is the spending of American resources everywhere in the world.

HEART AILMENTS OBJECT OF STUDY

Professorship Will Be Set up at Minnesota 'U'

Does an improper diet or a virus cause heart disease? Can a specific test be found to distinguish heart disease from other disease? Can a drug or treatment be discovered to combat rheumatic fever?

A search for answers to these questions will be made under the American Legion memorial heart research professorship to be set up at the University of Minnesota, according to Dr. Irvine McQuarrie, head of the pediatrics department at the University medical school.

"Dr. McQuarrie predicted that the probing into causes of rheumatic fever and heart disease under the Legion project is bound to be another milestone in man's conquest over disease." Legion post and auxiliary units throughout Minnesota are in the midst of a $500,000 drive to raise funds to endow the research project. The campaign ends May 23.

A careful study whether the lack of certain foods, or an excess of some foods, may bring about heart disease will be made, Dr. McQuarrie said. It is already known that a deficiency in vitamin B causes a type of illness that may lead to the weakening of the heart muscle. This makes it easier for heart disease to claim more and more victims, Dr. McQuarrie explained.

1,455 Drivers Forfeit Permits During January

Nearly 1,500 Minnesota motorists started off 1948 by losing their drivers licenses in the first month of the year. To be exact, 1,455 drivers were barred from the wheel, 289 by outright revocations and 1,160 by suspensions of their driving permits. Of the January revocations, 258 were for drunken driving, 12 for speeding and 11 on commitment of the permit holders as an inebriate. Among the suspensions, 823 were under the safety responsibility act, 174 for failure to take a driving test or furnish doctor's statement, 70 for speeding and 33 for careless driving.

Long-Term Approach

A shy lad wanted to marry the girl, but he felt he would choke if he tried to mention the words, "marry" or "marriage" to her. So, after giving much thought to the problem, he asked her in a whisper one evening, "Julia, how would you like to be buried with my people?"

BJORKMAN'S TOGGERY

9TH DISTRICT GOP IN CONVENTION AT MOORHEAD MAR. 13

Baudette Man Winner of Contest for Delegate to National Convention

A spirited three-way fight occurred on the floor of the Ninth district Republican party convention in Moorhead Saturday over the election of a delegate and alternate to the national convention.

T. H. Rowell of Lake of the Woods county emerged the victor over Leonard Dickinson of Bemidji and E. J. Windmiller of Fergus Falls. Several ballots were necessary. Dickinson's name was brought in by the nominating committee, others being named from the floor. Dickinson was chosen as alternate.

Mrs. E. H. Harding of Crookston was elected women's delegate, with Mrs. C. E. Rufer of Moorhead as alternate.

W. L. Robertson, editor of the Fergus Falls Journal, was chosen presidential elector and Senator A. O. Sletvold of Detroit Lakes was indorsed for delegate at large to the national convention.

The group indorsed Minnesota's favorite son, Harold Stassen, as the party's presidential nominee, and indorsed Joseph Ball for re-election as senator.

The convention also indorsed Mrs. Anne Stewart of St. Paul as alternate at large to the national convention and Roy E. Dunn and Mrs. Chris Carlson for re-election as chairman and chairwoman for Minnesota of the national Republican committee.

District officials elected were H. C. Stiening, chairman; Mrs. E. C. Karwand, Thief River Falls, chairwoman; Philip Monson, Fergus Falls, vice-chairman; Mrs. J. M. Baldwin, Frazee, vice-chairwoman; Mrs. Peterson, secretary; Mrs. Karl Herbranson, Warren, treasurer, and Sletvold and Mrs. H. B. Lane, Red Lake Falls, other members of the executive committee.

CRIPPLED YOUTHS TO ATTEND CLINIC IN CITY APRIL 17

Will Be Sponsored by Minnesota Division of Social Welfare

Medical examinations and advice on treatment or vocational training for children who have or may be developing crippling disabilities will be offered during a series of ten orthopedic clinics scheduled for centers in various parts of Minnesota. One of the spring clinics is slated for April 17 at Thief River Falls for Pennington county, Marshall, Red Lake, Roseau and Kittson counties.

The clinics, conducted every spring and fall, are provided by the Crippled Children Services for boys and girls under 21 years of age who are in need of orthopedic attention. Nearly 800 children were examined during the fall series, the agency reports.

Services include medical examinations, diagnosis and recommendation for treatment. Boys and girls from 14 to 21 years old also have an opportunity to consult with vocational advisers in regard to training for employment, according to Jarle Leirfallom, Director of the division of social welfare.

Orthopedic surgeons and pediatricians conduct the examinations and give recommendations. Arrangements are made by field nurses from the Crippled Children Services, assisted by local committees, public health nurses and county welfare workers.

This service is made possible by state and federal funds and is part of the health and welfare program conducted by the Minnesota division of social welfare.

DEER ARE TAGGED IN MUD LAKE AREA

Seeking Information on Migration of Animals

The hunter who gets his deer next fall in the vicinity of the Mud Lake national wildlife refuge near Holt may be surprised to find a metal identification tag clamped to one of the animal's ears, R. W. Hunt, refuge manager, announced today.

An experiment conducted to reveal information of deer habits on a no-hunting area in northwestern Minnesota, 26 of the refuge animals have been captured over the past two and one-half months in large box traps, marked with a metal ear tag, and released. The ear-tags bear identification numbers and the return address of the Minnesota conservation department.

Some of the questions the experiment may answer are: How far do deer stray? How many deer raised in a protected area migrate to other areas? What is the age expectation of deer in the wild?

Although the 26 deer tagged are only a small part of the estimated 900 deer utilizing the 61,000-acre area, one or more of the tagged animals, Hunt believes, will desert protection of the refuge and fall victim to a hunter's gun next fall.

Continuation of trapping and ear-tagging the refuge deer population over two or three more winters, Hunt says, will assure the marking of sufficient number to bring return data.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

I Want Obedience

Today we all are concerned with many day-to-day problems. Commodity markets act like Mexican jumping beans; the world seems to be back where we started in 1938; our dollars more often do not stretch as far as we hoped they would.

The people who are most concerned with these problems are the parents of children. Theirs is the greatest responsibility and from this responsibility comes anxiety. Often in our anxiety we find that our children are no longer "obedient." Pushed to the breaking point by other troubles, we just are not going to stand for any back-talk from the children.

Isn't this rather a common feeling? Haven't you felt that way many times? But what are we doing? Certainly not solving anything by insisting on strict obedience to our every whim. Really we are building up our children, preparing them for precisely the same personal anxieties we feel now.

It is much more desirable to use your children as a sorce of relaxation. Revel in their freedom from worries, their uninhabited approach to life. Enjoy their fresh outlooks.

If children are used in this way they will be refreshing no matter how tired you may be. If you insist on being a martinet they will resist until you are ready to give up.

Children are fun—don't let obedience make them a chore.

Need Feeding, Though

City visitor—What do you raise on your farm?

Farmer—Hogs.

City visitor—Do they pay better than corn or tobacco?

Farmer — Nope, but they don't need hoeing.

Couldn't Help It

"I hope, Nellie," Arthur remarked primly to his new lady love, "that you don't park with boys on dark roads?"

"Not unless I'm driven to it," was the hopeful reply.

Lot of Little Thrills

Blonde—The boy I had a date with last night kissed me a hundred times. Have you ever had a boy kiss you a hundred times?

Brunette — Of course not. Boys only go after quantity when they can't get quality.

Vegetables Turn Black

Discoloration of vegetables in a food grinder is due to something that has been ground through the grinder previously. Peppers sometimes will cause a discoloration. Again, it may be due to the tin or other metal coating on the grinder wearing off and the iron underneath corroding.

Need Sunlight

Vegetables grow best where they get at least five or six hours of full sunlight during the middle of the day.

Two-Fisted Killer!

A bedraggled looking man entered a fly-infested bar room and spoke quietly to the bartender. "Give me a drink," he said, "and I'll kill every fly in the place!" The bartender agreed that he thought it reasonable and set a drink before him. Making short work of it, the hobo started to edge toward the door.

"Hey, you, come back here," shouted the bartender. "You said you'd kill every fly in the place."

"And so I will," said the hobo, rolling up his sleeves and stepping outside. "Send them out one at a time."

7,239 VIOLATIONS BY STATE DRIVERS UP TO MARCH 1ST

Drunken Driving Costs Motorists $12,955 in Fines for Two Months

More than 7,000 Minnesota motorists "got off to a bad start" in their driving habits on Minnesota highways during the first two months of 1948, according to a report on patrol activities made public today by State Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffman.

The 7,239 violations listed in the report included 1,154 arrests (one for every 10 miles of road on the state trunk highway system), 2,513 motorists tagged for operating vehicles with illegal and unsafe equipment, 800 "do not repeat" warning tickets, 2,456 verbal warnings for lesser or unintentional traffic violations, and 316 drivers found driving with improper license tags.

Drunken driving, careless driving and speeding, which together accounted for 441 arrests, cost motorists $12,955 of the $20,351 in fines levied for the two months traffic offenses, Patrol Chief Earl M. Larimer said. Arrests for driving cars and trucks with unsafe equipment and improper registration totalling 271, were next in line. Improper passing and driving in the wrong lane caused 18 arrests and 87 motorists faced court for driving without drivers licenses.

Bad lights, a recognized cause of night driving accidents, accounted for 2,200 of the 2,513 illegal equipment tag issued. These divided into: rear light out 1,163, only one headlight 729, no clearance lamps 165, lamps out of adjustment 85, insufficient light 11, and other forms of illegal lamps 27. Bad brakes, lack of a useable windshield wiper, warning horn or rear view mirror, and unmuffled exhausts accounted for another 201.

Of the 800 warning tickets passed out by highway patrolmen, 185 were for exceeding posted speed limits, 160 for failure to come to a complete stop at stop signs, 63 for driving over the centerline and 37 for improper passing.

DOES THIS EGG END THE CONTEST?

Litchfield.—For years hens all over Minnesota vied for records in the production both of large and of odd eggs. Recently the honors for size have been slipping from Leghorns to the new Austra Whites. One of the latter variety near here makes a strong bid for state honors with an egg 7½ by 8¾ inches, weighing 5 ounces.

EXAMS SCHEDULED FOR WELFARE JOBS

Applications Must Be Filed by Friday, April 2

A series of competitive examinations for jobs in welfare case work has been scheduled for next month, T. L. Culhane, county welfare merit system supervisor, announced today at St. Paul.

The examinations will be held in 14 cities throughout the state on Saturday, April 17, but Friday April 2 will be the deadline for filing applications.

Case work vacancies exist in many county welfare offices throughout Minnesota, Culhane said. Appointments to these permanent positions in social work are based on the competitive examinations. Salaries range from $2040 to $3720 a year, depending on the position.

Examinations will be given for the position of Social Worker I and II, Child Welfare Worker I and II, Social Welfare Supervisor I and Executive Secretary I and II.

College seniors who expect to graduate in June, 1948, may take the examinations. They must make application by April 2, and college training must be completed before appointment.

Complete information as to qualifications can be obtained from the county welfare board office or the local Minnesota employment office. Applications must be returned to the merit system supervisor, postmarked not later than midnight, April 2.

PRINTERS INK AIDS LONGEVITY

Faribault.—Edward Roth sold his printing business to a younger man. There's nothing unusual about that except that Mr. Roth doesn't plan on retiring. Which again is not unusual, except that he is 78 years old, perhaps even a little past normal retiring age. But having earned his living at the printing trade for 62 continuous years, Mr. Roth just can't suddenly part from the smell of ink and the click of the press, so he's going to work for the new owner of the shop for awhile.

Business Office of Telephone Company Now at 403 LaBree

The telephone business office of the Northwestern Bell company is now at 403 LaBree Avenue N. in quarters which have been in process of remodeling for the past few weeks.

The company recently purchased this property which has a frontage of 75 feet on LaBree ave. and a depth of 140 feet. According to A. J. Rau, manager, the company plans eventually to build a new telephone building on this site, at which time major changes in the city's telephone system will be made.

Mr. Rau states that the immediate reason for moving the business office is to provide space in the telephone central office on the second floor of the Union State bank building for the installation of additional switchboard and other call-handling equipment. Installation will start within the next two weeks on three more positions of switchboard and 320 local service lines. This work will be completed late this spring, according to Mr. Rau, and will include extension of these lines to the present switchboard operating positions.

Other service expansion work to be carried out this year will include the placement of cable to provide more lines in several sections of the city. Within the next two weeks three new direct long distance circuits will be placed in operation between Thief River Falls and Minneapolis. Other long distance routes to be opened this spring will include one circuit to Crookston, an additional one to Minneapolis, and two to Fargo.

Other construction slated for this year will include the building of lines to bring telephone service to several farm areas not now reached by facilities.

Manager Rau says that the telephone office here is now serving 2684 telephones, including those in nearby rural areas. The company's gain in telephones was 209 last year. At present there are about 74 applications for service which are on the waiting list because of shortage of facilities. Mr. Rau points out that telephones for a considerable number of these applicants, but not all of them will be installed when installation of the new switchboard equipment is completed this spring.

Mystery of Susie, Jaycee Girl Friend, Is Solved Tuesday

Local citizens are rapidly becoming accustomed to the spectacle of a young man proceeding down the street bearing a live duck under his arm.

The duck, gaily bedecked with flowers, made her debut Tuesday evening at a party in the Evelyn hotel given by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the excellent specimen of poultry being introduced by President Justus Larson as the mystery-shrouded Susie, the Jaycees' girl friend.

Alvin Christofferson explained to the 75 members present that Susie would aid in building Jaycee membership well above its present total of 174. He stated that the duck would remain in the possession of Justus Larson until he had signed up a new Jaycee, after which he would turn it over to another member to repeat the performance.

That the custodians of Susie didn't relish their job is indicated by the fact that the bird changed hands a dozen times Wednesday.

Larry Churchill, the "Singing Salesman" enlivened the party Tuesday by singing a group of selections, including the ballad, "If You Knew Susie", accompanied by Harold Carnes on the piano.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor The Times

A recent article in the Times gave the average high school teacher's salary as $2,900 for next year. The article did not explain however that that included teachers under federal aid and special teaching assignments. In the high school building alone there would be over 20 teachers receiving less than $2,900. The average for 1947-48 high school academic teachers is $2350. With the proposed increase the maximum salary for academic teaching would be $2700 for next year. The grade school maximum would be $2450.

Starting Wednesday morning, March 24, the telephone business office will be in newly remodeled quarters one block north and one-half block east of the telephone central office.

Removal of the business office from the second floor of the Union State Bank Building is being made to provide space for the installation of more switchboard and other call-handling facilities. Added to the list of things we are going to quit worrying about is the question of how long Uncle Sam's oil supplies will last. Business Week points out that at the time of Pearl Harbor the total reserve of crude oil and natural gas was estimated at 19½ billion barrels. By 1946, after the heavy drain of the war years, the estimates on how much was left had been revised upward to 24 billion barrels and by the end of 1947 these estimates have been still further increased another ¾ billion. The reason for these more favorable reports of course is due to the discovery of new fields. Undoubtedly the depletion of our oil supply is some day going to be a serious problem—but not for us.

Road restrictions are on and there are limits to the tonage that can be hauled on roads that are posted. There still are truck operators who look upon such restrictions as undue interference by the government with their personal liberties but these are steadily decreasing in numbers. Most truck operators now realize that they themselves derive the greatest benefit from such restrictions—that without reasonable restrictions the road damage would be so great during the spring months as to seriously retard the entire road improvement program. There undoubtedly are cicumstances that occasionally justify excessive loading, but any repetition of deliberate and unjustifiable violations should be severly punished. The local communities, the counties and the state have heavy investments in their road systems. Those who by their headlessness cause damage to public roads are bad citizens just as much as any destroyer of public property. The roads are yours. You have paid for them. Help protect them now during the spring break-up.

Northern Minnesota has no reason to complain about the treatment it has received from the state in the construction and maintenance of trunk highways. The fact that the trunk highway system in Northern Minnesota is far from completion is due to the same reason that the system is not complete in any part of the state. It will take many years before we will be able to say that our system of roads is what we want it to be. And just to keep ourselves reminded how much remains to be done before even our main trunk highways are adequate, let's take a look at the position Northwestern Minnesota is in in relation to the three large cities of the state. During the season of the spring break-up the only road to the Twin Cities on which load limits are not imposed is via Moorhead. And from here to Duluth a trucker must drive to Detroit Lakes to Moorhead to St. Cloud and Brainerd. Northwestern Minnesota and the immense territory served by such cities and Bemidji, Detroit Lakes, Crookston and Thief River Falls do not have an all-season direct road to Duluth or the Twin Cities. We have far to go in our road building program.

BEMIDJI QUINT PLACES 1ST IN STATE TOURNEY

Eighth Region Champs Come from Behind to Whip Hopkins 38 to 29

The Bemidji high school Lumberjacks, the eighth region's champions, won the state high school basketball championship Saturday night by defeating Hopkins, 38 to 29, in state tournament finals played in the University of Minnesota field house in Minneapolis. On their way to the state title, coach Mike Lagather's Lumberjacks eliminated Hutchinson, 43 to 30, in a first round game on Thursday night, and scored a 40 to 37 win over the Mountain Lake team in a semifinals encounter on Friday night.

Saturday night's championship win marked the second time that Bemidji has won the state basketball title, the Lumberjacks having recorded their previous championship in 1936.

Bemidji's three victories enroute to the 1948 title were well earned, for the Lumberjacks exhibited championship poise round win over Hutchinson, were favored by the experts attending the tourney.

The eighth regional champions were forced to come from behind to win in their finals game against Hopkins with the fifth regional titleholders, and the tourney "dark horse," held an 18 to 16 lead at the intermission. Hopkins had previously been the "upset" victors over a highly-rated Crosby-Ironton team in a first round game, and then had defeated a powerful Hibbing team in the semifinals.

Turning in a 12-point third period, with Chuck Grover, Wes Sabourin, and Chuck Aakhus doing the scoring, and holding Hopkins to but four points, the Lumberjacks pulled away to a 28 to 22 lead at the end of the quarter. And moving into the fourth period, Bemidji, on field goals by Dick Knutson and Sabourin, increased their lead to 34 to 22 before Hopkins' Ed Kormo could garner a point on a free throw.

Bemidji, having superior all-round height and appearing to be in better physical condition, controlled the play throughout the third and fourth periods.

The Lumberjacks were honored by having two players, Chuck Grover and Wes Sabourin, named to the All-State squad.

BOWLERS SHARING IN TWO TOURNEYS DURING THE WEEK

Men's Singles Tourney Will Open This Evening On the Mint Alleys

Two bowling tournaments will get under way within the week on the Mint alleys. This evening, beginning at 7:00 P. M., the men's singles straightaway tournament will be bowled. Twenty of the city's highest average bowlers have registered their entry in the tourney, and the winner, who will be judged on a total-pins basis after six lines have been bowled, will be awarded the championship trophy. Trophies will also be given to the runner-up and the third place winner.

On Tuesday night, March 30th, the first shift in the team handicap tournament will be bowled at 7:00 p. m., with a second shift slated to take the lanes at 9:00 p. m. The team tournament will conclude on Friday night, April 2nd. Bart Wangenstein's Jewelry is donating the championship trophy for the team handicap tournament, and trophies will also be awarded to the teams finishing in the runner-up and third place positions.

The team tournament schedule as announced by the tournament committee follows:

Tuesday night, March 30th, 7:00 p. m. shift: Soo Line, KTRF, Hartz Bakery, and Danielson Electric. 9:00 p. m. shift St. Hilaire No. 1, Popples Furniture, Larson Co., and Middle River Produce.

Thursday night, April 1st, 7 p. m. shift: Eagles, Elks Club, V. F. W., and Bridgeman's. 9:00 p. m. shift: Independent Grocery, Creamery, Plummer, St. Hilaire No. 2.

Friday night, April 2nd, 7:00 p. m. shift: Western Oil, Forkenbrock Motors, Northern Chevrolet, and Rotary.

Bemidji Places Two Men on All-state Quintet

Bemidji and Hopkins, the two finalists, placed two players each on the all-state basketball squad selected by the tournament officials following the conclusion of the championship game in the University of Minnesota field house Saturday night. The Bemidji Lumberjacks, the state champions, placed Chuck Grover and Wes Sabourin at forward positions, while Hopkins and Virgil Miller were named for a forward spot and Jim Schneider at a guard position.

The All-State squad:

Chuck Grover, Bemidji, forward.
Wes Sabourin, Bemidji, forward.
Virgil Miller, Hopkins, forward.
Malan Knezovich, Hibbing, center.
Lawrence Krause, Waseca, center.
Jim Schneider, Hopkins, guard.
Don Jacobson, Crosby-Ironton, guard.
Don Reimer, Mountain Lake, guard.

Keeping Score

... WM. BUCK OLSON

Boost for Northwest Athletics.

The Bemidji Lumberjacks and the Grand Forks Amerks, on their performances during the week-end, didn't do any harm to athletic prestige of the north west. The Lumberjacks turned in a surprisingly fine brand of basketball to win the state high school basketball championship; and the Amerks, playing in the national AHA hockey tournament in Toledo, Ohio, was beaten, 3 to 2, by the Providence, Rhode Island, sextet, the team that went on to win the title.

"There aren't any gripes about the Bemidji win, and the comments of those fans who witnessed the state tourney are in agreement that not only did the Lumberjacks look like champions, but that they played like champions. I imagine that Tipper Hirt and Ed Beliveau are the only Bemidji boys that are "sour" about the Lumberjacks triumph, and those boys have reasons, for they were squad members early in the year and then were removed from the squad by coach Lagather because of training infractions. They have perhaps learned their lesson and next season they will be valuable members of the Lumberjack team.

And the Amerk's play in the national hockey tourney only served to further the contention that this part of the country has been provided with as good amateur hockey as anywhere in the nation. The Providence club was composed of former college stars, and several of their players had been given Olympic team tryouts and one, Ralph Warburton, was a teammate of Bob Baker on the AHA Olympic team. Playing such a team on near-even terms was a boost for the States-Dominion type of hockey.

An Injustice.

According to the fans, the experts, and the coaches that were in attendance at the state high school basketball tournament, an injustice was done Bemidji's Chuck Aakhus when the stellar Lumberjack guard was left off All-State team. Bemidji's Chuck Grover and Wes Sabourin were named to the honor squad, and they deserved the mention, but Aakhus' play throughout the tournament was as vital to the success of the Jacks as was the play of Grover and Sabourin.

The reason for Aakhus' omission from the All-State is perhaps due to the fact that the squad is chosen, that is, the final selections are made, during the half-time intermission of the championship game. At that time Saturday night the score was 18 to 16 for Hopkins and it wasn't at all a cinch that Bemidji would be the winner. The All-State pickers probably didn't feel like going out on a limb and name three Lumberjack players to the squad and then have Bemidji finish as runner-up."

That's happened before, and that time the Prowlers were in the finals. In 1939 the Prowlers trailed at the half-time in their game against North High School of Minneapolis, and it appeared that the Polars would win the title; but the Prowlers, under the inspirational play of co-captains Roy Lee and Don Lorentson, defeated North, 31 to 29. When the All-State team was named Roy Lee and Bones Stadum were the Prowlers named, and three North high school players were selected—Hallman, Burk, and Goodman. If that All-State team had been chosen at the conclusion of the championship game, there's no doubt that Don Lorentson would have won a place. And that's the way it happened with Chuck Aakhus this year.

Singles Bowling Tournament.

Thursday night at 7:00 P. M the city single bowling tournament will be rolled over the Mint alleys, and the twenty or more bowlers that will participate will be watching Wally DuChamp, for he's the fellow to beat. The city singles tourney has been called a "Wally DuChamp Benefit" ever since it was started for Wally has either been the winner of the championship trophy or the runner-up. This year the tourney has been pared down to six lines, and on a total-pins basis, and Wally may have difficulty in capturing the first place emblem.

All-Interclass Team.

INDEPENDENT CAGE TOURNAMENT HELD IN RED LAKE FALLS

St. Hilaire Quint Is Eliminated in Final Round by Crookston

The aggressive St. Hilaire Independents bounced the local independents out of the invitational basketball tournament that was held at Red Lake Falls on Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, scoring a 33 to 31 win over the local quint in a first round game Sunday night.

The surprising St. Hilaire team continued on to defeat the Mentor club in the semi-finals on Monday night; but lost in the finals to a strong Crookston team. The tournament champion Crookston team was composed of former Crookston high school stars, and had such performers as Andy Carey, Don Wheelhouse, Milo Hafterson, and Bill Youngquist in the line up.

The Thief River Falls vs. St Hilaire game was a rough encounter with three of the players being forced from the contest on personal fouls. The locals, with Virg Evenstad and Blackie Stephens leading the scoring, gained an 8 to 2 first period lead, only to have the scrappy Saints come back in the second period with 8 points while holding the locals to a free throw and move into a 10 to 9 lead at the intermission.

The Saints pulled away to a "comfortable" lead in the third period, with Donny Johnson and Connie Swanson connecting for a pair of field goals each. In the fourth period, with Johnson and Hirst out of the St. Hilaire lineup, the locals nearly caught the Saints, the period ending with St. Hilaire holding a two point margin.

Virg Evenstad, with 12 points, and Blackie Stephens, with 10 points, led the local scorers. Connie Swanson and Don Johnson each had four field goals for the winners.

MacArthur FOR AMERICA

HE WANTS MACARTHUR . . . Gen. Douglas MacArthur has announced that he would accept presidential nomination if the people chose him. This is fine with Warren Wright (above), Chicago banker and leader of MacArthur-for-President movement in Illinois, who points to sign and says: "That's my man."

POLITICAL ROUNDUP

By Arthur Naftalin

In the months that remain now and the November general election, Minnesota political writers have their work cut out for them. The darkening world situation and the generally confused domestic picture combines to form a background of great urgency against which a number of Minnesota situations assume major national importance. When the history of 1948 politics in Minnesota is written, it is likely that the "Ten most important political stories of the year" will include the following:

1)—Former Governor Harold Stassen's drive for the Republican Presidential nomination. Whether he wins or loses, Stassen will play a top role in the national GOP convention, and beyond that in the upper councils of the party. There will be the continuing possibility that Stassen may become the convention's "compromise" choice in the breaking of a Taft-Dewey deadlock.

2) The Minnesota Senatorial contest is certain to command national headlines, especially if Senator Joseph H. Ball's opponent is Mayor Hubert H. Humphrey of Minneapolis. A Ball-Humphrey clash would inevitably present two conflicting views on an ideological level rivalling, in an historical sense, the famous Lincoln-Douglas debates.

3) The efforts of Henry Wallace Third Party followers to capture the Minnesota Democratic-Farmer-Labor Party will be observed closely throughout the nation. The factional fight that is now gathering steam will most likely overshadow all other events until the DFL precinct caucuses the evening of April 30.

4) What the Minnesota DFL delegation to the national Democratic convention does may hold considerable national significance. Assuming the delegation is not captured by the Third Party group, there is still no certainty that it will support President Truman's renomination. It could conceivably strike out on an independent course of its own.

5) The Presidential election itself will, of course, command more than the usual excitement. If Stassen is not the GOP nominee, Minnesota will be an uncertain state, and both major parties can be expected to concentrate much fire in this area. The Third Party movement, intent upon capturing at least one state, will unquestionably direct a major portion of its total energy into the state.

6) It is likely that 1948 will see the reemergence of a three-party situation. Failing to take the DFL machinery, the Wallace group is certain to launch its own ticket, and, should it capture the DFL, the regular DFL organization will be forced to establish a new party, at least acquire a new name for the Democratic Party in this state. A three-way fight in Minnesota would, of course, add much confusion to the picture.

7) Several of the Congressional districts will present contests of more than ordinary importance. An especially vigorous campaign against the reelection of Harold Knutson in the Sixth District is promised by his opponents. The DFL will concentrate their efforts in the Third, Fourth, Fifth, and Eighth districts, in addition to the Sixth, regarding their chances as best in these areas. Within the DFL, there is likely to be some lively skirmishing for the Third district nomination because that seat is regarded as the Party's best hope.

8) Running through all the various contests and campaigns will be continuing debate over President Truman's proposals for a strong American defense in the face of the world situation. Ordinarily state contests proceed without too much concern with international events. In 1948, however, what Minnesota politicians say about foreign affairs will be the No. 1 topic of political speculaton.

9) Contests for election to the state legislature will assume more than usual importance. With municipalities crying for more revenue, the voters will be urged to support candidates who will provide such assistance. A host of other urgent problems will also be aired in legislative electon debates.

10) The fight to adopt a new charter in the city of Minneapolis, while a purely local affair, assumes statewide importance in view of the supreme court decision ruling the proposal an amendment. It is likely to become a state issue, particularly if it is voted upon at the primary election on September 15.

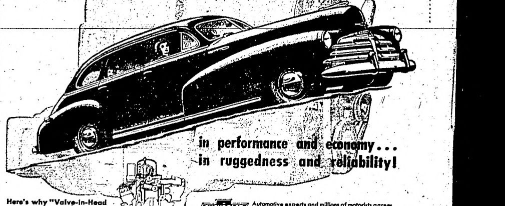
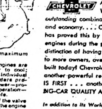
VALVE-IN-HEAD is far ahead!



in performance and economy... in ruggedness and reliability!



Here's why "Valve-in-Head Is Far Ahead" in all-round efficiency

1 In the world's champion Chevrolet engine, the valves are located in the head of the cylinder, directly over the pistons . . . hence the name, Valve-in-Head.

2 Valve-in-Head design provides faster intake of fuel mixture . . . and quicker and more complete exhaust of burned gases . . . all of which contributes to better performance and economy.

3 Valve-in-Head design also permits a more compact combustion chamber; and this, together with Chevrolet's "Blue Flame" combustion, means more driving power for the pistons—less heat loss—and maximum economy.

4 Valve-in-Head engines are inherently easier to cool; and Chevrolet's individual cooling of cylinders prevents waste of power—promotes efficient operation—prolongs engine life.

Moreover, with all of the valve mechanism on top of the engine—and therefore readily accessible—service, though seldom needed, is extraordinarily easy and economical.

CHEVROLET Automotive experts and millions of motorists agree: Valve-in-Head is far ahead because it gives an outstanding combination of performance, endurance, dependability and economy. . . . Chevrolet—master builder of this master motor—has proved this by producing more than 20 million Valve-in-Head engines during the past thirty-seven years—engines which hold the distinction of having delivered more billions of miles of satisfaction, to more owners, over a longer period, than any other power-plant built today! Chevrolet's World's Champion Valve-in-Head engine is another powerful reason why CHEVROLET AND ONLY CHEVROLET IS FIRST . . . another convincing proof that only Chevrolet gives BIG-CAR QUALITY AT LOWEST COST!

★ ★ ★

In addition to its World's Champion Valve-in-Head Engine, Chevrolet offers you these other major advantages of Big-Car Quality at Lowest Cost:

BIG-CAR STYLING AND BEAUTY OF BODY BY FISHER
BIG-CAR COMFORT OF THE UNITIZED KNEE-ACTION RIDE
BIG-CAR SAFETY OF FISHER UNISTEEL CONSTRUCTION AND POSITIVE-ACTION HYDRAULIC BRAKES

That's why, for the thousands of people all over the country who have known Pontiac in the past, the 1948 Pontiac is the big news of the year. For here is a fine car made a great deal finer!

There is new beauty—beauty that starts with the re-styled "Silver Streak," and extends from the strikingly handsome grille to the refined exteriors and luxurious interiors of the smart Fisher bodies.

There is new dependability—for the sturdy Pontiac chassis has been improved wherever possible.

And there is unbelievably fine performance—for not only have the great Pontiac engines been refined and improved—but Pontiac now offers, as optional* equipment, the sensational General Motors Hydra-Matic Drive.

Kaiser-Frazer Introduces Four New 1948 Models

- The 1948 KAISER
- The 1948 KAISER CUSTOM
- The 1948 FRAZER
- The 1948 FRAZER MANHATTAN

AT NO INCREASE IN PRICE!
While Other New Car Prices Are Advancing

HERE'S WHY Kaiser-Frazer can make this announcement while other new car prices spiral upward. Kaiser-Frazer controls its own supply of many basic raw materials . . . has its own engine plant, foundry and steel mill. Materials from these sources funnel into new and modern Willow Run—the largest automobile manufacturing plant in the world under one roof.

Unfinished steel goes in one end of this great plant and comes out a quality automobile, ready to be driven away. All this is accomplished in a matter of hours, and with the economy of Kaiser-Frazer straight-line production. This is an achievement of men who are injecting new methods and ideas into an old industry.

In the new 1948 Kaiser, Frazer, Kaiser Custom, and Frazer Manhattan you get all the features that others have attempted to copy since Kaiser-Frazer design was introduced in 1947.

So far no one has been able to more than approximate the graceful exterior body lines. No one has come near matching the roadability . . . the ride resulting from seats cradled between the front and rear wheels, such wide seats with both elbow and shoulder room. And none have the style features, the wide choice of colors and fabrics.

You get all this plus the many refinements made possible by years-ahead engineering and design. And, of course, all 1948 Kaiser or Frazer cars have the new Goodyear 24-pound pressure Super-Cushion tires that make bumps something you see but never feel.

Wherever you drive, wherever you go, 'round the corner, down the street, there is a Kaiser-Frazer dealer ready to serve you with genuine factory parts and approved service.

Enjoy a ride today in America's newest new cars—the 1948 cars that have not gone up in price!

YOUNGDAHL SEEKS MENTAL HOSPITAL IMPROVEMENTS

Says Inspection Reveals Shocking Shortage in Personnel and Equipment

Reporting he had found shocking deficiencies in the state's mental hospitals, Governor Luther W. Youngdahl disclosed this week that he is embarking upon a campaign, in co-operation with medical and welfare groups, to improve the services of the hospitals and extend to the mentally ill the increased opportunities for rehabilitation now made possible through new methods of treatment.

Lack of sufficient trained personnel and proper facilities not only make it impossible to provide adequate custodial care for the 10,000 patients in the hospitals, Governor Youngdahl said, but have prevented utilization of many of the new discoveries and advances in methods of treatment which could restore patients in many cases to useful roles in society.

"People need to get away from the all too prevalent idea that there is some stigma attached to mental illness," Youngdahl said, "that nothing can be done about it and that the unhappy victims are to be put away somewhere in an institution and forgotten. Mental illnesses often can be prevented and many who do require hospitalization can be rehabilitated through proper treatment and sent out to live normal, useful lives. The mentally ill in our hospitals are entitled to an opportunity to get well, where this is possible, no less than those who suffer from other ills."

Governor Youngdahl visited the mental hospitals, without advance notice, and inspected their work.

Most of the administrators and their staffs are doing the best possible job under the circumstances, he said, but are handicapped by a shocking deficiency in personnel and facilities. The hospitals are "deplorably overcrowded," he said.

"No hospital in the state has even 50% of the number of trained people it requires," he said. "No hospital has such needed specialists as dieticians or pathologists. Only one has a social worker. Our hospitals need 422 nurses We have 82 on duty. Two hospitals have only one nurse for every 350 patients. Minimum requirements call for 1,267 attendants. The hospitals now have only 676.

"Food service in the hospitals is wholly inadequate. Not one hospital I visited had adequate equipment to serve hot meals to all patients. Food allowances are not sufficient to furnish a good diet."

Funds available to the hospitals have not been sufficient to provide the facilities and personnel needed, overnor Youngdahl said, but he hopes to see this difficulty corrected, when the people get a fuller understanding of the needs and opportunities of the hospitals.

REMOVAL OF ROUGH FISH SETS RECORD

Over 12,000,000 Pounds Taken in State in 1947

An all-time record of more than 12,353,000 pounds of rough fish were removed from Minnesota waters by state crews, contract fishermen, permittees, and licensees, in the last statistical year ending in 1947, Frank D. Blair, director of game and fish said today.

This record not only tops the previous year's take by nearly 2,000,000 pounds but exceeds by about 4,500,000 pounds the combined rough fish removal operations of the two neighbor states, Wisconsin and Iowa. Highest percentage increase was under the permit system where the take was almost doubled, jumping from 631,000 pounds in 1946 to 1,228,000 pounds in 1947.

The number of rough fish removal permits to sportsmen's organizations and others has increased from 54 in 1945 when the system was started to 172 in 1947. The number of state crew employees has been increased from 68 in 1946 to 94 in 1947.

Blair stated that further expansion of state crew operations is planned for the coming season, concentrating on large traps, seining on problem lakes, and other special projects, and that the permit system will be actively promoted wherever feasible. Commenting on this report, Conservation Commissioner Chester S Wilson expressed appreciation for the support given by Governor Youngdahl to this program, commended Director Blair and his assistants for the progress made, praised the sportsmen's clubs and other permittees for their outstanding achievements, and urged them to work for still bigger records during the coming season.

MOST MINNESOTA TEACHERS FAVOR $2,400 MINIMUM

Minnesota Education Assn. Heads Announce Results of Recent Poll

More than half the teachers voting in a Minnesota Education association poll would resign their jobs to back a statewide minimum-salary schedule starting at 2,400, a tally of 6,367 teacher "ballots" showed today.

But the poll fell 12.7 per cent short of the 66 per cent needed to bind members to refuse contracts next year as a bargaining weapon.

Of those voting, 3,393, or 53.3 per cent, said they would tender their resignations if the salary minimums were not met; 2,974 failed to go along on threats of voluntary termination. MEA officials at state headquarters in St. Paul explained that many outstate teachers have "continuing contracts," automatically renewed by April 1. Others sign by the same deadline.

The $2,400 yearly minimum would be for beginning teachers with bachelor's degrees. Minimum scale would rise to $2,500 after two years experience, $2,700 after three, $3,000 after four years, and $3,200 to holders of master's degrees.

All suggested salaries are minimums, already exceeded in some communities. Aim is to bring low-pay communities up to par.

A. L. Almen, MEA president, said many of the teachers voting "no" on the resignation promise "commented they were in favor of the salary proposal but were not ready to pledge themselves to quitting."

Almen, as state senator from Balaton (Thirteenth district), was a chief architect of the increased state aid bill passed by the 1947 legislature to give school districts more state funds.

The MEA executive board recommends that teachers' contracts throughout the state be negotiated for the coming year "as far as possible in accordance with this minimum schedule which teachers so clearly support," Walter E. Englund, executive secretary, said today.

THERE WAS A BEAR IN THE HOLE

Wadena.—The Pioneer Journal awarded $10 for the best northwoods hunting story to the man who thought there might be a bear in the hole. While dragging a deer to their car one of three hunting pals stepped into a hole. One of them thought it would be a surprise if there were a bear in the hole. The more he thought about it the more curious he became until he tramped back and crawled into the hole. He came out with a rifle and fired point blank at two glaring eyes. After a lot of threshing around, they got a rope around the critter and dragged out a 303-pound black bear.

HALF NEW DRIVERS FAIL IN 1ST TEST UNDER EXAM LAW

Many, However, Correct Their Deficiencies and Succeed in Second Test

Minnesota's first two months experience under the new state law requiring driver tests for all new drivers license applicants has indicated that, but for the provisions of the new law, more than 50 per cent of the "beginner" motorists might have started out as hazardous drivers.

Figures compiled by the driver's license division of the state department of highways, and reported by Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffman to Governor Luther Youngdahl, show that out of 2,822 driving tests and examinations given under the new law during January and February, over half of the applicants failed on their first tests. However, after being sent back to correct their deficiencies and study the Minnesota driver's manual now available to all motorists, most of those who returned for their second examination passed successfully.

"This experience, although it covers only two month's operations under the new law, would seem to indicate that over half the people examined would have started out driving cars in traffic without really knowing how to drive. Moreover, they might have continued to drive without proper knowledge of either traffic regulations or safe driving practices, had it not been compulsory for them to pass these tests as required by the last legislature," E. P. Lee driver's license supervisor, explained. "Furthermore, and what is even more serious, many of them might have gone right on as potentially dangerous drivers, without realizing it, until they became involved in a serious accident or suffered the penalty for one or more traffic violations.

"This does not mean that hundreds of thousands of Minnesotans, who got their drivers' licenses under the old law, without having to take examinations, are bad drivers," he explained. "But it does indicate that many of them probably have had to learn the essentials of safe driving by long driving experience. In other words, they've had to learn the hard way a lot of the things that these beginner drivers now learn by more careful study of laws, signs and proper driving practices, before they ever start out as licensed drivers."

The driver tests are given on regularly scheduled days at 90 examination stations throughout the state. Among the January and February applicants, 1,889 successfully passed both their written and visual examinations and road test. Of the 1,933 who failed, 1,001 were disqualified in the actual road tests behind the wheel.

ROSEAU MAN GETS SUPPORT FOR DFL DISTRICT CHIEF

Curtiss Olson Named Chairman over Protest of Detroit Lakes Man

A backer of President Truman and leader in the fight against the Henry Wallace supporters was confirmed in his post as Ninth district Democratic-Farmer-Labor chairman Saturday by State Chairman Harold Barker.

State Representative Curtiss Olson of Roseau, is entitled to the post Barker held.

Halvor Langslet, Detroit Lakes challenged Olson's election by the district committee to fill the chairmanship vacancy, holding that A. M. Hastad, Halstad, the vice chairman, was entitled to the succession.

Barker said the same rule applied as when he held that Cyrus Barnum, a leading Wallace supporter, became Hennepin county DFL chairman under the same circumstances.

BPWC DISTRICT MEETING HERE SUNDAY, APR. 4

Delegates from Four Northwest Cities to Share in Convention

Delegations of Business and Professional women from Crookston, Bemidji, Detroit Lakes, and Alexandria will attend the spring district convention in Thief River Falls on Sunday.

Mayor Harry E. Simons will give greetings from the city. The delegates are also to hear their state president, Mrs. Hazel C. Daniels of St. Paul, who will speak on the value of budgets to club work. Mrs. Daniels is active not only in state Business and Professional Club leadership, but she is an outstanding figure in state social welfare work.

The district convention is to start over a sociable cup of coffee at ten-thirty Sunday morning in the Terrace Room of the Rex Cafe, where delegates will register at 11 o'clock. Local club president, Mrs. Irene Forsberg, will turn the meeting over to Mrs. Gladwin VanStrum of Bemidji, who as district chairman, will preside over the business meeting. Mrs. VanStrum is widely known for her civic activities in Bemidji, and is associated with the advertising department of the Bemidji Daily Pioneer.

On the agenda is the appointment of district officers. Club presidents from each delegation will give concise reports on activities in their cities.

The Crookston club is to present an emblem ceremony as one of the outstanding events of the all-day session. Louise Rasmussen of Crookston, state emblem chairman, is in charge of the ceremony.

Delegates will pause at twelve-thirty for a dinner at the Terrace Room at which Mrs. Irene Forsberg will preside.

POTATO ACREAGE GOALS BEING SET IN PENNINGTON CO.

Intention Cards Should Be Returned Soon, Says Chairman Carl Anderson

Initial steps in the establishment of individual potato acreage goals for 1948 got underway this week with the mailing of intention cards to potato growers throughout Pennington County.

In announcing the start of goals work, Carl R. Anderson, Pennington county ACA chairman, said that individual potato goals will be set for each farmer growing three or more acres of potatoes in the county. The goals will be set on the basis of potato acreage during the 1944-47 period, based on information in the county ACA office and data from reply cards filled out by farmers.

"The individual potato goals will be used in connection with the 1948 price support program, and it is important that farmers accurately fill out the cards and return them to the county ACA office within five days after receipt," Mr. Anderson emphasized.

Any farmer who intends to grow three or more acres of potatoes this year should fill out a card, Mr. Anderson said, pointing out that any farmer who intends to grow potatoes not in receipt of a potato goal application card, should notify the county ACA office as soon as possible but not later than April 5, 1948 at 2:00 p. m.

"Potato growers learned the value of the potato price support program during the past two years and their cooperation in returning completed cards to the county ACA office will be of great assistance in assuring a smooth-working potato price support program during 1948," Mr. Anderson concluded.

WATER SUPPLY DISCUSSED BY CITY COUNCIL

Tentative Plans Made to Ask Bids Again on New Filtration Plant

Following a discussion of the unsatisfactory condition of the water in the city mains this spring, the city council at an adjourned meeting Wednesday night instructed Douglas Stewart, city engineer, to prepare a call for bids for pipes and other critical materials needed in connection with the construction of the proposed new filtration plant.

Mr. Stewart indicated that if a start on acquiring materials were made now, it would probably be two years before the new plant is completed. Bonds were sold about three years ago to finance construction, but bids received at that time were all rejected on the ground that they were unreasonably high.

After considering two bids on the construction of the base in the power plant for the 2,800-horsepower Diesel unit to be delivered this summer, the council awarded the contract to the Minneapolis Bridge Construction company on its low bid of $27,950. The other bid, in the amount of $29,996, was submitted by the Johnson-Gillanders company of Grand Forks.

A delegation of east side residents, with Justus Larson as their spokesman, was present to object to the opening by Harold DeMars of a residence grocery at 403 Crocker av. N. A conditional permit to operate the business had recently been granted by the city council, but Mr. Larson expressed the opinion that the petition accompanying the DeMars application was defective.

The delegation contended that that the establishment would tend to commercialize the district and that it would create additional traffic hazards in the summer months. The council voted to refer the matter to Roy Langevin, building inspector, for investigation.

Mayor Harry E. Simons read a letter from Leslie Schroeder, state commissioner of aeronautics, stating that an additional allotment of $10,000 is available for improvements on the local airport, conditioned on the city matching the allotment with $5,000 of its own funds. The matter was referred to the airport committee for recommendations.

He can answer any and all questions, and if he can't he will duck so cleverly that you will feel that he did explain it fully.

If any of our people have accidents (I mean Auto) just bring your broken parts and gripes to Jack and he will get a doctor for you.

Auxiliary Notes

Ecklund Holmstrom 117 Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary is taking an active part in the campaign to raise funds for the establishment of the American Legion Memorial Heart Professorship at the University of Minnesota.

The aim of the American Legion is to raise $500,000 to be used as an endowment fund to maintain a research professorship at the University of Minnesota. He will devote full time to research on the cause, effects and treatment of rheumatic fever and heart disease. Funds for this project are being contributed by the posts and units of the American Legion and its Auxiliary throughout Minnesota. No public solicitation will be made. However, contributions will be gratefully received from any one who wishes to have a share in this Memorial.

THE PROSPECT IS BETTER

From where we sit it appears that good progress is being made in our cold war with Russia. Joe Stalin is running into opposition of a type that should and probably does cause him considerable concern. The fact that five nations of Europe have joined together in an economic and defense union puts him squarely up against a new problem. In this union he faces a definite challenge to his power and organized opposition to the subversive forces of communism. The organization of this union is a victory for our side.

It is significant that two of the countries that are a part of this union have now abandoned their traditional policy of isolation. The innocent victims of two wars of aggression, Holland and Belgium have now concluded that security lies only in strength.

This union probably would be capable of very little military resistance of the usual kind at the present time. The countries that are a part of this union however would have atom bombs at their disposal. Joe Stalin must know that he could move into these countries only at great peril to the cities of his own country.

Providing we continue our firm and realistic foreign policy, our guess is that there is a good chance to avert war. Our firmness is giving courage to many weaker nations.

Federal income taxes are going to be reduced and our representatives in Washington are going to come marching home to the campaign for re-election pointing with enthusiasm to this proof of their great love for the tax-burdened people. It may be good politics in a campaign year but there is a good chance that historians will refer to it as one of the biggest bungles of the period. For one thing it is quite possible that before we get through with the mess we are in we will have to pay higher instead of lower taxes. Under the circumstances it would be smarter to apply any surpluses that have accumulated to debt service—or to national preparedness.

One provision written into the new income tax law is very much to the good in that it will make for uniformity in the tax in all of the states. Strange as it may seem, the taxpayers of some states have been favored in the past by letting state laws determine whether or not husbands and wives could divide income for tax purposes. This privilege will now be extended to all husbands and wives, regardless of state laws.

Meeting Called for Friday Evening to Talk 1948 Baseball

Local baseball enthusiasts will hold an important meeting in the Civic and Commerce room in the Auditorium Friday night, April 2nd, at 8:00 p. m. The purpose of the meeting will be to discuss plans and complete an organization for the support of the city's baseball team.

At a league meeting held at Red Lake Falls last week, the local team registered as a member of the Northern Minnesota baseball league, and Friday night's gathering will be for the purpose of providing the team with the means of fulfilling their obligations to the league.

The Northern Minnesota baseball league will continue with the same roster of teams on its schedule that it had last season, namely, Crookston, St. Hilaire, Plummer, Red Lake Falls, Winger, Erskine, Oklee, and Thief River Falls. That was decided at a league meeting held at Red Lake Falls last week, and at which time the proposed entries of Eldred and Fertile was rejected.

League officers for the ensuing year, who were elected at the meeting, will be Ray Ste. Marie, Plummer, president; Howard Hofius, Red Lake Falls, vice-president; and Robert Crabb, Crookston, secretary-treasurer.

A schedule-making committee consisting of Warren Johnson, Crookston; Gus Mundinger, St. Hilaire; and Jesse DuChamp, Plummer, was appointed; and this committee will make its report at the league meeting called for Red Lake Falls on April 8th.

Attending the meeting at Red Lake Falls last week as representatives of their respective teams were Ole Ekeren, Thief River Falls; Ray Ste. Marie and Jesse DuChamp, Plummer; Vern Bergeron, Oklee; Lloyd Ness and Christ Leobakken, Erskine; John LuBonte, Howard Hofius, Bob Poirier, and Ed Kiefenheim, Red Lake Falls; Clarence Balkee, Winger; Miles Jackson and Gust Mundinger, St. Hilaire; and John Merell, Vern Peltier, Ken Dupuis, and Bob Crabb, Crookston.

When Henry Hansen of Arco was working ten hours a day at 13c an hour for an Iowa grocery concern he bought a mantle clock for $8—$1 down and a dollar a month for 7 months—as a wedding present for his new home. Mr. and Mrs. Hansen just celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary and the mantle clock still keeps perfect time.

W. DUCHAMP WINS BOWLING TOURNEY

Average 195½ Points Per Game for 6 Games

Wally DuChamp continued his reign as the city's champion singles bowler by winning the straightaway singles bowling tournament rolled over the Mint alleys on Thursday night. The many-time city champion rolled consistent scores of 202-186-193-185-205-202 for an aggregate of 1173 pins for the six games, an average of 195½ per game, to gain a 123 pin lead over brother Jesse DuChamp, who earned second place with a 1050 aggregate.

Emil Dostal, an uncle of Wally and Jesse DuChamp, bowling on alleys 3 and 4, opened with a 204 game, scored a 203 total in the second game to lead Wally by 19 pins. Rolling a 168 score in the third game, Dostal lost the lead to Wally Duchamp, who scored a 193, and moving over to alleys 1 and 2, Dostal had scores of 166-131-171 to finish with a score of 1043.

The high single game score of the tournament was posted by Jesse DuChamp, who marked up a 246 total in his sixth game. Other 200 scores recorded were Wally DuChamp, 202-205-202; Emil Dostal, 204-203; John Langseth, 212-202; Jim Stephenson, 212; George Hill, 224; Donny Johnson, 201; and Ambrose Wysoski, 200.

PROWLERS SCORE AN AVERAGE OF 38 POINTS PER GAME

Score 726 Points in 19 Games; Opponents Pile up 687 Points

The basketball Prowlers, in compiling a season's record of eleven wins and eight losses, scored 726 points for an average of 38 points per game. Defensively, the Prowlers held their opponents to a total of 687 points, or 36 points per game. The Prowlers highest scoring game of the year occurred in the opening round of the district tournament when the locals defeated Plummer, 58 to 17. And that 17-point total for Plummer was the locals best defensive effort, too.

Al Williamson won the Prowler individual scoring honors with 154 points, followed closely by Harley Wagner, who had 141 points for runner-up position. Marlow Davidson, team captain, and who won the scoring title last year with 137 points, tallied 120 points for fourth place. Palmer Ronholm, the husky guard, earned third place with 127 points. Davidson's 120 points, plus the 137 points he scored in his junior year, and the 29 points he marked up in his sophomore year, gave the popular red-head a total of 286 points scored during his high school career.

BABY SURVIVES RECORD FEVER

Farmington.—William Michael Pelach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Pelach, is believed to have set a world record at the tender age of eight months. While ill in University hospital the infant's temperature soared to 108.6 which all attendants believed would prove fatal, but he rallied, the fever went down, and the baby has been given a good chance for recovery.

Keeping Score

.... [illegible]

They'll Need Help.

Rumors had been circulating to the effect that the Crookston Pirates, the league champions, and Thief River Falls intended to withdraw from the Northern Minnesota baseball league; but at last week's league gathering at Red Lake Falls these rumors were proven baseless for both teams had representatives at the meeting and registered for another season of play.

It came as particularly good news that Thief River Falls intended to field a team again this year, for the locals are natural rivals for Red Lake Falls, Plummer, St. Hilaire, Oklee, and Crookston. Games against Thief River Falls usually draw fine crowds at those towns.

But the local boys will need plenty of assistance before they will be able to get a team ready for league competition. And to solve some of the problems an organization meeting has been called for tomorrow night at the Civic & Commerce room, and it is hoped that a number of baseball players and fans will be in attendance.

Plans have been formulated for the rebuilding of the Fair Grounds diamond, and Friday night's meeting may find those plans being given the "go ahead" signal. A business staff for the local club must be selected on Friday night, and, if possible, a manager for the club should be named.

Material Is Available

As far as ball players are concerned, the locals should have enough material available to put an average team on the field. Blackie Stephens, Stan Cockrell, Clarence Rasmussen, Berdeen Nornes, Owen Korsmo, Rog Tunberg, Bob and Merle Carlson from last year's team can be depended upon to be squad members. Bob Baker, Al Thompson, Johnny Powell, and Virg Evenstad, all recently just discharged from the service, are anxious to play ball. Babe Paulsen and Bob Nick, of the high school faculty, may be around for baseball too.

Harold Stroble, last season's spectacular pitcher, maintains that he will pitch for his "home town" of Warren this summer, and if he stubbornly insists on going through with that plan, the locals will be hard-pressed to find pitching strength. Stroble was one of the league's best hurlers last season, with his most outstanding performance being a three-hit, 0 to 0 game he pitched against St. Hilaire last July 4th.

Attention: Midget Players

Jimmy Welton, who will direct the midget and intermediate baseball program, announced that a "midget" baseball meeting will be held in the high school gymnasium on Friday afternoon at 4:30 P. M., and that all boys, between the ages of 10 and 14, who are interested in trying out for the teams, should be in attendance.

Getting Up Steam

Now is the time of the year that the city's softball team managers are all winning championships. Lineups are being revamped, players are being signed, and loud talk is being exchanged. Oen's, the city champions, are feeling especially confident, and not without reason for it is reported that several of the St. Hilaire boys have signified their intentions of playing with the champions this year.

Ardell Robinson, manager of the newly-organized Northern Chevrolet team, insists that he will hold Bobby Carlson to the "contract" that he "signed" to play with the Chevvy's. And the Poppler's are rumored to have signed Phil LeGault for an outfielder's position.

Karl Gerstner, city softball association president, stated that a meeting of the officials and team managers and players will be held in the Civic & Commerce room of the Auditorium on Monday night, April 12th.

In a Class by Himself

Wally DuChamp settled all doubts as to his claim to the title of the city's champion bowler on Thursday night by turning in a lop-sided win in the singles tournament held at the Mint alleys. Wally's six-game total pin score was 1173, or a 123 pins better than runner-up Jesse DuChamp's total. And an indication of Wally's efficient bowling can be judged by the fact that his high game was a 205, and his low game a 185.

Without question, Wally is in a class by himself.

Worthy of Support

The benefits and entertainment that the club provides for sportsmen throughout the year is easily worth the dollar or two that they ask for a membership.

ERRORS OF RIDERS CAUSE 70 PCT. OF BICYCLE MISHAPS

Cyclists Violate Law in 236 out of 333 Tangles with Autos

With the official arrival of spring, and the promise of balmy days bringing thousands of boys' and girls' bicycles out of winter hiding places, a timely state report this week pointed the way by which parents and children can eliminate 70 per cent of the accidents which each year have taken a tragic toll of Minnesota bike riders killed or injured in traffic.

The report is based on a year-long special study, by the state highway department's safety division, of the cause of all reported bicycle accidents in Minnesota in 1947 in which motor vehicles were involved. The study results, made public by Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffman, cover 333 bicycle accidents reported during the year, most of them involving boys and girls (248 were under 15 years of age). Of the 333 eight were fatal, 311 resulted in painful injuries, and only 14 riders got off unhurt but still with property damage of $50 or more to be paid for. But the most significant result of the study was its showing that:

In 236, or 71 per cent of the bike accidents, the bicycle rider was at fault by violating traffic regulations.

Of the 8 cyclists fatally injured, seven, or 87½ per cent, paid with their lives for disobeying traffic rules.

In all, 283 rider violations figured in the 333 bicycle accidents. Failure of the bicyclist to yield to a motor vehicle having the right-of-way caused 85 of the accidents and two of the fatalities.

POLITICAL ROUNDUP

By Arthur Naftalin

The events of the next two weeks will constitute the turning point in former Governor Harold Stassen's campaign for the Republican Presidential nomination. Next Tuesday the rank-and-file Wisconsin voter will express his preference for the nomination. This will be a battle between New York's Thomas E. Dewey, Stassen, and General Douglas MacArthur. Informal polls indicate Stassen's chances of leading the field are good.

One week later, on Tuesday, April 13, Stassen faces the second crucial test in the Nebraska primary. This will be a wide open scrap with all aspirants for the nomination entered. Here the contest is expected to be a three-way fight between Ohio's Senator Taft, Dewey and Stassen, although the way is open for some surprises. The Nebraska vote will be observed closely for an indication of the popular strength of the various candidates, including California's Governor Earl Warren and Michigan's Senator Arthur Vandenberg.

Stassen now reports that he expects to receive 230 votes on the first ballot at the national GOP convention. It takes 547 votes to nominate. Stassen's supporters are counting on a deadlock between Taft and Dewey which would be broken by a switch to Stassen. In such a lineup, the big question is Vandenberg. There is continued speculation that the convention may wind up selecting Vandenberg for President and Stassen for Vice President.

Will Mayor Hubert H. Humphrey of Minneapolis be a candidate for the United States Senate against incumbent Joseph H. Ball? Recent statements by Humphrey indicate that he has made up his mind to run, but that he is awaiting for the appropriate time to make the formal announcement. Humphrey has been caught between two events which have tended to complicate his strategy with respect to the '48 race. The first event was the Minneapolis city charter vote. In leading the fight for adoption of the new charter, Humphrey felt constrained to make no announcement his future plans that would tend to harm the charter's chances.

The second event is even more important. This is the state convention of the Democratic-Farmer-Labor Party which is set for June 12 in Brainerd and which will determine who will control the Party machinery. A faction headed by Governor Elmer A. Benson is organizing to take over the DFL and pledge the party to Henry Wallace's national Third Party. If that should happen, Humphrey would be in a most difficult spot, because—while he no doubt could win the DFL nomination — he would have vociferous opposition from the Benson faction and would have to campaign on a Party platform that unquestionably would be pro-Soviet.

If the "left wing" wins control of the DFL, Humphrey would have four choices: (1) He could simply withdraw from the Party and run as an independent; (2) he could accept the "left wing" dictates, agree to the platform the "left wing" writes and accept the candidates for other offices that it endorses; (3) stay within the Party, but head a "right wing" ticket in the DFL primary, or (4) withdraw from the race altogether. All of these choices are unhappy ones for Humphrey. That is why his supporters are feverishly organizing a statewide DFL volunteer committee to make sure the Party is controlled by the "right wing."

Another interesting aspect of the Senatorial race is the position of Dr. Theodore Jorgenson, the DFL candidate against Senator Thye in 1946. Jorgenson, refusing comment on Wallace's candidacy for the Presidency, announced that he would like to see Justice William O. Douglas become the Democratic candidate for President instead of Truman. This would indicate that Jorgenson is being abandoned by the Benson-Wallace faction as such deviation from the Third Party line is not tolerated, especially when Jorgenson makes it clear that he does not disagree with the United States' anti-Communist policy in Italy.

ON ARMY DAY, APRIL 6, there's something you can do for WORLD PEACE
Army Day is the day every American can set aside to salute the men in uniform. And this year, particularly, it is a day for every young man in the nation to consider the contribution he can make to World Peace.
Right now you have the finest 100% volunteer Army of any nation in the history of the world. But it is still below the strength authorized by Congress. Able men are needed for the Infantry, Artillery and Armored Cavalry.
You can make a contribution to World Peace by joining the National Guard or the Organized Reserve Corps. These splendid civilian components have been credited by top military leaders for much of the success in quick mobilization and actual winning of the last war. Today they are important factors in backing up the strength of the Regular Army.
Both Veterans and non-Veterans who meet requirements are eligible to enlist in the Organized Reserve Corps. Veterans retain the grade and rating earned in the Army.
In many high schools and most colleges, you can join the R.O.T.C. and get your military training and credit toward a Reserve commission along with your education.
Any one of these steps that you can take on Army Day will help toward making America strong. And it has never been truer than right now that A Strong America Is a Peaceful America.
Make a point, on April 6, of stopping in at your U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station and getting the information about the part you can play toward World Peace.
ON ARMY DAY
★ Display your American flag
★ Wear your Veteran's lapel button
★ Find out how you can make a contribution to World Peace in the Regular Army, the National Guard, the Organized Reserve Corps or R.O.T.C.
★ Ask for literature at your local recruiting station.

Erick Erickson Passes Away

Funeral services were held from the Evangelical Free Church, Newfolden on Wednesday afternoon, March 31 for Erick Erickson, who passed away at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Beck on Sunday morning, March 28 at the age of 71 years.

Mr. Erickson, who was a single man, is very well known throughout this community where for many years he has been a farmer, blacksmith and mechanic. Although he had been suffering for some time with a serious heart ailment, he had been active in doing light work about the Beck household, where he made his home. On Friday he became very ill and it was found that he had an internal hemorrhage. He grew steadily weaker until he passed away on Easter Sunday morning. Mr. Erickson was a brother of Mrs. Math Mathson, of this place. A complete obituary will be published next week.

TWO WAYS OF GETTING THERE

Boyd Wilke's farm was snowed in near Willmar when his young daughter developed a nasty toothache. He flew her to the dentist; also made three other flights to town for groceries and two on other business. Deep snow created a transportation problem up around Warren, too—too deep even for tractors. So John Novak hitched an ox to a sleigh and took the teacher and his own two children to District school No. 185.

Compulsory Education

The territorial legislature of South Dakota in 1883 provided for compulsory education.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By Senator Joseph H. Ball

Frequent complaints of union leaders is that strikes always are page one news, while the thousands of negotiations settled amicably are never mentioned. Somewhat the same thing is happening to the Taft-Hartley labor relations act and to the first report of the Joint Committee on Labor-Management Relations, filed by me as chairman on March 15. The Act is working too well to be hot news.

The report, approved by eight Republicans and two Democrats, finds that the law is working very well and is accomplishing nearly all of the objectives sought by its sponsors. Four Democrats who opposed the law from start to finish dissented from the report, but so far have not mustered any facts to support their contention.

The 200-page report consists chiefly of a review of all important cases that have arisen under the law. It is facts and more facts, and makes somewhat dry reading for anyone not directly interested in the field. But all the facts add up to show that none of the dire predictions made by opponents of the law have proven correct.

Since the report was filed, the packing house workers' strike and the coal strike have developed. But the emergency provisions in Title II of the law providing for fact-finding boards and an eighty-day no-strike period for settlement efforts are available and are being used.

One of the most encouraging facts in the report is the recent agreement between the AFL Building Trades and the Associated General Contractors for binding settlements of all jurisdictional disputes without work stoppages. The construction industry has been plagued by jurisdictional strikes for decades, but it took the provisions of the law to finally impel the parties involved to work out their own method of avoiding them.

The law likewise has proven very effective in preventing secondary boycotts, which threatened to reach racket proportions in some industries.

Man days lost because of strikes have declined every month since the Act was passed and average hourly wages in manufacturing industry have increased every month, which disposes rather effectively of the charges that the law would increase industrial strife and lead to wage cuts.

Actually, all the available evidence indicates that rank and file members, as a result of the ban on the close shop, their right to vote on a union shop, and many other provisions of the law strengthening the rights of individual employees, are exercising more influence in union affairs than they have in a decade.

The facts show that employers emphatically are not using the act to harass unions. In the first five months of operation, 1,306 charges of unfair labor practices were filed against employers, while only 355 charges were filed against unions, and of that total, only 200 were filed by employers and the remaining 155 by individual employees or other unions. Those figures demonstrate conclusively that the law is operating as intended, to protect the rights and freedoms of individual employees.

Only 26 suits for damages have been filed under title III of the law since its enactment, and employers filed only 21 of them. Unions filed three suits and individuals filed two.

The most serious problem, the report finds, is the expedition of cases, just as it was under the old Wagner Act. It will require too many months to process cases though the National Labor Relations Board, and the Joint Committee urges the Board to seek ways of speeding them up.

Drier Refrigerating Fluid

Studies with the infra-red spectrometer to produce a drier refrigerating fluid will end in an electrical refrigerator that will run without attention for 10 years, du Pont chemists predict. If only 10 parts per million of water get into the freon used in many refrigerators, trouble may be caused. By use of the infra-red spectrometic method the trouble can be corrected in five minutes.

Single Ring Ceremony Unites Abigail Thomas and LeRoy C. Nabben

Approximately 200 relatives and friends witnessed the single ring ceremony March 27 at the Trinity Lutheran church, which united Abigail M. Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Thomas of this city, and LeRoy C. Nabben, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Nabben also of this city, in marriage. Rev. G. S. Thompson performed the service before an altar banked with vases of gladioli and carnations. The church was also decorated with baskets of yellow and white gladioli, Chinese lilies, carnations and jonquils.

Preceding the ceremony Lohengrin's wedding march was played by Mrs. Mildred Hamilton. "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Perfect Love" were sung by Solvig Korsmo.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of slipper white satin with fitted bodice, skirt gathered into train. High neckline of marquisette edged with cutwork of satin to form round yoke in front and back. Her fingertip veil was held in place with a garland of rosebuds and carnations, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses.

Katherine Thomas, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and Catheleen Wallgren of Grand Forks, N. Dak., was maid of honor. Both wore gowns of blue embroidered organdy with net overskirts, high necklines and short puffed sleeves. They also wore matching bonnets with long streamers and elbow length lace gloves. The maid of honor carried a bouquet of yellow roses, and the bridesmaid carried a bouquet of carnations, daisies and jonquils. Sandra Nabben, flower girl, carried flowers similar to the bridesmaid's.

The groom was attended by his cousin, Manvel Green of St. Thomas, N. Dak., as best man. Burdell Merritt and Robert Hayes were ushers.
